Lights! Camera! Action!

The camera focuses in on the campus of Diboll High School . . . the setting for the 1983-84 school year. We are the cast of characters, filling each frame of the film with drama and excitement as we live our unrehearsed roles.

Directed by our teachers and coaches, some of us achieve academic excellence in the classroom or show flashes of greatness in athletic competition . . . but there are no real stars. Each one of us has a part that is equally important and a script that is uniquely our own.

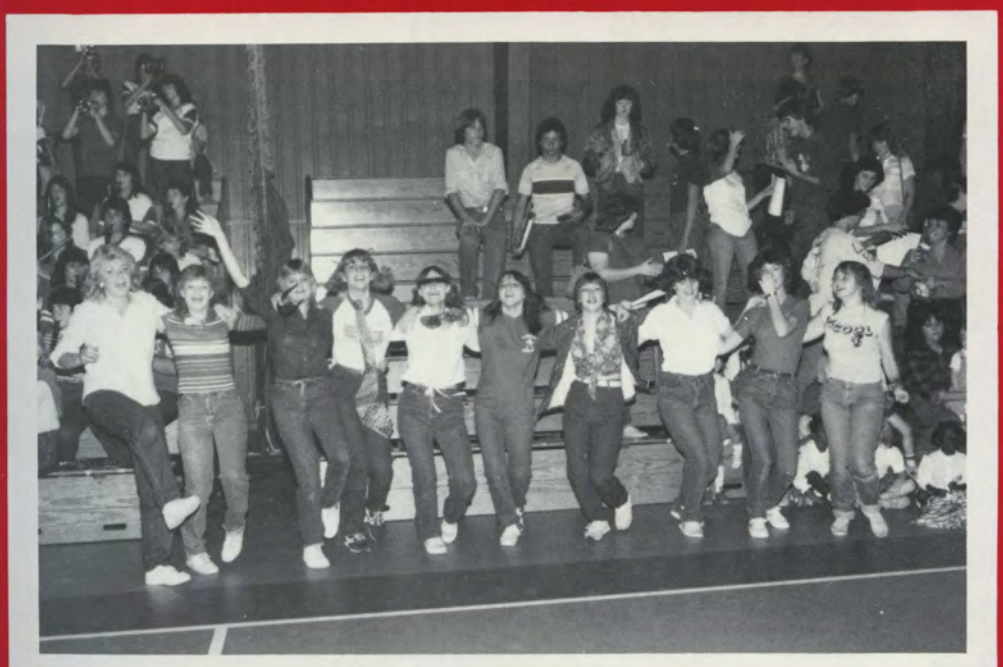

TOP—After breaking a four game losing streak by beating Woodville 7-0, the Diboll Lumberjacks show that their spirit is still alive. ABOVE—Jesse Garcia and Johnny Perry give a pep talk to boost that winning spirit. RIGHT—The pep rally is officially over, but Tamisha Carnley, Carla Havard, Denise Capps, Delisa Kilgore, and Cindy Ellison try to make it last just a few minutes more by dancing to the fight song.

Outside the classroom extra-curricular activities such as Spirit Week, the United Fund Drive, and ballgames keep us all actively involved and moving at a rapid pace.

The Lumberjack Band provides the musical soundtrack for our activities. The Student Council, Anchor Club, Honor Society, and other organizations create the special effects that make our everyday lives more interesting.

SPECIAL ACHIEVEMENTS

Deborah Register is the 1984 DAR Award recipient selected by the faculty on the basis of outstanding citizenship.

DAR Award Recipient

Steve Hodsden, Diboll High School senior, has been awarded a National Merit Scholarship for $500 to the college of his choice. Over one million students from some 18,000 high schools entered the competition last fall by taking the PSAT/MNQT. Those who qualified as semifinalists include the highest scorers in every state and represent the top half of one percent of this year's senior class.

To become finalists, semifinalists must meet additional standards which include documenting high academic performance throughout high school, receiving the recommendation of their principals, confirming earlier qualifying test scores by taking a second examination, and providing considerable information about interests, accomplishments, and goals.

Cardinal (Cardinalis cardinalis) Painting by East Texas artist Connie Foreman

East Texans know him as "redbird."

The bright-red Cardinal is one of East Texas' most familiar and best-loved bird friends, a familiar sight at backyard bird feeders year-round.

Named after the red robes worn by Roman Catholic priests of the same name, the Cardinal is found in gardens, streamside thickets, mesquite patches and mixed woodland margins from the Colorado River Valley of California, through the eastern United States, extending northeastward into southern Canada.

Perhaps his brilliant red color—the badge of courage and boldness—makes the male Cardinal aggressive. No one knows for sure. Anyone who has ever witnessed a Cardinal fighting with other birds over territorial rights, or sparring with his own reflection in a window glass, will testify that the bird gets hostile when he feels threatened.

Both sexes are accomplished songsters whose slurred whistle and melodious "cheer, cheer, cheer" can be heard all year. They frequent feeder boxes, especially during the winter months, adding a touch of color to even the dreariest of days.

We're committed to preserving the natural habitat of the Cardinal through sound forest management, so future generations of East Texans can enjoy the "redbird" for years to come.
