HAIL LUFKIN HIGH SCHOOL

Hail Lufkin High School!
Hats off to you.
Ever you'll find us,
Loyal and true.

Firm and undaunted,
Always we'll be.
Hail to the school we love;
Here's a toast to thee.

Sheron Smith and Jeanie Wayland, co-editors of the 1962 FANG.

Foreword

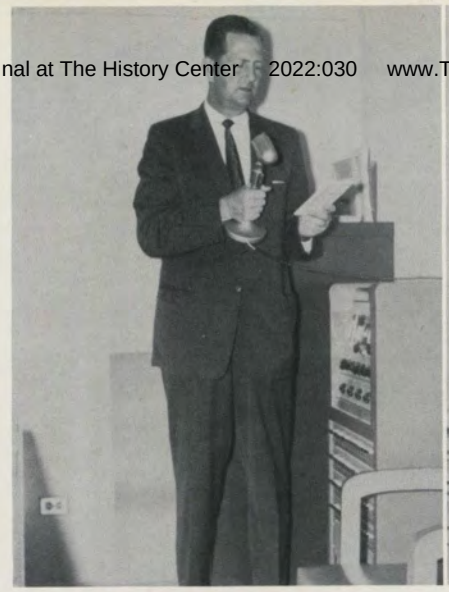

The 1962 FANG staff extends an invitation to the students and friends of Lufkin High School to review the past school year with all its hopes, disappointments, and triumphs.

We sincerely hope that in coming times as memories of L.H.S. grow dim and fade, this yearbook will renew thoughts of friends and events of this year each time it is removed from the shelf.

With that idea in mind, we now invite you to recapture with us L.H.S. in the year 1961-1962.

Having completed his first year as superintendent of the Lufkin system of public schools, DR. W. G. BARBER has earned a reputation of efficiency and friendliness among Lufkinites. Dr. Barber entered the system with an admirable record in school administration from Liberty, Texas, where he served for seven years as superintendent. His initial year in Lufkin was one of progress for our students.

School Officials Open Doors of Opportunity to

The School Board of the Lufkin Independent School District is composed of seven members whose primary duties are policy-making and policy-evaluating. The members are constantly faced with the task of providing buildings, equipment, and teaching facilities in order to give the youth of the system the best educational program possible. The students and citizens of Lufkin and the surrounding area are indebted to the members of the school board for the fine job they are doing in making our public school system a smooth, well-run organization dedicated to the highest principles of public education.

MR. HUGH BYRD, well-known to Lufkin teachers and students, was elevated this past year to the post of assistant superintendent. Mr. Byrd formerly served the system as principal of Lufkin Junior High. In his new position Mr. Byrd supervises the hiring of teachers and sees that they are placed on the proper faculty. A civic-minded citizen, he is presently serving as president of the local Noon Lions Club and as choir director for the First Christian Church.

to LHS Students

WOODROW SCOTT (President), LEE FRIESEN (Secretary), WARD BURKE (Vice-President), ELE BAGGETT.

W. H. KEENE is Director of Instruction for the public schools. He is in charge of supervising the teaching methods and techniques of the various faculties. One of his many time consuming duties is the directing of the audiovisual phases of education in the school system. In addition, he supervises the practice teachers assigned to the Lufkin schools.

Coming to the Lufkin school system from Junction, Texas, MR. E. E. WILLIFORD has just completed his first year as principal of Lufkin High School. During this year he has won the admiration and respect of the faculty and student body for his high caliber of leadership. In addition to his school duties, Mr. Williford actively participates in the civic life of the town as a Mason and a Kiwanian. His hobbies include golf, tennis, and aviation.

The Office Efficiently Handles All School Business

Vice-Principal W. E. CURRY performs a number of invaluable services to the school. In supervising daily records and attendance, Mr. Curry demonstrates a firm diplomacy. In addition to his duties as assistant to the principal, he serves as a Spanish teacher.

MRS. MACIE HAVARD, secretary to the principal, is greatly responsible for the smooth and efficient operation of the school office. Occupied with a multitude of duties, she dispenses them all with a cheerful word and smile.

English Fundamentals Learned by Practice

The English language has been the vehicle of the world's greatest civilization and of what is generally agreed to be the world's greatest literature. Its receptiveness to borrowed words from other tongues indicates an open mind that absorbs and puts to good use what it encounters. The growth and development of our language is stressed in the English department.

Seven Math Courses Taught Daily at LHS

Mathematics is one of the most useful and fascinating divisions of human knowledge. Mathematics includes many different subjects. Arithmetic deals with quantities expressed by symbols. Geometry involves quantities associated with figures in space, such as length and area. Trigonometry is concerned with the measurement of angles and with relationships of angles. Analytic geometry applies algebra to geometric studies. Calculus works with pairs of associated quantities. A graduate of Lufkin High School should leave with a good foundation in mathematics.

The Halls of Science Beckon the Ambitious Amateur

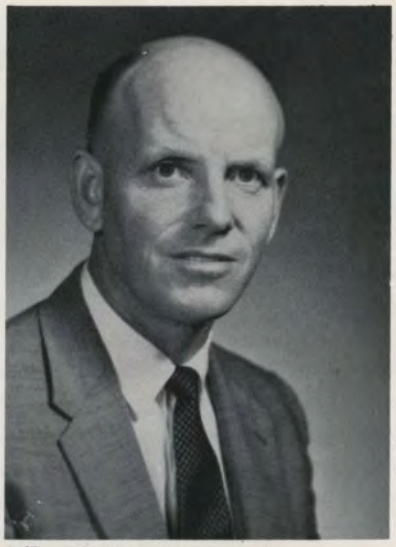

MR. RUSSELL BOURQUEIN
Chemistry; Tennis Coach

Science has made life easier and more pleasant for everyone through the changes brought about by scientific discoveries and their uses. Science education begins in a general way in elementary school. More advanced high school science courses help students learn how the scientific method works and how advanced industrial society uses science. Biology is the science of life -- why and how organisms act. Chemistry studies materials found on the earth to determine their atomic and molecular structure and the changes which occur in them. Physics is concerned with matter and energy. It is the study of mechanics, heat, light, sound, electricity, and magnetism. LHS gives its graduates an excellent background in science through these courses.

Maps, References Vital to Study of History

The study of history and civics plays one of the more important roles in school curriculum in today's world of unrest and constant crisis. Patriotism and love of country are perhaps the foundations of the greatness of our nation as it stands upon the threshold of a major era in the history of mankind. History points out the achievement and error of the past. Civics teaches the duties and responsibilities of citizenship, stressing the functions and structures of political and economic institutions. Through these courses with their lessons of the past, young Americans will be able to face with more assurance the events of the future.

High school activities center around organized games, especially basketball, football, volleyball, and baseball. Health and safety play an important role with a focus upon principles of hygiene, nutrition, and general physical welfare. Sportsmanship is also emphasized, along with desirable personality traits and character qualities.

Vocational Courses Uncover Natural Aptitudes

An agile hand, a quick eye, and an alert mind -- these qualities are necessary for a student taking vocational courses. Vocational education may be taken broadly to mean the preparations for a person's life work. Creativity and individualism are stressed. The student learns to transform ideas from paper to reality, or vice versa. The emphasis is on training the student to earn a living in commerce, domestic life, industry, or agriculture.

Many students gain knowledge and experience from elective courses that are individually selected by each student according to his tastes, talents, and ambitions. Especially designed to assist the student who is a prospective businessman or businesswoman are courses such as typing, bookkeeping, shorthand, and commercial law. Electives Add "Special Touch" to L.H.S.

The high school curriculum, although it stresses fundamental subjects, also includes a well-rounded cultural program which emphasizes music, speech, and art. Acknowledging that practice makes perfect, band and choir students in the music department spend long hours in rehearsal. The speech departments offers variety, entertainment, and basic experience in drama to its students. In addition to the study of art, students in the art department share their talents by creating decorative themes for school occasions such as the dances for Christmas, Valentine Day, and V-Day. Students of L. H. S. regard these departments with pride.

1961 Panthers

Copied from an original at The History Center 20220301 www.TheHistoryCenterOnline.com

Although the 1961 Panthers experienced rough going in the district race, four players were placed on offensive or defensive all-district teams by the sportswriters and coaches. The line, one of the lightest in State AAAA football, was weak in depth as well as in size. With the small line up front, the backfield had trouble moving the ball. Injuries to key players also hurt the team. However, experience received during the 1961 season should prove valuable to next year's team.

Panthers Fail to Retain Crown

The Panthers faced nothing but hard luck in the 1962 district race, losing five games by four points or less. Lack of experience was the main drawback, since all five starters from the previous year had graduated. However, the team made a creditable showing, leading every opponent for at least three-quarters of one game, and finishing the year with a 14-12 record.

Panthers Win Third Place in

The 1962 Panthers won third place in the State Finals for the second straight year. With only three returning starters from the previous year, the Panthers had been predicted to finish fourth in the district. However, home run power and an improved pitching staff led them to a three-way tie for the district crown and a playoff victory. This marked the seventh consecutive district championship for the Pack. The "Wonder Boys," as they were called by state baseball observers, then proceeded to match the championship pace of the year before and retain third place in the State Finals.

Joyous Panthers carry winning pitcher Joe Lowe from the mound after the extra-inning 9-8 district playoff victory over John Tyler.

The L Club is composed of lettermen from the three major sports, football, basketball, and baseball, and distinguishes itself as an honorary organization for athletes. While the organization is not an active club, its members participate in a variety of other activities, and many of them maintain good scholastic averages. This group includes every type of all-American boy, from the agricultural expert to the mathematician. They are to be commended for their many long hours of practice and faithful support to Lufkin High School.

Academy Awards Banquet Climaxes Thespian Year

The Dramatics Club and the Dramatics Class gave the one-act play "Three on a Bench" for assembly.

The "Quick Curtains," a series of one-act plays presented annually by the Dramatics Class and the Dramatics Club, traditionally provides an evening of entertainment for play-goers. This year's presentation included two comedies, "Antic Spring" and "Bull in a China Shop," and a drama, "Sorry, Wrong Number."

"The Christmas Apple," which was the Christmas play was produced by the sophomore members of the club.

Edna Allen received the award for "Three on a Bench," and Louis Perry and Ricky Elliott were recognized for their performances in "The Christmas Apple."

"Sorry, Wrong Number" was acclaimed the Best Play of the "Quick Curtains."

Recipients of awards for "Quick Curtains" were David Dial, David DeLoach, Barbara Walters (Most Outstanding Performance), Kathie James, Charley Thompson, Clarice Alexander, and Jeanie Wayland.

The F.T.A. club of Lufkin High School is an organization that prepares the members for a future career by cultivating the qualities of a good teacher and fostering the development of student leadership. The activities included bake sales, and the sale of gummed name labels and stationery.

The highlight of the year was the observance of classes by the senior members. They attended various elementary schools and participated in classroom instruction.

Besides teaching algebra, solid geometry, and trigonometry, Mrs. Neva Partridge sponsored the Lufkin High F.T.A. chapter. Her example was encouragement to high school students considering the teaching profession.

Each year the F.T.A. gives a tea for the faculty of L.H.S. to express appreciation for their co-operation and hard work. Sandy Shaw, Sharon Metcalf, Nancy Stansel, and Carole Estes prepare the table and decorations.

This year the state convention was held in Austin and was attended by delegates from each club. They participated in workshops, meetings and parties. The L.H.S. delegates were chosen to go on a point system basis according to contributions to the club. They were Deidre Cook, Mickey McWilliams, and Karen Lawrence.

The 1961-62 officers for the Greenhand Chapter are Tom Peavy, President; Robert Wood, Vice-President; Robert Poland, Secretary; Tom Berry, Reporter; Paul Abney, Sentinel; and Cruze Harrison, Treasurer.

F.F.A. Chapters Train Students for Agricultural Careers

Learning to do, doing to learn, earning to live, and living to serve. This motto sets standards for the members of the Future Farmers of America. The F.F.A. members participate in a program designed to develop skills in many areas. Public speaking, buying and selling, farm financing, and civic responsibilities are only a few of these skills. More satisfying farm home life and regular classroom work in vocational agriculture go hand in hand.

Mr. Herman Bate, sponsor of the Future Farmers, directed the many activities of the organization.

Lufkin High School's Industrial Cooperative Training program enables students to acquire occupational experience and guidance while in school by allowing students to attend classes in the morning and work during afternoons. The basic objective of ICT is to prepare high school youth for useful employment in occupations of their choice. Training is made possible by cooperation between local schools and business and industrial establishments.

ICT officers are Odis Owens, Sergeant-at-Arms; Delwin Burgess, Vice-President; Thomas Bittick, President; Sandra Crain, Secretary; Jo Ann Lumpkin, Treasurer; and Mr. Henry Chitsey, Sponsor.

Sarah Vines was chosen by the ICT club as sweetheart.

News on Campus

Reported Bi-Monthly by GROWLS Staff

The bi-monthly publication of the PANTHER GROWLS enlightened the students as to the news and views of Lufkin High School. The issues contained opinion polls, sports and fashion news, and the latest developments around the campus.

Florene Dean and Lynne Davenport, first semester editors, check with Judy McNeil and Jeanie Freeman, second semester editors, on a probable layout.

A definite asset to the L.H.S. journalism department, Mrs. Helen Herrington directed the publication of the PANTHER GROWLS. Her easygoing but firm manner and quiet voice guided the staff through trying times and deadlines.

Regardless of the assignment, the staff photographers were always present to record the event on film. Natalie Kendall and Tommy Dodson check their camera for a last minute shot.

Attending various sports events and reporting the results were the main job of the sports editors which included Lee Mathews, Sid Medford, and Charley Thompson.

Business Managers, Sandy Webster and Nancy Stansel, leave with Carole Estes and Linda Fesler to sell papers off campus.

The paper was sold bi-monthly and there was the usual rush to read the latest news. Here Trudy Smith and Sheron Smith purchase an issue from Lee Mathews.

The stage band, under the direction of Mr. Turner, is the newest addition to the L.H.S. Band. This group entertained the student body at various school functions. The members are Delrice Walker, Mike Massey, Carolyn Nerren, Harry Walker, George Scogin, Mike Young, David DeLoach, Darin Simpson, Milton Hall, Fred Jacobs, Charles Dorsett, Lesley Brooks, Ronnie Chitsey, Ronald Smith, and Thomas Haygood.

The L.H.S. Band, one of the most widely known in the East Texas area, has added in many ways to the unity and spirit of Lufkin High School. As a repeated winner of the Sweepstakes Award, which includes a first in marching, sight reading, and concert, the band has received much tribute from fellow students and the community.

V-Day Means Variety

The unusual helps to break monotonous daily routine as students and teachers at Lufkin High School discovered during the traditional V-Day in December. Positions were switched in the schedule as students played the role of teachers, and teachers dressed and participated as students. Class distinction was made by seniors wearing white; juniors, red; and sophomores, blue. After lunch students were entertained by an assembly which featured a "girls' choir" consisting of the women teachers and led by Mrs. Lois Walker. Several other teachers also displayed unknown talents. A dance held in the cafeteria climaxed the activities.

Lunch was eaten on the lawn in picnic fashion. Students provided their own lunches, and cold drinks were sold by the Key Club. After an hour spent in leisure, students assembled in the auditorium.

Among the "new students" at school on V-Day were Mrs. Millicent Irish, Mr. Geore Jackson, Mrs. Ernestine Moody, and Mrs. Julia Burris.

Oriental Garden Is Theme of Junior-Senior Prom

Delicate flowers sprayed against the background of a gigantic fan established the oriental theme of the 1962 Prom honoring the graduating seniors. Gay wind chimes added to the Far Eastern atmosphere. Senior colors of turquoise and blue predominated. The Combo Aires provided dance music for the occasion.

A turquoise fan and a black jinrikisha make an attractive setting for Buddy Cantrell, Juel Ann Bradford, Mike Seago, Mary Helen Windham, Carole Estes, Russell Simpson, Ricky Elliott, and Dianne Tetzlaff.

The promenade, traditionally led by the presidents and vice-presidents of the junior and senior classes, is the highlight of the evening. Mike Gipson, Tommy Petty, Jerry Moore, and Carol Camp enjoy the festivities.

Baptist Banquet Challenges Seniors to Aspire the Zenith in the Modern Space Age

Exciting events in space provided a timely "Flight to the Moon" theme for the 1962 Baptist Banquet. Four Baylor students known as the "Roommates" gave a variety performance ranging from Tennyson's "The Highwayman" to parodies of popular songs. Appearing on the program were Carroll Cantrell, Gwin Morris, Mrs. W. D. Thames, Mrs. B. O. Watts, Paul W. Green, Randy Lofgren, and Ronnie Dempsey.

Candles, stars, and rockets centered each table lending to the astrological atmosphere of the banquet.

Seniors Enthusiastically Prepare for Graduation

Under the direction of Mrs. Millicent Irish and Mr. William Schmidt, 191 graduating seniors prepare to participate in the baccalaureate and commencement exercises on May 27, 1962.

Edna Allen, Jane Allen, Clarice Alexander, Billy Allen, and Kathryn Applewhite eagerly await their turns to march down the aisle.

Seniors enjoy last-minute conversation while waiting to enter the auditorium.

1962 FANG Provides Theme for Senior Assembly

Participants in a stage slumber party recall high school memories to "kick off" the Senior Assembly.

"Bubble Bubble" wail typical witches, Judy Piazza, Jeanie Wayland, Fredna Null, and Patty Fleming.

David Dial acted as Master of Ceremonies.

The 1962 class song, "Climb Every Mountain," was presented as a climax to the assembly program. It was sung by Sandra McNeese, Jane Allen, Arlie Sue Lawrence, Clarice Alexander, Karen Lawrence, and Michele McWilliams.

The FANG of 1962 provided a theme of reminiscence for graduating seniors on the annual Senior Assembly. "Macbeth," Old English, and rock 'n roll were combined in the presentation of the memorable event.

Dr. W. G. Barber, superintendent of the Lufkin Public Schools, accepted the graduating class.

Commencement Exercises Achievement, Success Completes High School Career

"Climb Every Mountain," selected by the seniors as their class song, was sung by Sandra McNeese, Jane Allen, Arlie Sue Lawrence, Clarice Alexander, Karen Lawrence, and Michele McWilliams.

Dewey Stoker of San Antonio was, at forty-five years old, the senior graduate of the Class of 1962. Mr. Stoker, who completed scholastic requirements at night school, received his diploma after leaving high school twenty-nine years ago.

Those Who Have Paved the Way Before Us"

In December the sophomore class found itself confronted with one of the biggest financial ventures ever undertaken in LHS: the sale of over three thousand pecan candy bars. Undaunted, the class demonstrated that perseverance and hard work can make any goal possible. The result of the three-week sales campaign was to make the Class of 1964 one of the wealthiest in school history. Pictured are Miss Cook, sponsor, and Terry Jo Currie, president, receiving money from three energetic salesmen, Linda Burton, Richard Parrish, and Jennifer Bradbury.
