Congratulations to former Dibollian KENNETH VAUGHN—and wife JEANETTE, proud parents of baby girl born Feb. 23. —Proud of their 11th grandchild are MR. and MRS. LEE VAUGHN - - - Seen having a lot of fun at Booster Club were BOB HOLT, HERB WHITE, SR, ELWYN JONES, IRWIN DUBOSE, HARRY WALKER, and JIM CURL and MAYNARD SCHIENKE — HERB WHITE, JR., and TOM KELLY looking over R. A. STEWART'S wrecked pickup — Former Dibollian, JOE COOK, now working in Lufkin — SHEROD POWELL buying subscription for son, JERRY DON — MAXIE ARNOLD doing likewise for relative — SHERRIL FEARS thinking the current good weather excelllent time for mowing yard.

The new Community Center, on which the Booster Club has spent hours and dollars, still sits in its beautiful location doing nobody any good. Except for an occasional meeting of the Boosters, the giant building has been little used by anyone.

The Scouts spent many rough nights and days building the 'Scout House', and for a time it was the most celebrated in this area.

By degrees, though, it was used less and less.

Eventually, it seems, people have become afraid to have anything to do with the building. Whether townspeople steer to the clear of it at least, for unknown reasons, their good name and reputation should be ruined, I don't know.

In short, it seems that Mr. Johnny Waldie's plan to turn it into a top-notch recreation center for high school kids could get more backing.

For those of you who have desires against dancing, no one could blame you for upholding what you think is right. But for those of you who have nothing against it, or against having a hamburger and listening to music, surely you had rather see your kids enjoy thesethings at the recreation center than at some far less desirable rendevous.

Anyone who would like to take their turn on a Saturday night to act as chaperone at the new center can contact either this paper or Johnny Waldie.

Johnny has said that the chaperoning couple must be married but can be of any age.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 4
Exemptions Cut Your Tax Bill

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

This year's redesigned tax forms make it easy for you to indicate the personal exemptions to which you are entitled.

Every taxpayer is entitled to one exemption, which means a deduction of $600. Those 65 or over have a double personal exemption, and blind persons of all ages have an extra exemption. These rules apply to both husband and wife on joint returns.

In addition, you are entitled to one exemption for each qualified dependent, but the extra exemptions for age and blindness cannot be taken for dependents.

Rules for Dependents

To qualify for an exemption a dependent must:

1. Have received more than half his support from you, unless you file a Multiple Support Agreement (see below). In figuring support, scholarships received by your child do not count.
2. Have less than $600 gross income unless he is your child and under 19 or a student.
3. Not file a joint return.
4. Have been either a member of your household or closely related to you, as defined in the official instructions. Although cousins are not usually "close relatives" for tax purposes, a person receiving institutional care for a mental or physical disability who lived with you before going to the institution would qualify.
5. Have been either a citizen of the United States or a resident of the United States, Canada, Mexico, Panama, the Canal Zone or, in some cases, a serviceman's child living in the Philippines.

Your exemptions usually depend on whether you and your dependents qualify under these rules at the end of the year. However, if your husband or wife died during the year you may file a joint return and take the same exemptions that both of you would have otherwise had. Similarly, if a dependent died during the year, the rules are applied as of the time of his death.

Multiple Support Agreement

If you shared with others in the support of a dependent, but none of you provided more than half, you may still be able to arrange among you for one of the group to have the $600 exemption. You might agree, for example, to take turns in having the exemption from year to year.

The one who claims the exemption must have contributed more than 10% of the support, and he must have been a member of a group who altogether provided more than half the support. Each member of this group must have been entitled to claim the dependent except for the requirement of providing more than half the support.

In order for one of the group to have the exemption all other members of the group who contributed over 10% must sign declarations that they will not claim the dependent. The Internal Revenue Service provides Form 2120 (Multiple Support Agreement) for this purpose.

Be sure to claim all the exemptions you properly can, because each one reduces your taxable income by $600.

If you are supporting dependents, but are not able to file a joint return, you may qualify as the "head of a household" and be entitled to use a special schedule of tax rates that give you half the benefits of income splitting.

The instructions that come with your tax forms give further information. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you need outside assistance.

It was announced last week by B. F. Hines of the Diboll Volunteer Fire Department that the organization had received a check in the amount of $100 from Southern Pacific Railroad.

Mr. Hines said that the department voluntarily helped to extinguish fire in several boxcars at the scene of the big wreck between Diboll and the Burke Community several weeks ago.

A Southern Pacific official extended his thanks to George Johnson, and asked that a bill be sent the company. Mr. Johnson explained that this was a volunteer department and that no charge would be forthcoming.

Mr. Hines said that Southern Pacific did see fit to contribute to the Diboll VFD Christmas Fund, however.

The $100 check was entered in the Christmas Fund, to be used this coming Yuletide by more than 40 active members of the department.

High School Library Receives A Rare Book Of Historical Etchings

BY W. F. PATE

Our High School Library has just received a very rare book of historical etchings, by the nationally known etcher, Mr. Bernhardt Wall, etcher of books.

This book is entitled FOLLOWING SAM HOUSTON.

This book contains 72 etchings of Gen. Sam Houston, the places he lived, worked and visited in his lifetime — many of the spots unknown or long forgotten by today's generations of Texans.

Mr. Wall, an Easterner, came to Texas in his youth to catch the spirit of the Old West and remained to absorb its history in imperishable art. Mr. Wall spent three years of research surrounding the life, history, activities and extensive travels of General Sam Houston and incorporated his findings in the wonderful etchings.

This book, if made for a single collector, or school library by an artist of Mr. Wall's experience and ability would probably cost more than $10,000.00. The historical research alone, was a monumental task.

Each etching was first sketched by Mr. Wall from an original photograph and the memory of those who had inherited and treasured these rare photographs, then the sketches were transferred to copper plates by hand, each line and characteristic then etched to the proper depth by close watching and control, so that every single line reaches a proper artistic definition of shade and character.

Etchings are to art what harmony and Rhythm are to music, or what atomic power is to the sciences. One who comes to appreciate and loce etchings, is at once a connoisseur of all things artistic and lovely.

An etching is in every sense of a word, a work of art; in fact, an etching is more difficult to make than an oil painting, because in oil one may paint over an artistic error, while in etching, the plate must be completely remade in case of an artist's error. Sometimes days are required to make a single plate before perfection is achieved.

Each plate is then set on a hand press by artist, inked, and wiped. This process must be repeated for each page or print, the imperfect pages discarded for perfection of the finished art. There is as much art involved in the embossing as in the making of the plate itself.

FOLLOWING SAM HOUSTON will be available to teachers and students in art, history, civics and English classes in the research and theme writing as well as to all students and citizens in the community who are interested in furthering their historical and artistic interests. It is a book to study, not merely to see.

NEW MILL ROLLS ROD AT 60 MPH

This new electronically controlled rod mill operated by American Steel & Wire, successors to America's pioneer wiremakers, rolls rods at speeds up to 60 miles an hour. Rolling four rods at a time, this continuous mill can produce upwards of 500 tons of wire rod in an eight-hour shift. This compares to the 15 tons production in 24 hours on the first rod mill operated by Ichabod Washburn, who established the nation's first successful wire drawing mill in 1831.

Fit For A "King"

Every dish should have its day, says lovely Ingeborg King, of Chicago, and her favorite is no exception. It's a heaping bowl of kraut and frankfurters. It's so good, says Inge, that not a day but a whole week is being set aside in its behalf. Americans everywhere will observe the week of February 2nd as "National Kraut and Frankfurter Week." Last year more than 768 million servings of kraut and 72 million frankfurters were consumed in the United States. This year, with Inge setting a fine example, the "figure" should be even more impressive.

Baseball Schedule Given By Waldie

Baseball Coach Johnny Waldie this week released this season's district baseball schedule.

Included in the district this year are: Diboll, Hudson, Central and Redland.

Diboll will oppose Hudson in the first district game here on April 6. They will return the engagement April 24. The Jacks play at Central on April 13, and fighting the Bulldogs here on May 1.

Diboll will then face Redland there on April 17, with the Spartans playing here May 4.

All games at Diboll will probably be played at night, with games away from home being played in the afternoon.

The Lumberjacks will face Groveton here in the first game of the 1955 season tomorrow, Friday, March 9. Next week the locals travel to Livingston, with a return match set here on Mar. 16. They will play in Groveton March 20. Three other pre-district games will be set later.

Two games are scheduled with the Lufkin B team, in Diboll on April 3, and here again April 20. Two non-district games will probably be scheduled to fill the gap in conference play.

Diboll, defeated only by their arch rival Central in district play last year, is the favorite for copping district honors this season.

APPEARANCES CAN BE DECEIVING—Attractive appearance means little to the astute judge of quality in a home. Whether a house is of brick veneer or of wood siding (as shown here) has no bearing on its real value. What does is the quality of the hidden parts that comprise the house "skeleton." Fortunately, behind the walls and under the roof of this house is well seasoned, grade marked Southern Pine lumber. And because the joists, studs and rafters are sound, the house will far outlast the lives of its occupants.

Booster Club Has Doubled Attendance

The Diboll Booster Club has proved that attendance can be raised at meetings, and on last Thursday more than doubled attendance over the previous meet of two weeks ago.

President Waldie counted 38 persons in Thhrsday's meeting. Only 16 attended the previohs week.

A meal prepared by Mrs. J. T. Hhtson with fried chicken as the main dish was enjoyed by all in attendance.

Motion was made that the loctl club adopt as rule that only one of each three meetings be held for business discussions, with the remaining two consisting of guest speakkrs and entertainment.

Guests from Diboll were: Mr. Wesley Ashworth, Thomas Lester and Bruce George. Billy Lee Thompson of Lukkin was present, as were associates of the Yellow Transit Freight Lines, in Diboll on business with Southern Pine Lumber Co.

Elwyn Jones of Temple Associates introduced his guest, Mr. Bybee of the American Restaurant Association. Mr. Bybee briefly outlined plans for a modern cafe and coffee shop, soon to be built between Village Furniture Co. and Diboll Insurance Agency. Mr. Bybee has recently completed consultant work on Powell's Candlelite Room in Lufkin.

Boosters will meet again on March 15. Plans for the Community Center and Youth Recreation Center combination will be discussed.

Thursdays meetings were also held in the newly remodled Community Center.

So this is HOMEMAKING — erma ray riley

The reason I went to cooking school was because a certain movie star did. I saw the movie three times trying to master her technique of breaking an eggshell with one hand. At home, I broke, cooked, and served innumerable eggs. Finally, my husband rebelled.

"Your new RCA Estate range is a pretty versatile unit, isn't it?" he prompted.

"Of course," I bit, "grills, bakes and barbecues all at the same time."

"Great," Bill countered, "grill, bake or barbecue something for dinner tomorrow. Anything, as long as it isn't eggs!"

Sometimes I can be as subtle as Bill. Next day I was off to cooking school where I learned to bake a cake. A real, old-fashioned pound cake that called for six eggs.

A home economist from Whirlpool-Seeger Corporation, the company that made my range, provided the recipe, the helpful hints and the moral support.

Well, it was a perfect cake. Light, evenly browned and with a wonderfully subtle lemon flavor.

Of course, my balanced heat oven was a boon. No hot spots or cold corners anywhere. Everything bakes uniformly.

Bill loved the cake. Ate five pieces and not a word about eggs. Although I can hardly illustrate the one-handed egg-breaking technique, I can give you six practice starts with my new recipe.

Modern Pound Cake

4 c. flour
¼ tsp. salt
3 tsp. baking powder
½ c. butter
½ c. shortening
2 c. sugar
6 eggs
1 c. milk
½ tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. lemon rind, grated

Sift dry ingredients. Cream butter and shortening thoroughly. Add sugar to creamed shortening slowly and beat well. Add eggs one at a time beating well after each.

Mix milk and vanilla. Add flour mixture and milk to batter alternately, beating after each addition. Stir in grated lemon rind. Pour into greased tube pan.

Bake in 325° oven for 1¼ hours.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

If you plan to pack the family pet—feline or canine—into the car come vacation-time, here are a few hints you may find useful.

The touring dog is usually a good traveler and needs only a little special care. Don't feed him for at least two hours before leaving. Take him for a few short rides before the "grand tour." And teach him the few essentials of car obedience: to stay put in the car, to sit or lie, not to bark, and to come when called, after he's been released for exercise. Get him an oversize dog tag (in case he gets lost in strange country).

Don't worry about accommodations. Some of the best hostelries now welcome travelers with dogs. "Touring with Towser", a public service booklet of the Gaines Dog Research Center, 250 Park Avenue, New York, lists almost 4,500 such places from coast to coast.

Cats, generally speaking, do not travel so well as dogs. If you're planning to take Kitty with you, I'd advise putting her in some kind of enclosure. A box with a side of chicken wire should do. Take along a leash and collar so she won't stray when you reach your destination. Don't feed her too soon before starting out—a cat's a more nervous traveler than a dog. Feed her canned food and fresh milk when you've reached your stop-over point. Cats are noted for cleanliness, so don't worry on this score.

With cats and dogs, as with human travelers, the same rule applies—plan well and you'll travel pleasantly.

SPORTS FLASHES

You've got Bucky Walters' word for it — the slider is no new pitch. Talking to an interviewer for The Sporting News, Walters, former star pitcher and now bull pen boss of the Giants, said Chief Bender showed him how to throw it back in 1935. And Bender told him it wasn't new even then. "He had no name for it," Bucky said,—"but it was a slider."

Did you know that John Coleman lost 48 games for Philadelphia in the National League in 1883?

Is Bob Rush so near-sighted that Cub catchers use "head signs" rather than fingers to call for his pitches — turning their head right or left;

"That Rush frightens me,"—says Pee Wee Reese. "When Im hitting against him, and I see him bending over and squinting for the sign, I feel like shouting —"This is me, here, Bob; that's the plate over there."

Did You Know That John W. Taylor pitched 1727 innings for Chicago and St. Louis in the National League without relief, starting in 1901 and finishing in 1906?

It's a rare day for sports writers when Yogi Berra doesn't furnish something to write about. During the ball pplayers' recent golf tournament in Miami, says The Sporting News, Yogi showed himself a switch hitter. After a drive and a second shot righthanded, Yogi was in a trap. He blasted out lefthanded and sank a lefthanded putt for a par four.

Did You Know That the Pittsburgh Pirates were held scoreless for 56 consecutive innings in 1903 — a major league record?

Bob Feller tells the story of his first day in reporting to the Cleveland Club, and being given his equipment by the late Lefty Weisman, Indians' trainer. "Weisman gave me a suit and a cap," Bob is reported as saying in The Sporting News, "and after dressing, I told him the cap was too big. 'See that it stays that way' he snapped, and I think it was pretty good advice."

'Winterized' Waterfall

HIGH OVER BUSY TIMES SQUARE in New York City is one of the world's strangest waterfalls. It's a part of the biggest sign on Broadway. The waterfall, 50 feet high and a block long, is flanked by two giant soft-drink bottles, and topped by a bottle cap. Its 50,000 gallons a minute flow has been winterized for zero weather.

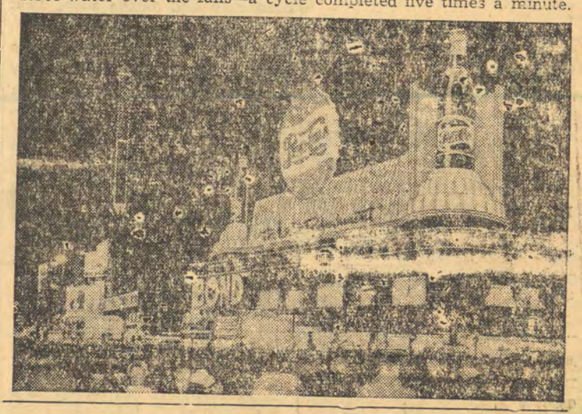

IT'S ONLY 9 ABOVE as International truck pumps its 3,000 gallon load of anti-freeze up 150-foot hose to sign. Estimates placed requirement for entire winter at about 15,000 gallons.

ANTI-FREEZE about to be added to the waterfall, blowtorch is applied to thaw pipe from the block-long, 10,000 gallon base tank. Winter formerly halted the waterfall's flow.

ICE-FREE, THE WATERFALL flows when others have been stilled by winter cold. It has a 16 hour day, being turned off at 1 a. m. Eight hundred flood lamps in red, yellow, blue and white light the falls, along with 20,000 light bulbs. It takes 23 sizable pumps to force water over the falls—a cycle completed five times a minute.

Freshman Hog-Ties $150 Gulf Award

Travis Gossett, a 96, pound, 15 year old freshman at Diboll High School, last week won a check for $150 in the Calf Scramble at the Houston Fat Stock Show.

The youngster stubbornly had the 400 pound calf's tail as he literally 'flew' three times around the arena. He finally succeeded in throwing the calf,—however, as nine other boys—waited for their chance at winning the prize money.

Travis will, now buy a calf with the prize money and take him to the show next year for exhibition.

The freshman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Gossett of Diboll.
