WESLEY ASHWORTH and MR. and MRS. JOE HENDRICKS lunching at Provost's Dairy Crown Sunday.

For the past several weeks we have carried as a page one lead story the results of recent basketball games.

This is not because we do not have other stories which would be interesting, but because we feel that articles dealing with students of our fine high school are of interest to so many of our readers.

We hope you feel the same and we are anxious to see the boys go as far as possible in the playoffs.

All our boys are good this year. Kenneth Burnett is the only senior on the team. So those of you who have seen the last two games have been getting a preview of next year's team.

Kenneth has done a fine job and it is a wonder that his knee hasn't given him trouble before now.

Missing the playoffs has certainly broken the big boy's heart —He's certainly one of the best athletes Diboll has had the pleasure of seeing in a long time.

BY AMOS LEWIS

The Diboll Lumberjacks ended their regular season of play last Friday night by defeating the Trinity Tigers, 55-36.

By winning this game the locals have another crack at the Woodville team for a district playoff.

Jim Bobbitt, a junior who will be back to spark the locals next year, was credited with 20 pts., followed by Don Capps with 12,. For Trinity it was Stevenson with 12, followed by Sanders on 10.

TAKE HUDSON, 44-43

The Lumberjacks pulled a tight one out of the bag as they defeated the Hudson Hornets last Tuesday night at Hudson. Always a tough team at home, the Hornets forced the game to overtime, anly to lose by a free throw.

Jim Bobbitt and Harold Burchfield had 12 each for Diboll, while Joe Trevathan and Bobby Jumper paced the losers at 14 each.

TO PLAYWEDNESDAY

The Jacks met the powerful Woodville Eagles Wednesday at Livingston in their last chance to go into the district playoffs.

If, and again we are sorry this score could not be reported at this time, the locals beat Woodville Wednesday, the two teams immediately went into a three game playoff series for a district title. The game Wednesday was to determine the winner of the second round of the contest.

BURNETT HURT

The hard-luck Jacks actually had little chance of taking the Woodville team Wednesday. The top scorer and giant center, Ken Burnett injured his left knee in the Hudson tilt last Tuesday.

His absence the remainder of the Hudson game almost proved costly, although the Lumberjacks had little trouble getting by Trinity without him.

OBSERVERS

Some observers figured that Diboll had a good chance against Woodville without Burnett, judging from the Trinity game. That is not true, since Woodville has more rebound power.

It might be added that, since Hudson forfeited their last play to Trinity, Trinity would have gone into the playoffs with the Woodville team had they beaten Diboll Friday.

If the Diboll team won last night, Diboll fans will see the Lumberjacks in action against Woodville. One game would be played here, one at Woodville, and one on a neutral field, if the third game were needed.

Don Capps returned to the Diboll line-up Tuesday after his missing four games due to an injury to his eye.

ENDS SATURDAY

Diboll and Woodville have until midnight Saturday to decide the winner of District 19-A. It may be all over by now, Woodville carrying he definite odds advantage into last night's play.

Mr. Johnson, has stated that he is endeavoring to relieve the farm crisis.

Government Needs Large Reserve Corps

The Army's all-important mission is to uphold the interests of the United States, in a shooting war, in cold war, or in peace During times of peace its major mission is to deter aggression. To successfully deter aggression, its ability to fight and win must be so convincing that any potential enemy knows in advance that aggression on his part will not pay.

This ability is not measured in terms of weapons, equipment and active forces alone. It is also based to a very great extent on the existence of a trained and equipped Reddy Reserve.

The very nature of global war decrees that the Army become increasingly flexible and mobile. It also decrees that a high state of preparedness exist at all times in both our active and in our Reserve forces.

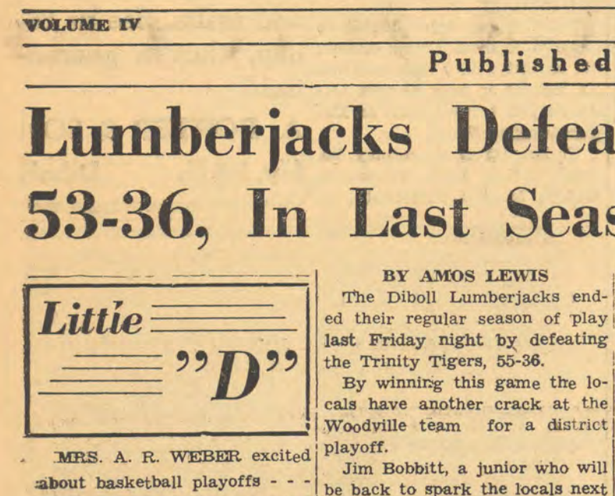

The size of our active Army and the future of this Nation rest upon the success of our Reserve program. To insure posterity the same blessings of democracy which we cherish, it is necessary that the youth of America be aware of their responsibility to their government, and meet it faithfully.

Supt. Pate Asks Parent Co-operation

A plea for acknowlegment of the school census went out to Diboll people this week from Superintendent W. F. Pate of Diboll Public School System.

Mr. Pate said that only about half the usual number of six year old pupipls have been rendered in the school census for next year. Going by figures, to show a certain number of six year olds to be registered each year, the superintendent told The News-Bulletin that some parents must have forgotten that their children must be rendered for the census.

Although the regular deadline for the census has already passed, Mr. Pate said that he may be glad to accept the forgotten children's names if they are immediately rendered.

BALANCED BUDGET

Businessmen were greatly encouraged by Mr. Eisenhower's emphasis on a balanced budget and "fiscal integrity" in his message to Congress on the State of the Union.

During the three years that he has been in office, Mr. Eisenhower has worked toward a balanced budget in order to prevent inflation, to stabilize the businessmen confidence in the future so they would risk their capital and provide needed pobs.

Now a balanced budget is in sight for this fiscal year and for 1957—although probably at a total figure considerably above what conservative fiscal experts had expected.

And this higher total will be possible only because of anticipated revenue increases for the current year. Even if balanced at a higher figure, a major task will remain to prevent the big spenders from forcing Congress into a spending spree that might prevent balancing the budget, menace tax reduction, and encourage socialistic ventures.

Farmers Look Over Last Years Work

Was our farm and farm land used to its best advantage last year? Could we have planned a more profitable use of our family labor? Did we have expenses that cut too much into farm profits? If so, why—and what can we do about it? These are some of the questions Freestone and Leon county farmers who are operating, buying or improving their farms with Farmers Home Administration loans are asking themselves as they analyze their past years farm and home record books, according to O. H. Juren, FHA Supervisor.

At the time they are examining their past years operations, they are mapping plans for next year's work. They are using the last years mistakes and successes as guides for better farming in 1956.

The local supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration helps them with their plans. Each family cooperating with the agency makes a definite appointment with the county supervisor, usually in the agency's county office, to carry out the annual year-end analysis.

Borrowers are discovering underlying problems that are block in the road to successful farming. A couple may find that a few more conservation measures are needed, or cash crops and livestock operations are not properly balanced, or farm and home management methods are not up to date.

The agency's county supervisors keep in close touch with the county agricultural agents, the State College of Agriculture, experiment farms, work of other agencies and otherwise place borrowers the advantage of the latest farming recommendations

The year-end analysis service is available to the farm families in Freestone and Leon counties who have received operating or farm ownership loans from the Farmers Home Administration and those soil and water conservation loan borrowers who are farming with the aid of farm and home plans.

Demo Workshop Slated For Feb. 18

San Antonio—County leaders attending the Democratic Work Shop sponsored by the Democratic Advisory Council in Houston Saturday, Feb. 18, will get a full course in how to organize for conventions and various strategies for use in floor battles, DAC headquarters announced Saturday.

The DAC is holding a regular quarterly session of the full council Saturday morning with the workshop scheduled for the afternoon, Mrs. Kathleen Voigt, DAC Executive Secretary, said. Byron Skelton, Temple, DAC Chairman and Tom Moore, of Waco, Chairman of the Executive Committee, will address the combined DAC and workshop on Saturday afternoon at the close of the day-long session in the Rice Hotel.

Reports by area organizational directors are scheduled for the morning DAC session following a short business meeting, the DAC official said.

Included on the workshop program will be a mock precinct convention, along with discussion of various angles of convention floor strategy, Mrs. Voight reported. The training session is intended to alert Democratic workers to the tactics which opposition forces might use.

"The Shivers machine has amply demonstrated in the past that it will throw the rule book out the window if that is necessary to win conventions," Mrs. Voigt declared. "Only through a thorough understanding of their rights as citizens and as Democrats can the real Democrats of Texas succeed in wresting control of the Democratic party out of the hands of the corrupt political machine which has been running it in recent years. We intend to see to it that the rules are followed and that the trickery and steamroller tactics so necessary to political machines do not succeed. We will be ready for any eventuality."

Buna Remains The Team To Reckon 'At

Diboll and Woodville have been fighting all season for the right to represent district 19-A in bi-district play.

Few fans have realized who Diboll's bi-district opponent may be, should they beat the Eagles.

Since Woodville has the definite advantage by walking off with this district, they will face all-powerful Buna, last year's Class A State titilist.

Always tough and almost always a contender for state laurels, Buna is again this year tearing up competition right and left.

They have two wins over Big Sandy, and a 64-42 victory over Central.

Woodville was last year's district 19-A champion. They were beaten by more than 30 points by Buna.

Needless to say, whether our winner should be Diboll or the Woodville team, the title of District Champs would be their last honor for this 1955 season.

An Editorial

Its the publics money

For many years the Texas Press Association — of which this newspaper, along with a vast majority of all Texas newspapers, is a member — has suggested laws that would require governing bodies of the state, various districts, and municipalities, to open their records to the public.

In many instances, publication of minutes would be required, and in the case of agencies handling public funds, publication of a financial statement would be mandatory.

Some progress has been made in these efforts, but not nearly as much as the importance of the project justifies. There never has been a great deal of opposition to the TPA proposals. But they have been shunted aside for other matters.

Apathy—not opposition — has kept them off the statute book.

Now all Texas is concerned over the numerous, unsavory circumstances that have come to light the past few years.

There have been the Duval County revelations; the veterans land investigations; the U. S. Trust and other insurance debacles; to say nothing of smaller local instances of corruption and abuse of public trust of which there have been many.

Men who are in a position to know — such as the Attorney General of Texas — say that none of these things could have gone on for long had there been adequate laws governing public notice. It is doubtful that any of them would have been attempted, had there been requirements that official actions be made public.

Proper public notice laws will prevent such things in the future. Such laws automatically lead to good government.

This is an election year. If you think public business should be made public, ask each candidate for the legislature how he feels about secrecy in government.

Vote for and support men who pledge themselves to help pass legislation requiring publication of financial reports by insurance companies, county treasurers,—and any and all persons who handle public funds.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 1
How to Save on Your Income Tax

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

The eve of April 16 will see a mad scramble in many households to put together the necessary facts and figures for the federal income tax returns due on that date. (April 15 falls on a Sunday this year, making April 16 the deadline.)

The last minute rush produces not only long lines at Internal Revenue Service offices, but also many careless mistakes by taxpayers.

Most of the errors are very simple. For example, about one million returns are filed every year with signatures missing. (This includes joint returns with only one signature and individual returns with no signature at all.)

Little slips in arithmetic last year resulted in overpayments by taxpayers of $18,000,000. Taxpayers got back these overpayments eventually, after the government discovered the mistakes, but the taxpayer cannot rely on the government to save him from all his errors.

The mistakes of arithmetic favoring the taxpayer were even larger—perhaps not entirely by coincidence. All returns are checked, and when an underpayment is discovered the government not only collects the difference, but also charges interest.

Opportunities Overlooked

Apart from obvious mistakes, many taxpayers overlook opportunities to claim exemptions and deductions, and other ways to reduce their tax.

In order to help you avoid such pitfalls, this newspaper is publishing a series of articles prepared with the help of the national and state organizations of certified public accountants. These articles — if you save them and use them along with the official instructions that come with your tax forms — may save you money.

Your first step is to consider whether you should file at all, and then what kind of a return to file.

For income tax purposes you are not required to file a return if your gross income in 1955 was less than $600, or if you are 65 or older and had less than $1,200 gross income. But if you had income from self-employment of $400 or more, the return must be filed for social security tax purposes.

Don't forget that tax on salary or wages may have been withheld during the year by your employer, even if your income was less than $600, and the only way to get it back is to file a tax return.

Advantage of Joint Returns

A common mistake is the filing of a separate return by a wife who had a small income. If the wife files a separate return, she is not permitted to file another return jointly with her husband, nor is her husband allowed to claim an exemption for the wife on his separate return.

Most married couples will save money by filing a joint return, as this "splits" their income to put them in the same bracket as though each of them had received half the total income.

There are unusual cases, however, such as those involving capital losses, in which separate returns might result in a saving. If this is a possibility, it is best to figure both jointly and separately before deciding which way to file.

The instructions that come with your tax forms give further information. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you need outside assistance.

THE EASY WAY OUT?

"Mrs. Ellery is thinking of taking her son — he's 18 — to a psychiatrist - - - " Molly began.

George snorted and put down his paper. "Good heavens. What for? He seems just like any normal kid to me!"

"Well, her psychiatrist recommends a specialist in child psychology. Says the boy is all mixed up."

"Seems to me that she's just trying to duck her responsibility with the kid. But I'll bet her psychiatrist wouldn't tell her that — or else he'd give it some funny name she wouldn't understand, and get her to go on with her treatment."

"But George," Molly rejoined, "teen-agers are a problem, you know".

"My hunch is that their parents can be more of a problem, a lot more of the time. If instead of trying to duck their responsibilities — their duties and obligations, really, as parents — they'd try devoting themselves intelligently to understanding their kids and give them guidance, instead of taking the easy way out and running off to some professional head shrinker- - -"

The eyes of the Lord are in every place, beholding the evil and the good.—(Proverbs 15,3.)

Ever present and enveloping us as the air we breathe is the Holy Spirit. God He knows the good and helpful things we do for others, and we are blessed He also knows every evil thought and desire we hide but, merciful, will help us overcome them.

"They asked me to pay twice!"

"I'm sure it was an honest mistake," she said. "But their books showed no payment. However, I produced my cancelled check."

You too will have occasions to be thankful that you pay the safe convenient way — with checks of this bank.

NO COMMENT

Washington—Tax relief talk on Capitol Hill threatens to ignore basic tax revision essential for the nation's industrial growth. It also threatens repeal of the limited dividend credit and more liberal depreciation allowances voted by Congress in the year 1954.

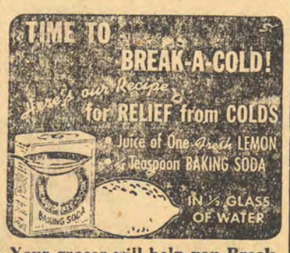

This campaign is intended by the new Fair Dealers to create the impression that "big business' and the rich have been favored at the expense of little business nd the poor. It is pointed, of course, toward next November's elections.

Many Congressmen believe the April tax receipts will indicate a possible surplus of at least $3 billion in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1957. Treasury Secretary Humphrey says $3 bellion is the minimum surplus that would be required for both debt reduction and a tax cut.

Leading Democrats have served notice thaet any tax cut enacted this year—applying to the 1957 fiscal year—must be primarily for the small taxpayer and must not incur any net loss in revenue. To prevent possible loss of revenue, they argue that repealing the divided credit and depreciation provisions would save just about as much revenue as a $10@ increase in exemptions would cost the Treasury.

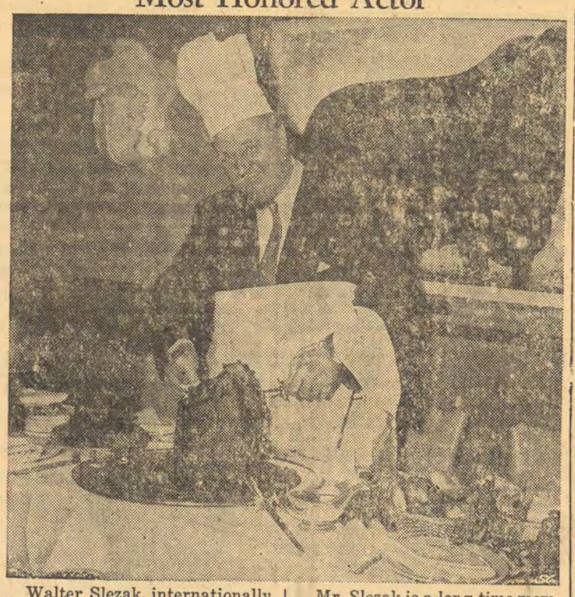

Republican tax experts challenge this contention. They say a $100 increase in personal exemptions would cost an estimated $2,500,000,000 a year, and repeal of the divided credit and depreciation provisions would return nowhere near this amount of revenue.

Another Republican argument is that a $100 increase in the personal exemptions would remove more than five million tax payers from the tax rolls, there by narrowing the tax base and delaying still further the time when something can be done about the discriminatory rates in the middle and lower income brackets.

Most Honored Actor

Walter Slezak, internationally known movie and stage star is shown in the picture in a favorite role — that of amateur chef. He donned cap and apron at a party recently at New York's famed Black Angus restaurant where his friends joined him in celebrating his 41st award for his characterization of Panisse in "Fanny", the Broadway musical hit in which he and Ezio Pinza are co-starred.

The award was the coveted Antoinette Perry citation. He also received the New York drama critics award for the best male starring performance in a musical in 1955, and 39 other awards from various organizations. These awards make him, his friends believe, the most honored actor of 1955.

Mr. Slezak is a long-time member of the Amateur Chefs Society of America, and next to acting he gets his greatest enjoyment out of preparing and eating good food. In the picture he is using a pistol-grip silver carving set made by the International Silver Company.

A noted gourmet, Mr. Slezak observed at the party that some restaurants pay too little attention to serving food in an appetizing way.

"This I deplore," he said. "Eating is one of man's greatest pleasures, and how food is served to you is as important as what is served — beautiful silverware, gleaming china and glassware, and a nice white tablecloth help you to enjoy good food."

many kinds of law ....

"They ought to pass a law— - - " You have heard that said many times. But did you know that much of our law was never "passed" by any legislative body?

Actually there are several kkinds of law which control our lives. Perhaph the following definitions will help explain the differences:

Statute Law: is an enactment of the state legislature or the Congress. It is the written law, setting forth a system of principles and ruleh of conduct.

COMMON LAW consists of those principles and rules of action which derive their authority from usage and custom and from the decrees of our courts affirming such rules. It may be written or unwritten, and much of it we derive from the ancient unwritten law of England.

FEB. 22 IS U. S. ARMY RESERVE DAY IN TEXAS!

YOUNG MEN WANTED

UNCLE SAM needs young men for his peacetime Army of Reservists. YOUNG MEN need what Uncle Sam has to offer.

Strong nations seldom are attacked. It is only when a nation becomes weak, when its military strength is at a low ebb . . . when its men are untrained for battle . . . that an enemy strikes. To keep peace — keep strong. For a nation to maintain military might it must have a large, well-trained Ready Reserve — well versed in the latest in military know how and equipment.

It is up to the young men of America to provide this manpower. Under the Reserve Forces Act of 1955 American youth may continue in school with a minimum of interruption, while serving in the U.S. Army Reserve.

Investigate. Contact your nearest U.S. Army Reserve Unit.

Remote Control TV

Television by remote control has become a reality. Now some members of the family can sleep, study or read while others watch TV in the same room without having to crowd around the set because the volume is low. There'll be no more commuting between chair and set to adjust the picture.

The remote control unit is a lightweight, hand-size plastic box with exclusive individual speaker, on-off, volume, fine tuning, brightener, and channel changer.

Home owners will be able to put their TV sets in a window and relax in the backyard while enjoying their favorite programs. Remote control will be a boon in trailers where, to save space, TV sets are frequently mounted atop high cabinets.

The remote control unit, made by the Sentinel Radio Corporation, of Evanston, Ill., also is a great convenience for the hard-of-hearing and for the patient at home or in the hospital. The shut-in is able to operate the TV set without calling for help. The unit fits nearly all TV sets and offers complete operation from as far as 20 feet away.

NO COMMENT

Washington—While many important labor bills are now pending in congress their fate this session is uncertain.

Historically, very little labor legislation has been enacted in election years. But this record was compiled before the AFL-CIO merger and intensification of union political activity.

Also, union labor's 1956 congressional plans have not yet been fully revealed. In considering specific legislative proposals, it might decide to wage an all out campaign for enactment—or it might do nothing—or it might seek to force roll-call vote in order to get its 'friends' and 'enemies' on record, without any expectation of final passage.

Industry, however, already is confronted by an AFL-CIO campaign to eliminate from the Taft Hartley Act the section 14 B permitting states to out law the closed shop. Eighteen states now have these right-to-work laws banning compulsory unionism.

Some legislation pending in Congress is favored by Secretary of Labor Mitchell. He however, doubts that a Democratic Congress will enact any labor or welfare legislation.

Many on Capitol Hill think Mitchell blundered in attacking the popular and highly respected chairman of the House Labor Committee — Rep. Graham A. Barden, D-NC. Mitchell complained that Chairman Barden had been bottling up the administration's proposals by refusing to permit hearings.

Such an attack, it was generally agreed, certainly will not tend to stimulate cooperation from Barden. Union bosses however, might make considerable headway in the Senate Labor Committee where they have a sympathetic majority.

HEARING BAD?

If so, you will be happy to know how we have improved the hearing and relieved those miserable head noises, caused by catarrh of the head, for thousands of people (many past 70) who have used our simple Elmo Palliative Home Treatment in the past 16 years. This may be the answer to your prayer. NOTHING TO WEAR.

Here are SOME of the symptoms that may likely be causing your catarrhal deafness and head noises: Head feels stopped up from mucus. Dropping of mucus in throat. Hawking and spitting. Mucus in nose or throat everyday. Hearing worse with a cold. Hear — but don't understand words. Hear better on clear days. Worse on rainy days. Head noises like crickets, bells, whistles, clicking, escaping steam or many other sounds.

If your condition is caused by catarrh of the head, you, too, may likely enjoy such wonderful relief as many others have reported. WRITE TODAY FOR PROOF AND 30 DAY TRIAL OFFER.
