Mr. D. L. Helton was returned home from a Houston hospital Saturday. Although his condition will remain serious, he is reported to be suffering from pain.

Last Wednesday afternoon Dan Fenley sent a Thermos of coffee to Paul Tucker at Memorial Hospital. Dan told his wife that a little of 'Fenley's coffee' and Paul would be coming home in no time.

And, not fifteen minutes after drinking the coffee, doctors advised Paul he would do as well at home as in the hospital.

Arriving home on Thursday morning, Paul said that, coffee or no coffee, it was great to be home again.

NO COMMENT

Washington— There is some increase in sentiment evident on Capitol Hill in favor of legislation to prohibit the expenditure of labor union funds for political purposes.

The drive is being spearheaded by Senator Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, and by Senator Curtis.

They have introduced a bill which is designed among other things, to protect union members belonging to one political party from having union dues, which they have paid under a compulsion, used in a primary or general election in behalf of candidates of another political party.

Admittedly, the Senators face an uphill fight. They will need llots of support if their proposal gets anywhere in an election year. But backing for the measure has increased to some extent as a result of two developments:

1: The announced intention of the AFL-CIO to set a new record in political activity this year —A special $15,000,000 political fund is sought ($1 from each of the 15,000,000 members) to supplement political expenditures from regular union dues.

2 A decision by the the U. S. District Court in Detroit that use of membership dues by the United Automobile Workers to sponsor TV shows endorsing Democratic candidates for federal office did not violate the Federal Corrupt Practices Act.

In view of these developments some members of Congress are contending that the law must be strengthened.

Can This Be Diboll?

What about it, neighbor, has Diboll come a long way since this shot was taken in the early 1900's? The big Southern Pine Lumber Company Comissary has been turned into the ultra-modern offices of that company. Can you find yourself in this picture? Mr. Dibollian.

S-S Deadline Nears For Self-Employed

L. R. James, manager of the Social Security Administration district office in Lufkin has issued an important tax date reminder to those persons newly covered by the 1954 Amendment to the Social Security Act.

Self-employed architects, engineers, accountants, and funeral directors are now subject to the 3 per cent social security tax on their annual net earning if as much as $400, and up to the maximum taxable, $4,200.

This tax must be declared on Bureau of Internal Revenue form Schedule C-a 1040, whether filed on a calendar year or a fiscal year basis.

Regarding ministers, who may choose coverage, James cautions that the 1955 income tax deadline, April 15, 1956, is also the deadline for electing coverage for the calendar year 55.

New Quick-Way Loader Purchased By S. P. Co.

Southern Pine Lumber Company added another feature to its specialized field of logging operations last week, reports Wood Superintendent Clyde Thompson.

A new Quick-Way loader was purchased by Southern Pine.

Biggest feature about the new loader is a folding jib, engineered and constructed in the Co.'s automotive shop.

In the past, two aspects of 'straight boom' loaders provided handicaps, said Mr. Thompson. One was that the cab of a straight boom loader was continually abused when logging operations called for the loading of gondolas or 'high cars'.

Another handicap, now solved by the new boom, was that a 40-foot boom projected too far over the cab when the loader was moved via public highways.

The new 'jib' can easily be folded in traveling position so that the loader has only a 26-ft. overhang instead of the usual 40-ft.

Gondolas can now be loaded without lowering the boom to such a position that the loader cab would be damaged.

Over Three Billion Given For New Religious Structures

American citizens have given over $3,000,000,000 for new religious structures in the past decade, according to the American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel. $3,895,000,000 has been spent in new religious construction since 1945. The bulk of this money has been raised through special building programs. Approximately 1,000 such church building programs are conducted each year under the guidance of professional fund-raising counsel. Total religious

Diboll Lions Club To Sponsor A Sale In Conjunction With Sales For The Blind

Five Churches Hold WDP Observance

Representatives of five Diboll churches gathered to observe the World Day of Prayer last Friday at the First Methodist. Services were held from 9:30 until 10:30 a.m.

Twelve church members, representing the First Methodist, Christian Church, First Baptist, Second Baptist, and Ryan's Chapel were present to observe the day set aside for all the nation as a Day of Prayer.

Although Diboll churches usually observe this day each year, they missed having services last year for the first time.

Sales To Be Made Friday

The Diboll Lions Club will be the sponsorer of a sale in conjuction with the Caravan Sales for the Blind here on Friday, March 13, according to Ralph Magill.

Sales will be made all day on Friday in The Village and will feature such items as: Ironing board covers, mops, brooms, potholders, doormats, and many other household items. All items are made by blind people in the Caravan Sales houses located in Houston and Fort Worth.

Magill said that the Lions will receive a small percentage of the sales for their part in doing the selling. Caravan Sales will have a man in charge of the truck which will be located in The Village, however.

Handbills will probably be released prior to the sale, and the Lions may 'canvas' Diboll houses with the items, said Magill. He urges Dibollians to come down to The Village and look over the houshold features.

"Since it is quite impossible for these blind folks to sell these items themselves, we hope that everyone will purchase an item. When its for the blind, it's always for a worthy cause," Magill said.

Anyone desiring further information about the sale, can contact Mr. Magill at 2526.

Tall Timber Chapter Met Last Tues. Night

Woodville Eagles Down Diboll 63-47

The Woodville Eagles beat the Diboll Lumberjacks, 63-47, last Wednesday night at Livingston before a large crowd. Woodville became champion of district 19-Afor the second consecutive yr. by virtue of the win.

Wednesday night's game decided the winner of the second round of play. Diboll's Lumberjacks would have gone into a play-off with the Eagles for the district honors had they won the game.

Diboll failed to hold the Eagles in check, something they had done in losing to them in two previous games, 42-41, and 53-50. Both were conference games.

BURNETT OUT

The reason for such a poor showing was the absence of the Diboll' center, Ken Burnett. He had missed two other games at Hudson and Trinity, due to an injured knee. Burnett played in last week's game, although he was of little help. He was carried from the court just before the half.

Bryant Kolb led the Eagles in scoring as his team played their best game of the season. The lithe dribbler scored 24 points. Little Jimmy Chapman poked in 11.

Diboll's Don Capps connected for 13, followed by Bobbitt and Glover with 10 each.

TEXAS IN REVIEW

The Commercial timber belt of Texas covers only 36 of the 254 counties of Texas, yet produces over a billion board feet of lumber each year. And this volume is expected to increase in futre years due to the work of the Texas Forestry Service and the private companies. Professional foresters from these groups do plant millions of seedlling trees each year and supervise cutting of present timber.

How these professional foresters are trained will be shown next week on The Humble Company's TV Program, Texas in Review. Cameramen from the program visited the fine forestry school at Stephen F. Austin College at Nacogdoches to film the classes, laboratory experiments and field trips.

Other features on the same program include Roy Rogers and Dale Evans presenting a national safety award to W. J. Wheeler Elementary School in Commerce and a visit to an annual laboratory held at the Texas Lions' camp for crippled chil-drenn at Kerrville. The purpose of this laboratory is to give additional recreational instruction to those active in community — and group recreation.

Texas in Review can be seen Sunday on KPRC-TV, Houston and KTRE-TV, Lufkin., 10 p.m.

HEALTH and SCIENCE

One Discovery Leads to Another

For centuries man has suffered from arthritis. The Romans fought the disease with special baths. Other ancients practiced fads and witchcraft. At long last, Mayo Clinic chemist Edward C. Kendall discovered Cortisone—bringing blessed relief to millions of arthritics.

Just recently, a team of seven scientists discovered Meticorten, a drug with five times the anti-rheumatic potency of Cortisone. As word of Meticorten's effectiveness spread, the medical world began to hail the new drug.

Now to see if Meticorten could be used to treat a host of other rheumatic ailments—such as neuralgia, sciatica, backache, stiff neck, lumbago and just plain "rheumatism." These complaints are especially common in rural and suburban areas.

Success! At the research laboratories of a leading pharmaceutical company, the discoverers of Meticorten found that small amounts of the new drug could be combined with aspirin and Vitamin C to form a super-aspirin—Sigmagen—milder than powerful Meticorten alone, yet potent enough to help the millions who suffer from rheumatic aches and pains.

Like Cortisone and Meticorten, Sigmagen became available by prescription as soon as its remarkable effectiveness was established. The first effect of Sigmagen, doctors now find, is relief from aching, stiffness and pain on motion. Next, increased motion becomes possible. A general increase in the feeling of well-being is observed by most patients.

The effect is so rapid, Dr. Tom D. Spies reports in the Journal of the American Medical Association, that patients "usually feel better within 24 hours."

In the years ahead, millions of people will find freedom from their distressing aches and pains—thanks to America's research scientists!

Q—I enlisted under the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act early in 1946. I am eligible for a GI loan under the World War II GI Bill. Am I also subject to the World War II deadline of July, 1957?

A—The World War II GI loan deadline does not apply to you. Instead, your deadline will be 10 years from the end of your first enlistment period under the voluntary Recruitment Act.

Compulsory Financial Publication Is Not Necessarily Incriminating Aganist Company

Does the fact that we have law enforcement officers on the state and local levels imply that all citizens are law violators?

Certainly not!

Neither do laws requiring the publication of financial statements by governing agencies, or open meetings of governing bodies, or that public records be open to public inspection imply that all government officials are corrupt. Ytt many office holders resent and resist efforts to enact such laws because they say they are a reflection on — their honesty!

Actually, such laws would be a protection to honest officials, just as the policeman is a protection to honest citizens.

Lack of an adequate police force tends to make people the more careless and they often do little things they would not do if an officer of the law were close at hand. Like speed laws, for instance. Isn't it surprising how much more carefully people drive when they see a highway patrol car ahead?

Laws requiring publication of financial statemen ts by tax-spending agencies of the government are chiefly beneficial as a preventive measure. Few officialls will unlawfully expend money if it has to be reported publicaly. Most officials will weigh carefully what might be only an unwise expenditure if they do know it is to be printed for al to see.

EXPERTS CALLED FOR DUCK RECOUNT

Austin—Status of pre nesting waterfowl population record is maintained as accurately as is possible since future hunting regulations are involved, said the Assistant Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

He said efforts to be as precise as possible were reflected lately when Federal and State waterfowl authorities reported conflicting figures in redhead duck numbers in the Laguna Madre area. Since whereabouts of redheads has mystified authorities since the high October count along the lower Texas coast, the technicians wanted to be more certain. So they promptly arranged for a new survey to be made jointly by the Federal and State observers.

Q—I have a World War II GI term insurance policy. When I went back on active duty, I arranged to have my premiums waived. I am about to be discharged, and I want to resume my premiums. Do I have to file an application with VA to pick up my insurance?

A.—An application is not necessary. Merely resume your premium payments within 120 days after your discharge. Be sure to identify yourself fully when you pay—full name, address, date of birth, branch of service and insurance number.

Someone estimates there are 24,000,000 cats in the U.S., in homes and alleys and on the back fence in full moon.

Vets Q's & A's

Q—I was discharged from the Army in January, 1955, so my deadline for starting Korean GI training is January, 1958 — three years from discharge. I recently reenlisted for three yrs. which means I will be on active duty when my starting deadline comes around. Can an exception be made in my case, so that I will be able to begin training after I leave service?

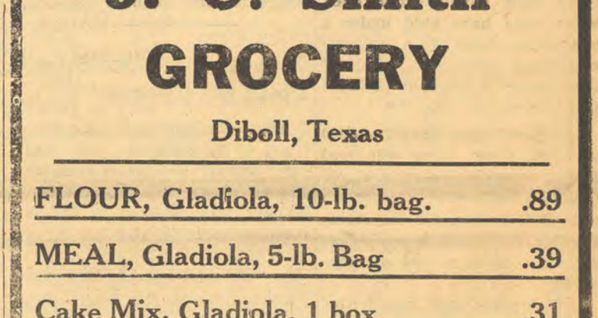

A—An exception to the three-year starting deadline is not at all possible. The law states that veterans must start Korean GI training within three years from their first discharge.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 2

Save Money with the Right Form

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

The government provides two forms for individual income tax returns. If you choose the wrong one, you may automatically cut yourself off from many possible tax savings.

The easiest way to file is to use the simple Form 1040A. It's a card the size of a check, which anyone can fill out if he is able to write his name and address and a few other simple facts. You just send it in with your withholding slips and the government takes care of the rest. If you owe more tax than was withheld you will get a bill for the difference. If more was withheld than you owe, you will get a refund check.

The tax rules permit you to use the card form if your gross income consisted only of wages, dividends or interest totaling less than $5,000, and if you did not have more than $100 of gross income apart from that listed on your W-2 withholding slips.

Stop, Look, Listen

Before deciding to use the card Form 1040A, you should consider these facts:

1. Your tax will be figured from a table which allows you a deduction of about 10% of your income instead of itemized deductions for contributions, taxes, interest paid, medical and dental expenses, etc.
2. There is no provision in this form for filing as the "head of a household," as a "surviving spouse," or for claiming special credits for dividends and retirement income.

If you are sure that these two points would not cost you any tax savings, and your income is within the limits for filing a Form 1040A, you might as well use this simple card form.

If you decide to use the regular Form 1040, you still have the choice of itemizing your deductions or using a standard deduction which generally amounts to about 10% of your income.

You are likely to save by itemizing your deductions if you:

1. Own real estate.
2. Had unusual medical expense.
3. Had deductible child-care expense.
4. Suffered losses from fire, storm, accident, or theft.
5. Made fairly large contributions.
6. Had certain expenses in connection with your work, as explained below.

Business Expenses

If you are in business for yourself, you can deduct your reasonable and necessary business expenses on separate Schedule C before arriving at your adjusted gross income on page one of the tax form. This still leaves you the choice of itemizing your other deductions or using the 10% standard deduction.

If you are an outside salesman, the same applies except that you should attach a list instead of separate Schedule C.

Other employees are entitled to a deduction for unreimbursed expenses in connection with their work, but expenses other than those listed below can be deducted only if all deductions are itemized instead of using the 10% standard deduction:

1. Transportation expenses in connection with your employer's business, including fares and automobile expenses. (Expenses of commuting are not deductible in any case.)
2. Meals and lodging while traveling away from home for your employer.

Form 1040 has been rearranged this year, so that although it still contains four pages a taxpayer whose income was entirely from wages needs to use only the first one or two pages. Pages 3 and 4 are for other types of income and for computing the special credits for dividends and retirement income.

The instructions that come with your tax forms give further information. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you need outside assistance.

Kellogg's Celebrates 50th Year

The Kellogg Company was founded by Will Keith Kellogg who was almost 50 years old when he decided to explore the commercial possibilities of the breakfast cereal he originally developed as a health food at his brother's Sanitarium in Battle Creek, Michigan.

The Toasted Corn Flakes Company, as the Kellogg Company was first called, was formed in the spring of 1906. In less than a year, Kellogg's Corn Flakes were nationally known, and Kellogg's first "Sweetheart of the Corn" was introduced to the public. In the ensuing fifty years, the company has won customers so rapidly that millions of families across the nation and in far off places around the world have since altered their breakast habits.

Kellogg's home plant is in Battle Creek, Michigan and is the largest of their domestic plants. The others are located in Omaha, Nebraska; Lockport, Illinois and San Leandro, California.

The name, Kellogg's became the greatest name in cereals and the largest producer largely because of the foresight and ingenuity of its founder, Will Keith Kellogg. The company continues to grow under W. H. Vanderploeg, its able and personable president, who has been with the organization since 1939.

Its The Law . . . In Texas

"They ought to pass a law— - - " You have heard that said many times. But did you know that much of our law was never "passed" by any legislative body?

Actually there are several kkinds of law which control our lives. Perhaph the following definitions will help explain the differences:

Statute Law: is an enactment of the state legislature or the Congress. It is the written law, setting forth a system of principles and ruleh of conduct.

COMMON LAW consists of those principles and rules of action which derive their authority from usage and custom and from the decrees of our courts affirming such rules. It may be written or unwritten, and much of it we derive from the ancient unwritten law of England.

Your official state inspection station reminds you that you have only until April 15 to obtain your new sticker. Don't wait until the last minute. Do it now!

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority

Some like it hot and some like it cold, but whatever their choice, winter vacationers are on the move in record numbers. Winter vacations have become increasingly popular, and 1956 will find more people than ever before taking advantage of them. These travelers move mainly in two directions—north or south—for skiing or sunbathing, the open hearth or the sandy beach.

If you're fed up with snow and ice, the warmer climes will get your business. Florida, which anticipates entertaining five million visitors this year, is high on the list of popular spots. The fantastic hotels lining the shore in Miami Beach never cease to fascinate me — and there seem to be new ones every year. Arizona and Southern California attract sunseekers in the West.

More and more, the hotels are getting competition from the motorist's haven—the motel. Many of the newer motels boast such "luxuries" as air conditioning, swimming pools, supervised nurseries and playgrounds for children and even nightclubs. Motels are a natural, too: three out of four vacation travelers go by car.

If you'd rather go north when the thermometer goes south, you'll pack ski equipment into the car and head for the wintry slopes. A skiing vacation is fun for the entire family. Many resorts offer special attractions for children—instructors, for example, who teach the youngsters on gentle slopes while the parents are off on the steeper hills.

South or North—whatever your winter vacation destination — a word if you want to be wise: have your local Shell Touring Service plan the trip. It can save you time and money, add to your vacation enjoyment.

People who mind their own business usually succeed —they have so little competition.

A-L Dept. Com. To Make Address

Charles L. Downey, Department Commander of The American Legion and Earl Rudder, Land Commissioner of Texas, will address the regular meeting of the Earl Grahama Post No. 159, Bryan, Texas, on Thursday evening, Mar. 1, Post Commander Travis B. Bryan, Jr., announced today.

Commander Bryan stated — this will be the official visit of Department Comander Downey to the local post. He will address the membership and give a report of the activities of the American Legion in Texas and will also discuss the pending legislation in Congress for the veterans.

Commissioner Earl Rudder will speak to the group in the form of a report on the activities of the veterans land bill since he has assumed the leadership of that project.

All posts and veterans in the immediate territory of Bryan are cordially invited to attend the meeting, Commander Bryan said.

The Allen Academy has arranged a review for the public.

Backetball Work Began Monday, 3 pm

Coach Johnny Waldie announced that baseball workouts at DHS started Monday afternoon at 3 p.m.

About twenty boys reported for the first practice session, most of them repeaters from the last year's district runner up team.

Back from last year's team: Thomas Wells, Jimmy Bobbitt, Bobby Glover, John Lee, John Hooper, Harold Dean, Amos Lewis, Harold Burchfield, Kenneth Burnett and Larry Weber.

Waldie said that the Jacks should be a strong contender for the district, since he has several lettermen from the 1955 squad back for action.

Diboll's first game will not be announced until the district committee has mapped the district games. First non-district tilt will probably be unraveled in about two or three weeks, however.

AUTOMATION'S FIRST ENEMY

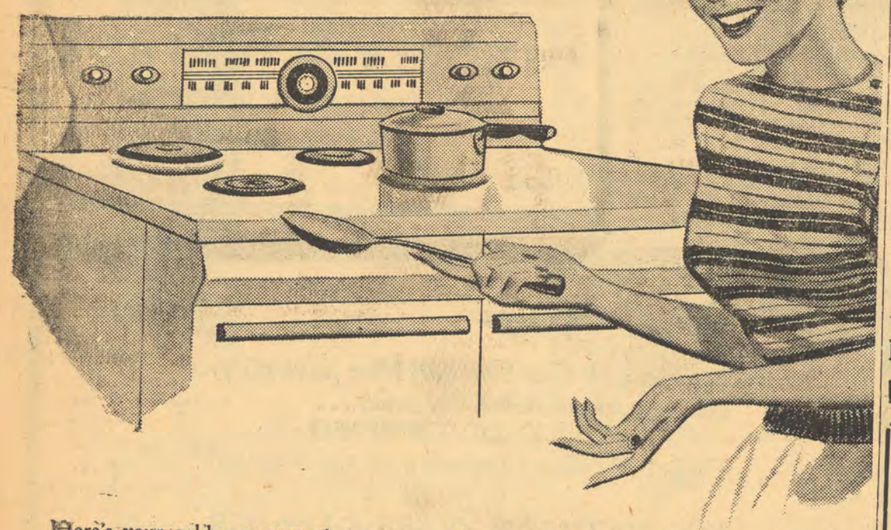

Generations ago, at the outset of the "industrial revolution," factory forkers in England fried to destroy the newly invented machines which, they feared, would replace - - - them.

They did not foresee, of course, that the machines which could do the work of many men would, in reality, create many more new jobs.

Groundless fears of today's automatic machinery goes even further back, perhaps to when man took a pointed piece of flint to make a wheel. "Automation" actually is just a new tag for all the progress man has made, from the flint to the atom.
