WE WERE BORN IN THE NORTH, CAME SOUTH AT

EIGHT, when the slavery Question was at a white-heat; being that age when fixed and lasting impressions are made on youthfull minds our mother being a devout Methodist, we were at church regular at home, and also when going to McKendry's College near Clarksvill, Red River Co., Texas; and remember well the fiery sermons that were preached justify ng the enslavment perpetually; of the decendents of Ham because he laughfed at Noahs nakedness when Noah was drunk forgetting Gods Prophet had said, "The Ethiopean shall stretch forth his hands in freedom."

Then, as now, the purse holder controlled most pastors sermons.

Well do we remember Gov. Sam Houston's warning at Rusk, speaking against secession, against H. G Lane, then a young lawyer of old Homer. Houston warned that the South would be defeated; her son's buried from the Mexican border to the Atlantic coast, negroes free and given citizenship: upheld by norths bayonetts. Houston said, 'It will be far better and cheaper to stay in the Union, free, government pay for and colonize the negroes.

His prophecy came true, and had not the True Ku-Klux-Klan been organised and functioned by fearless vetrans of a lost caus:- Human Slavery:-as soon as it was, the South would probally now pe like the northern states. Were it not for the brutish brutes of the Caucausiain race, who'd stoop to any depth of shame for a Dollar!—WE would have no fear of the future amalgamation of the races in OUR beloved, adopted SOUTH-LAND

FOR NOT ONE SOUTH-

ERN WOMAN in 20 THOUSAND would willingly cohabit with an inferiior race-according to "Southern traditions and rais ng."—and o her women (like men now!) would willingly accept this southern rule.

To be continued in the future.

THE 9TH.EVE AS WE passed The Hotel Angelina enroute to the Post Office, we over-heard one-(Vermillion-) a book peddler & claiming to be a preacher, putting in force the bastard klux whisper ing campaign, about Al Smith's religion, tho he, and every well read person knows that Hoover and his advisors were forced (for political reasons only) to declare that they did not want votes thru religious predudice:-Vermillion, Nutt, Manness, Burgess and all others who've here-to-fore claimed to be democrats, kno that when they oppose a person for office because of their religion, then they nullify our great constitution, and are no better, if as good as boot-leggers, etc.

We told him plainly and ment it, "That considering it on honesty in politics, and respect for the father of democracy; who gloried in helping frame our great Constitution:-and the autther of religious freedom in Virginia:—Thos Jefferson—then we had rather, associate, morals and political honesty considered:-on a plane of political equality with negroe preferance to a so called Southern Democrat who'd vote for Hoover after in any wise partipating in a democratic primary." We can consistently meet on a equal moral and a social plane, tru-blue republicans.

New World's Champion Jersey

Sophie's Emily of Randleigh Farm, Lockport, N. Y., is the new world's champion Jersey cow in butter fat production. In eight consecutive 365-day tests she has produced a total of 127,487 pounds of milk from which 6,263.80 pounds of butter fat, or the equivalent of 7369 pounds of butter, has been produced. She is owned by William R. Kenan, Jr. Her record for eight tests has already exceeded that, for a similar period, of her grandmother, Sophie 19th of Hood Farm, champion butter producer of all time.

Liver Powder Appeals

Doctors may now prescribe a half-pound of liver a day and feel sure that the patient follows instructions. By a new process that has appeared in Europe a pound of beef and calf meat can be condensed into five tiny vials full of powder containing the vital curative elements without the actual tissue. Liver is valuable for restoring vitality to persons suffering from pernicious anaemia, but it has been difficult to get patients to eat enough of it regularly.

PYTHON RAISES CAIN IN HELL'S KITCHEN

Zaza's Pet Gets Loose and Stirs Things Up.

New York.—This much is certain—if Mrs. Peter Olsen, who is thirty-two, and a snake dancer in three-a-day vaudeville, takes that reptile back to her apartment, Mrs. Louis Munno, whose husband works nights, moves out. And who wouldn't?

This domestic impasse was arrived at logically, but amid considerable confusion and five stalwart cops, recently while a goodly assemblage from Hell's Kitchen, where lots of queer things happen, looked, listened and gasped.

Mrs. Olsen, whose dancing name is Alaida Zaza, had made a pet of an eight foot 35 pound brown and white python. Several days ago she went out and after she had returned late at night the python also went out—inexplicably. It may be that Bozo, Mrs. Olsen's pet monkey, loosened the door on the snake's cage—but be that as it is, nobody told Mrs. Munno, who lives on the same floor, about it.

Mrs. Munno Alarmed

Therefore, when a couple of jars crashed to the floor in Mrs. Munno's kitchen she naturally was alarmed. In another room, adjoining the kitchen, slept Joseph, her twelve-year-old son.

She cautiously opened the door for a peek, switching on the lights. She blinked once, for there, behind the stove, was a snake poking its head at her and hissing. One blink was enough. Gathering the loose folds of her dressing gown as best she could, Mrs. Munno dashed for the stairway and bounded down three and four steps at a time, emitting a scream per leap. And such screams! Patrolman Edward Welch says she was audible from Times square to the Hudson river.

Into the clammy morning and the arms of Welch dashed the vociferous Mrs. Munno.

"Oh, officer get your gun! There's a terrible snake or something in my apartment!"

Now, Officer Welch had heard those screams. And so he looked at Mrs. Munno with that pained expression with which any cop might be expected to look at any woman who, clad in a thin wrapper and a loud voice, comes dashing into the street at four o'clock in the morning talking excitedly about snakes.

Nevertheless, he went to investigate. As was to be expected the reptile resented this. Welch whacked at the snake with his night stick and the python defended himself as best he could. Welch ordered and executed a perfect one man retreat, while Mrs. Munno looked into the room of Joseph, by some miracle or other still asleep.

Patrolman Welch considered. This was a battle that already called for reinforcements. So he called the West 47th Street station.

"Say," he shouted. "There's a big snake down here. What'll I do?"

"Well," challenged Lieut. Edward Moran sleepily. "We ain't got no snake charmers up here."

"But I ain't got the D. T.'s," Welch insisted. "This here's a real live snake and it's about fifteen feet long. I gotta have some help."

Lieut. Moran dispatched Sergt. Joseph Stanton and four members of the emergency squad with pinch bars and a body sack to subdue the snake. They arrived, with a large contingent of neighbors attracted by the excitement, and set to work.

During the melee somebody stuck a yard stick down the snake's mouth. An eight foot python with 29 inches of stick rasping against its esophagus is nobody's plaything, as five of New York's finest soon found. They located one of the huge pinchers about its neck and another about its body. Now they had it, but what next?

Somebody brought the body sack, normally used to carry corpses. They laid it on the floor in front of the snake. Writhing mightily, the python's head was soon poked inside. Bit by bit they wormed in the rest, yardstick and all, and off went Mrs. Olsen's python to the police station.

There she claimed it, but her claim was held up until experts from the Bronx zoo could determine its relative harmlessness.

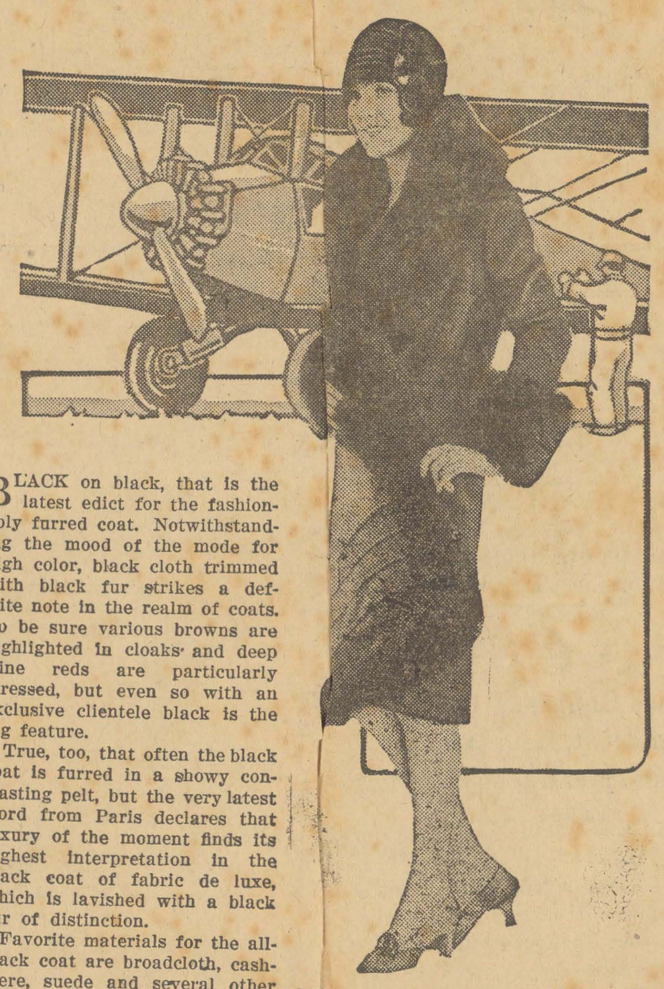

Shark Chases Fishermen for Two Days Off Havana

Havana.—Three excited fishermen drove a small motor boat into the harbor, rushed to the port captain and told him they had been chased for two days by a huge shark. A rifle squad of customs guards was sent out to give battle to the fish. The men said they were fishing for sharks when the big specimen reversed the precedure. They said the sea tiger had tried to overturn their craft and had nearly succeeded several times.

Dog Sorrows for Master He Accidentally Killed

Hillsboro, Ore.—A pet dog is sorrowing for his master here, but he does not realize that he was responsible for the man's death. All he knows is that William Ginder does not come home any more. Mr. Ginder and Mrs. Ginder were out shooting squirrels. The dog came sniffing around the rifle which the man had placed in some bushes, and it exploded, killing Mr. Ginder.

BLACK ON BLACK LATEST EDICT; FALL HATS ARE CLOSE FITTING

BLACK FURRED BLACK CLOTH COAT

BLACK on black, that is the latest edict for the fashionably furred coat. Notwithstanding the mood of the mode for high color, black cloth trimmed with black fur strikes a definite note in the realm of coats. To be sure various browns are highlighted in cloaks and deep wine reds are particularly stressed, but even so with an exclusive clientele black is the big feature.

True, too, that often the black coat is furred in a showy contrasting pelt, but the very latest word from Paris declares that luxury of the moment finds its highest interpretation in the black coat of fabric de luxe, which is lavished with a black fur of distinction.

Favorite materials for the all-black coat are broadcloth, cashmere, suede and several other new velvety woolens which are richly beautiful in appearance.

Furs which unite with these elegant cloakings to perfect the black-on black theme include wolf, fox, caracul, broadtail, Russian lamb and other high-class skins.

For the elegant model in the picture sumptuous wolf unstintingly lends its glossy blackness to the suede cloth it trims with flattering results. Furs of the character of the long-haired variety noted in this illustration meet smart competition of supple thin pelts of the broadtail, Persian lamb, caracul and like variety.

There is this advantage about the flat furs, they lend themselves so gracefully to intriguing and unusual treatments. Fashion's latest caprice is to manipulate thin furs in a fabric way. That is, the fur, if it is supple enough, is tied into soft bows, or it is formed into tailored bows, or made into swagger triangle kerchief collars, or perhaps a long throw-scarf. Insets and appliques are also among newest unique fur treatments.

Fur cuffs and the collar vie with hemlines in point of elaboration and novelty. Cuffs especially play their part in most fantastic ways. Clever, snug hats of these daintier furs add a note of extreme interest, and tiny matching muffs supply the final note of chic.

A trend to startling novelty is evidenced by the new hats. Bonnets, not figuratively speaking, but honest-to-goodness bonnets have come into fashion. Milliners are playing up the bonnet theme in every type from the simple poke-cloche to quaint little specimens which quite suggest the silacting to them so spontaneously. Perhaps it is because that for so long a time the fashionable world has been feeling the urge for "something different," and in the newer hats the hope is being more than realized.

Fashion this season is working upon the theory that the hat must cling close to the neck and about the face, and if it have a brim then the brim must in some novel way define the cheekline. Note the models in this group, while in the strictest sense perhaps they should not be classified as bonnets, yet they do fit the head in a hood-like manner, and they are therefore aptly illustrative of newest trend.

Note how, in the top model, the flange of little velvet petals, each of which is outlined with tiny gold beading, is brought down so as to define the cheekline. This interprets a very new silhouette. The handsome twinpin rhinestone ornament is just such as sparkles on a vast number of the season's velvet chapeaux.

The ornate band about the velvet cap to the left is worked in spangles and chenille embroidery. Everywhere one turns in the realm of autumn and winter millinery one sees spangles and similar glittering effects.

An interesting feature about the hat to the right is that it is made of two materials, velvet for the crown with satin for the flange. It is characteristic of new millinery that contrasting media be used in their fashioning. The embroidery is in chain stitch with beads interspersed.

Velvet millinery is much in evidence in colors matched to the velvet costume with which it is worn. A handsome fancy gold-cord banding enhances the final model in this group.

Of millinery in general it may be truly said that not for many seasons has the outlook been so promising for a vogue of flattering feminine hats, the kind that feature prettiness as well as "style."

CLOSE FITTING FALL HATS

houette of a baby bonnet. Indeed fashionable Paris is quite agog this very moment over the cunning ostrich-faced "baby bonnet" of satin which Suzanne Talbot recently created. When ostrich is not used then pretty pink petal effects line the quaint brim of these naive bonnets.

The surprising part about the new millinery modes, some of which are quite extreme, is that women are re-

NEW YORK NEEDS NO MAYORS, NOW HAS 12

Locality Bosses Take Their Jobs Seriously.

New York.—Mayor Walker's many visits to other cities have inspired the rather satiric suggestion that the city charter be rewritten to provide New York with two chief executives—one to travel and develop new friends for the city, the other to remain at home and tend to the municipal knitting.

In truth, New York is abundantly equipped with mayors. Even with Mr. Walker away, the town is still blessed with the guidance of a dozen mayors. None of these others, true enough, may fill the mayoral chair at city hall or stand on the steps with Grover Whalen to pass out golden keys. Each, however, is a potentate of no mean standing and influence in his own community.

Inquire on Grand street for the mayor and people will point out "Stitch" McCarthy. On Allen street they will point you to Max Dick's office, not the city hall, when asked how to get to the mayor's.

Winning the Position.

New York takes its "locality mayors" quite seriously, and they take their titular honors with earnestness. Years of effort are sometimes necessary before the post is achieved—years of philanthropy and good fellowship.

One of the most strangely intrenched is Max Dick. The title "Mayor of Allen street" was given by popular acclaim. Along Allen street they bow gratefully before Max Dick, and small wonder. Even when the war sent rents soaring, Dick continued in his tenements his long established schedule of five dollars a room. This alone was a big enough factor in his popularity. For years, moreover, he has given substantial sums to parents—$50 at the birth of each child and $150 if a ninth enters a family. Race suicide is unknown in his tenements.

Two years ago Louis Zeltner, a former alderman, conceived the idea of organizing the "Locality Mayors of New York, Imperial Metropolis of the World." Though the organization banquet of the mayors at the Astor was threatened with disruption when each presented himself as a candidate for the post of chief mayor, harmony finally prevailed, and Jake Spero, mayor of Washington Heights, was elected as chief mayor, with "Stitch" McCarthy as deputy. None at the banquet could formulate a set of functions for the two offices, but the incumbents desired no duties; the titles were enough.

"Stitch" McCarthy, born Sam Rothenberg, a bondsman by vocation, later confided that he feared at the meeting that his recent removal to a home on St. Nicholas avenue would be disclosed. He felt that his constituents would consider St. Nicholas avenue too close to Riverside drive for the mayor of Grand street.

Has Record Wardrobe.

No little annoyance came into Joe Levy's life when he moved to Riverside drive. As mayor of Second avenue and Duke of Essex street, this picturesque lawyer of the Essex Market court, resplendent in silk hat, cutaway coat, malacca cane, spats, and diamond stickpin, might be seen at an Easter parade on the East side. His magnificence of dress, together with his boast of a record wardrobe, his ownership of an expensive car, his removal to Riverside drive, and his acquisition of a valet, inspired other aspirants for his honors to urge his deposition or abdication. But a busy few days among his constituents quelled the rebellion. As a special concession he removed the stick pin and tossed aside his Palm beach suit.

A few years ago a rival sought Levy's title as mayor of Second avenue. Polls were opened in the kitchen of a Second avenue restaurant and Levy won, 67 to 64.

Avenue B recognizes Frank Dostal as its mayor. In the Bronx Max Reich is sponsor for the welfare of Wilkins avenue, Morris Eisenstein looks after Bryant avenue, and Charlie Lynch takes care of Grand Concourse. H. Stuart Morrison is hailed as mayor of the West Midwood section of Brooklyn. Nat Vlodinger lords it over Eldridge street, Ed Rosenstein over Broome street, Herbert Nathan over St. Nicholas avenue, Herman Zoller over Forsyth street, and Phil Kardonick over Delancey street.

This incomplete roster should still those who urge that New York needs two mayors. It already has a multitude of them.

Swedish Wild Moose Foe of Match Supply

Stockholm.—The Swedish wild moose is threatening the country's match industry by feeding too generously on the aspen trees from which matches are made. As a result the Vaestervik Match company, in the central province of Smaaland, is asking the government for permission to kill the moose, regardless of existing game laws. For some years the factory has tried to raise these trees, but the attempts have been frustrated by the "monarch of the Swedish forests."

Ring Lost Six Years

Harrison, Maine.—Rains and freshets of six years failed to disturb a ring lost on the bank of Crooked river. The girl who lost it in 1922 has recovered the ring at the spot where it disappeared.

What Will you do

When your Children Cry for It

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and that colic or constipation is relieved; or diarrhea checked. A vegetable product; a baby remedy meant for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; in emergencies, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that Baby becomes fretful, or restless. Castoria was never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every druggist has it.

Fletcher's CASTORIA

Hard and Gnarled

Bishop Bristol said at a dinner in Washington:

"Old age mellows some of us, while others it makes hard and gnarled.

"'Jethro,' an aged woman said to her aged husband, 'we've lived together nearly fifty years now. Heigho, it can't last forever. It won't be long before one of us will have to go.'

"'Don't worry, Hannah,' the old man soothed her. 'Don't worry,' my dear.'

"'No,' she said, 'but I was just thinkin', Jethro, that when it does happen I'd kinder like to live in Miami.'"

Everything Is

"Daddy, what is due?" asked Bobby.

"The rent, the note at the bank and the installment on my car," growled his dad.

The years teach much which the days never know.—Emerson.

Acidity

The common cause of digestive difficulties is excess acid. Soda cannot alter this condition, and it burns the stomach. Something that will neutralize the acidity is the sensible thing to take. That is why physicians tell the public to use Phillips Milk of Magnesia.

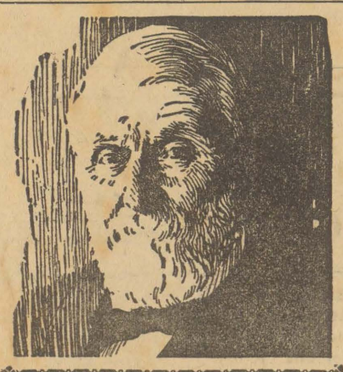

One spoonful of this delightful preparation can neutralize many times its volume in acid. It acts instantly; relief is quick, and very apparent. All gas is dispelled; all sourness is soon gone; the whole system is sweetened. Do try this perfect anti-acid, and remember it is just as good for children, too, and pleasant for them to take.

Any drug store has the genuine, prescriptional product.

OLD FOLKS SAY DR. CALDWELL WAS RIGHT

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice.

He treated constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a combination of senna and other mild herbs, with pepsin.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs?

A bottle will last several months, and all can use it. It is pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. Elderly people find it ideal. All drug stores have the generous bottles, or write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. BB, Monticello, Illinois, for free trial bottle.

Small Wonder Hubby Didn't Place Author

Willerton, whose life is given to the study of books, has a wife who never reads at all. She does, however, take down a volume from time to time in order to show some sympathetic interest in her husband's pursuits. This is what happened the other day.

"I took down a book this morning by an author named Voliv," she said. "Is he considered a good writer?"

"Voliv, my dear?" repeated the husband, in perplexity. "Voliv?"

While he was puzzling over the name, his wife thought of something else and went away to attend to it. Then he stole to her room to see what book she had on hand, and found a volume of Browning's poetry. It had been bound with no name on the back, and simply bore the legend "Vol. IV."—Kansas City Star.

And the Bass Got Away

Jack Boyer hooked a bass that was all of 18 inches long at Mondota, Calif. He brought it to the surface, the line strained and the pole bent with the thrill that only a fisherman can understand. Then the fish wiggled from the hook, the taut line swished and the barbed hook landed firmly in Boyer's nose.

CAN NOW DO ANY WORK

Thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Denison, Texas.—"I think there is no tonic equal to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nervousness and I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and the Pills for Constipation. I can certainly praise your medicines for what they have done for me and I wish you success in the future. I can do any kind of work now and when women ask me what has helped me I recommend your medicines. I will answer any letters I receive asking about them."—Mrs. Emma Gregg, Route 3, Box 53, Denison, Texas.

Just a Little Smile

WHAT HE GAVE FOR BAL!

On reaching the links one morning Smith was accosted by his usual caddie. "Excuse me, sir," said the lad, "but I've got the ball we lost yesterday at the second. One of the village kids had it."

"Oh, good," said Smith, putting his hand in his pocket. "I'll give you whatever you gave for it."

"Er—no thanks, sir," said the caddie, hastily. "I gave a black eye for it."

Why He Sighed

The thin, pale man in a large bathing suit, standing knee deep in the water, sighed.

"Why," we asked, "are you so sad?"

"Alas!" he answered, "the sea is the grave of my first wife."

"But you married again."

"Yes," he said, "and my second wife won't go into the water."

GIRLS DON'T BUY

She—Why do you object so strongly to girls smoking?

He—Because they'll never buy their wn smokes.

High Cost of Sarcasm

Beware of the sarcastic chaff.
It serves no end
If, every time you get a laugh,
You lose a friend.

Hard Flour

Captain (to mate)—The pudding you made was very hard—where did you get the flour?

Mate—From the bin behind the door.

Captain—Just what I thought—you have made the pudding from portland cement.—Stockholm Sondagsnisse Strix.

The Heavy Thud

The Young Mother—Oh, Jack, why have you put baby's cradle on the dressing table?

The Heavy Sleeper—So that I shall hear if he falls out.

Only a Sentence

Two convicts were talking.

"You know," said one, "it took John Bunyan all his life to write a story."

"Garn!" was the reply. "It took me ten years to do a sentence."

SHE'D BE MUMMY, SURE

"Wonder what the ancient Egyptian child called his mother?"

"Who knows? But if he were alive today he'd call her mummy don't you think?"

Non-Participant

Perhaps it is a trifle wrong
Sarcasms such as this to bring;
But when I hear a "campaign song,"
I'm thankful that I cannot sing.

Heavily Remunerated

Wife (at movie)—Why is it you never make love to me like that?

Hubby—Say, do you know what that actor gets for doing that?—Capper's Weekly.

Yes, but What?

Foreign Mission Subscriber—Have you had any success in your work with cannibals?

Lady Missionary — Yes; we've taught them to eat with knives and forks.

Deeply Considerate

Chivalrous Gentleman (to man who has just settled in the seat he has vacated)—Pardon me, sir, but I meant that seat for this lady here.

Big Man—It's quite all right; that's my wife!

Pa's Idea of It

"Pa," said Clarence, "what is the 'good will'?"

"It's the one left by a rich relative that makes you his sole heir," replied his dad.

Says He Had Taken a Wagon-Load of Physics

"In November, 1920, I wrote you for advice as to the use of Milks Emulsion. I had been bothered with my bowels for a long time. They would not move unless I took something all the time. If I neglected that, I would get bedfast, dizzy and take with fever.

"This is a malaria country, and I have taken a wagon-load of purgatives, salts, etc. This finally gave me stomach trouble in very bad form, and I commenced to lose weight, and had no appetite. My tongue became so coated that it cracked open.

"Since writing you, I have taken your Emulsion regularly and have found it a great remedy. It sure does all you claim for it and more, too. It is a fine medicine, and I will gladly recommend it to anyone.

"We are now handling it in our store and I am selling it right along and recommend it to all of my customers. I thank you for the instructions you gave and the results that I received from same."

Yours truly, W. A. CLUCK, Mgr., Globe Mercantile Co., Greenway, Ark.

The Count

Lemuel Bolles, former national commander of the American Legion, told a New York reporter a story of his return from Paris.

"A surgeon," he said, "was giving us some of his war reminiscences at a Paris banquet. He had cut off a soldier's arm, he said, and afterwards he certified that the man was unfit for any more fighting. Back came the question from headquarters—why was the man unfit? The surgeon replied that it was because he had only one arm. Back came the answer again:

"'How do you know he only has one arm?'

"The surgeon replied:

"'I counted it.'"

PALESTINE HIGH IN BIRTH FIGURES

Holy Land Now Leads Even Russia and Egypt.

Jerusalem, Palestine.—According to the latest census returns the holy land stands high on the list of the countries with a large child population.

In 1925 the Palestinian birth rate figure stood at 493 to every 10,000 inhabitants, while Egypt, known for its high birth rate and with a far lower percentage of European population, only registered 428 births for the same year and the same number of inhabitants, and even Russia with its populous families had a birth rate of but 409.

The Palestinian birth figure is almost three times that of Sweden, which only averages 175 births to every 10,000 of the population, and is more than two and a half times that of its mandatory, Great Britain, with its 183 births to every 10,000 of the population.

Moreover, the Palestinian birth rate is over double that of the United States, which stands at 226 per 10,000 of the country's population. But even compared with Italy and Japan, both countries with a high birth rate, the holy land retains its lead.

Nor is the high figure for 1925 merely accidental. The preceding year, as a matter of fact, showed a birth rate of 513 per 10,000 of the population, a figure that was even eclipsed in 1926, when it rose to 534. It was only in 1927 that there was a slight decline to 504 per 10,000.

Principally it is the Moslem section of the population that is responsible for this high birth rate which, in their case, reached the figure of 561 per 10,000 last year, with the Christian and Jewish sections following at a considerable interval with 389 and 351 births respectively to every 10,000.

Inspect Plane, Find Defect While in Air

Washington.—The story of an inspection of a defective airplane in flight by another plane has been reported to the War department from Rockwell field, California.

Lieut. A. C. Strickland, air corps, had taken off from Clover field, Santa Monica, Calif., for Rockwell field, at Coronado. As he took off, Clover field airmen noticed something apparently wrong wtih the landing gear of his plane.

Headquarters at Clover field immediately wired headquarters at Rockwell field about its misgivings, and another plane bearing a sign, "Do not land until O. K.'d by me" took the air to meet Strickland.

The landing gear of the plane was inspected from the air, and the inspecting plane landed and then flew up bearing a new sign reading "Left wheel several inches lower than right wheel." With this information to guide him, Lieutenant Strickland made a perfect landing in spite of the defect.

Suitor Borrows Ring; Jury Indicts Him

Boston.—Unable to keep up the payments on an engagement ring, it is alleged, Nathan Rosenthal of Roxbury "borrowed" the ring from his fiancee, Miss Diana Richmond of Maiden, and returned it to the seller.

The Middlesex county grand jury indicted Rosenthal for larceny of the ring from Miss Richmond.

Rosenthal and Miss Richmond, the authorities allege, became formally engaged and he gave her the ring, said to be worth more than $900. They planned to marry this fall.

It is alleged that on August 26 Rosenthal visited the home of his fiancee and asked for the ring in order that he might have a wedding ring made in the same design. Upon being given the ring, it is charged, he walked out of the house with it.

First Ironclads Were Built in Argentina

Barracas, Argentina.—Iron vessels were being built in a local shipyard even before the battle of the Merrimac and the Monitor on March 9, 1862, old documents here reveal. A Scotsman here started building river craft from iron several years before the outbreak of the Civil war in the United States, and when the famous battle at Hampton Roads was reported to the outside world this pioneer, Thomas Harkness, offered to build a monitor like that of Ericsson for the Argentine government.

His specialty at that time, however, was iron lighters for the transport of cattle. One of these, christened Salud Senora, was 66 feet long, 22 feet wide and 5 feet deep, with a carrying capacity of 180 head of live cattle.

Tatooed Will Is Held Not Valid

Paris.—The will of a sailor tattooed on his chest is not a legal document, in the opinion of the French court.

"I leave my all to Suzanne," a seaman had inscribed in pinks and purples on his bosom, and when he died Suzanne tried to collect. The court ruled that wills, to be valid, must be made in duplicate and a copy filed with the law courts.

The changing trend of the times and customs is reflected in the children and a casual question of the younger set brings it to notice. For instance, Marjorie, looking up from a book she was reading, asked, "Mother, what is a hatpin?"

HEART OF WEST GOES OUT TO SMITH

Farmers Throng Cities to Take Part in Enthusiastic Ovations.

HE PROMISES IMMEDIATE AND REAL FARM RELIEF

Attacks Bigotry and Intolerance—Challenges the Ku Klux Klan—Exposes Hoover Stand on Water Power—Assails Republican Corruption.

Starting at Omaha, where in a brilliant speech he made a masterly analysis of the farm question, Governor Smith's swing through the West on his first speaking trip of the campaign was one continued triumphal progress.

At Omaha he lined himself squarely side by side with the farmer, pledging himself to get the farmer a square deal. At Oklahoma City, two days later, with the applause and thanks of the farmers still rising on all sides, he turned with characteristic vigor and courage to the issue of religious tolerance.

At Denver he attacked the connections with the water power trust of the Republican party and the Republican candidate, and explained convincingly his own constructive program with regard to water power Republican corruption, so sensationally revealed in the oil scandal investigations, he assailed in his address at the Montana State Fair at Helena

Although comment on Governor Smith's farm speech at Omaha has particularly emphasized the warmth and friendship shown by the Democratic candidate for the farmers and his determination to give them the kind of help they want, sight has not been lost of the masterly grasp which he displayed of the farm problem.

Going directly to the heart of the farm question, he said "the trouble is that the farmer is buying in a highly protective market and he is selling in an unprotected one. Everything that is used in the operation of his farm except what he himself produces, is hid behind the tariff wall. It is supposed to function for him but does not."

The Surplus

"A great many of the crops of this country the farmer grows in excess of the needs of the domestic market. That is the 'nigger in the woodpile.' That is what you have got to pay your attention to, because as it stands today, the farmer is compelled to offer it in the domestic market first, and the surplus tends to pull down the price that he receives for the whole crop."

Referring to broken Republican campaign promises of 1924, Governor Smith continued, "What did they mean by 'equality between agriculture and industries'? They meant to give the farmer the benefit of the tariff; they know they have not done it. The President knows it. Candidate Hoover knows it."

Governor Smith then proceeded to show that Herbert Hoover, the Republican candidate, has absolutely ignored this vital and fundamental part of the farm problem. Mr Hoover is against the McNarey-Haugen bill, was largely responsible for President Coolidge's two vetoes of that measure and the only suggestion he has ever made for solving the surplus problem is to starve enough farmers into bankruptcy so that there will no longer be any surplus.

Pointing out the harsh cruelty of such a policy, which would mean that millions of farmers would lose their homes and be driven into the cities to find work, Governor Smith pledged himself to a constructive and humane method of saving the farmer from the unfair and ruinous operation of the tariff.

He said: "As I read the McNary Haugen bill, its fundamental purpose is to establish an effective control of the sale of exportable surplus, with the cost imposed upon the commodity benefited. For that principle the Democratic platform squarely stands and for that principle I squarely stand Mr. Hoover stands squarely opposed to this principle by which the farmer could get the benefit of the tariff.

"Here is a clean cut issue, which the farmers and voters of this country must decide. I pledge to the farmers and people of the country that no stone will be left unturned to give immediate and adequate farm relief by legislation, carrying into practice this principle for which my party and I stand."

Whispering Campaign

At Oklahoma City, pointing to his long record in New York public affairs and his four terms as Governor of the state, he denounced the secret and underhand campaign being waged by the Republicans to arouse opposition to him on the grounds of his religion.

"There is no greater mockery in the world today," said Governor Smith, "than the bu[illegible] of the cross, the emblem of Christ, and at the same time breathing hatred."

"I have the right to say that if there is any citizen in this country who believes that I can promote its welfare, that I am capable of steering the ship of state safely through the next four years, and then votes against me because of my religion he is not a real, pure, genuine American.

He showed that religious creeds ha made no difference to him in his appointments to office while Governor, Protestants having been named in the vast majority of cases and all creeds being represented.

Your Vote— And Your Radio

Your vote will not make you a king. But it will, if used intelligently, give you rights and privileges which you do not now enjoy.

Your vote, with the votes of your fellow citizens, can bring about conditions which will make your home a happier one. It can enable your children to get a better education, a better chance in life. You can use it, with other clear-sighted men and women, to shorten your working hours, to increase your income, to decrease the cost of living. You can make it bring you the full value of your crops.

As a voter, you are today in an advantageous position. By turning the dial on your radio set, you can bring into your own living room the voices—and the opinions and experience—of the Nation's most distinguished speakers, thinkers and legislators. You can hear them discuss the candidates and the campaign issues.

You will want to know why so many eminent business men, educators, social workers, philanthropists, labor leaders and farm experts are breaking party ties to help elect "the most constructive, fearless, honest and human candidate since Lincoln."

You will want to know—and he wants you to know—his record and his pledges on the issues which are of vital importance to you—such issues as farm relief, the tariff, labor legislation, educational reforms, the correction of laws which cannot be enforced.

A gigantic radio hook-up has been arranged to give you that information. From scores of radio stations, six times each week, will come informative talks which will acquaint you fully with the tremendous questions to be determined by this election.

These radio stations are listed below. The schedule will be followed until election day. CUT OUT THE LIST. KEEP IT NEAR YOUR RADIO. BE SURE TO LISTEN IN. Know what you are voting for.

Iowa Farmers Endorse Smith, Condemn Hoover, While G. O. P. Senator Protests

DES MOINES, Iowa.—Still another Middle Western farm organization, the Farmers' Union of Iowa, with 15,000 members, has come out for Governor Smith.

Unqualifiedly endorsing the Corn Belt Committee resolution endorsing the Democratic platform and candidate, despite an earnest plea for Hoover by Senator Brookhart, it adopted a resolution of its own which said:

"The nomination of Herbert Hoover pledged as he is to carrying out the Coolidge policy and with his record of injustice to Agriculture, should be resented at the polls by every farmer of the Middle West."

Gov. Smith Says---

I pledge to the farmers and to the people of this country that no stone will be left unturned to give immediate and adequate farm relief.

He (Hoover) wants to drive enough farmers out of business to pull down the surplus crops. The way he wants to relieve the farmer is to destroy him.

* * *

Mr. Hoover, as the chief adviser of the last two administrations, upon the subject of agriculture, assumed a direct responsibility for the hostility and inaction of the Administration, and continues to assume the responsibility by his fulsome indorsement of the record of Coolidge policies.

* * *

"Do you believe that liquor is the great issue of this campaign?" I certainly do not.

The absolute separation of state and church is part of the fundamental basis of our Constitution. I believe in that separation and in all that it implies.

I can think of no greater disaster to this country than to have the voters of it divided upon religious lines.

If there is any citizen of this country who believes that I can promote its welfare, that I am capable of steering the ship of state safely through the next four years, and then votes against me because of my religion, he is not a real, pure, genuine American.

The Farmer Finds A Real Champion

Governor Smith's speech on the farm question at Omaha, has set the western prairies on fire with enthusiasm for the Democratic candidate. That in Governor Smith the farmers have at last found a champion who is jumping into the fight for agricultural justice on their side is the keynote of all unbiased comment coming from the Western states.

Governor Smith went to Omaha, in the heart of America's great, farming empire, to tell the farmers that he is prepared immediately on election to take the leadership in getting the kind of agricultural legislation they have been vainly demanding from the Republicans for the past eight years. The response to this offer of friendship and action has been electric.

The people who till the soil and supply the nation with its food are now assured that if Governor Smith is elected they will see the standard of "Equality for Agriculture" hoisted to the flagstaff of the White House. They are expressing their enthusiasm in no uncertain terms.

Especially telling has been the contrast drawn between Governor Smith's pledges for the farmer and Herbert Hoover's policy of evasion. Hoover's hostility to Agriculture has been well known ever since his days as war-time Food Administrator. Now as Republican candidate he is trying desperately hard to cover up his bad past record, but his heart remains the same as before, and his only plan to solve the problem of the surplus crop is to starve the farmers out until there is no more surplus.

On such cruel and unjust policies, Governor Smith has turned his back. He offers the farmer prosperity and equality through the McNary-Haugen principles and the farmers are showing that they know him now as their best friend and chief hope.
