Diboll -- The Lumber and Wood Products Capitol Of The South. Home Of The Temple Industries

Pineland On The Verge Of A Boom

The little town of Pineland, nestled away in the piney wood of Sabine County, Texas, is on the verge of a boom, if work in progress and plans for improvement are any indication.

Southern Pine Lumber Company there is in the midst of a million dollar plant improvement expenditure which is part of a larger program to make it one of the two most modern forest plants in the world.

Temple Lumber Company will construct immediately a modern building material store offering a compllete one-stop line of all materials used in home, farm and commercial construction.

A new million dollar commercial power plant to furnish power for industries and homes for the region is under study.

Soon the News-Bulletin will be carrying personal items of interest from the Burke, Pine Valley, and Prairie Grove communities. Any person in those communities who would like to represent this newspaper each week with a regular column ma contact the editor at 2226.

We have been busy moving the past two weeks and have doubtless missed out on a lot of news. We should be situated in another week, however, and be back on the job as usual.

And while we are on the subject, deadline for all news and advertising in this paper is on Monday noon. Both should be in earlier, but Monday noon is the latest. Items turned in after that will be used in the next paper and will be gladely accepted.

We hope to be able to carry a full page of sports, effective before the close of baseball season.

Scarcity of newsprint and a multitude of things prohibit it now. We realize how much Dibollians enjoy baseball, however and will try to carry out our plan to carry a full page. ....

In keeping with our policy to give credit to those who have helped make Diboll the town it is, another feature story being carried in this issue.

The young people are now coming along to carry the burdens shouldered by older citizens for so long. The time will come, too, when we grow old, and will appreciate due notice from friends on our past accomplishments.

Word has come that Johnny Waldie will not be with us next years as athletic director.

All of us agree that Johnny has done a terrific job in Diboll, and a harder working man will be hard to find.

Our good wishes go with Mr. Waldie for we feel he has a future ahead of him.

A new industry is tentatively planned for Diboll, in the form of a chicken crafe factory. As this column was written, details of the operation were not specific, but the new plant will probably employ about 35 women.

SUDDENLY...

Suddenly It's Spring!

Long it's been, and dark,
and cold,
And now come slush and mud ....
As old Winter slacks is hold—
But look! A tree's in bud!
Comes a sudden bitter blast,
But still the sun is there—
And you seem to sense at last
A softness in the air.

It's no longer just a dream
This lengthening of days;
Willows by the lake and stream
Unfold a golden haze.
You can scarce believe it's true;
In swamps the peepers sing. ....
Suddenly the sky is blue—
And suddenly—it's Spring!

Jim Richards

Watched Diboll Grow For Past Forty Years

The town of Diboll has changed quite a bit since a hot sultry day in the summer of 1915 when Jim Richards and his wife moved to Diboll.

From fairly new sawmill city of several hundred, the town is now the busting little city of over 4,000, readily recognized as a major leader in the South's lumber industry.

In the forty years that Jim Richards has lived here he has seen so many people come and go, and so many changes made, that he could not begin to enumerate them.

TRACE HIS LIFE

We can trace James Oscar Richard's life pretty well, however — a life very similar to that of hundreds of other persons who have worked for the Temple Industries.

Born in the pioneer country of Alabama, August 18, 1882, Jim Richards moved to Rusk county, Texas, as a child of three.

As years rolled by he lived at Blair, Garrison, Pennington, Nogales, Centralia, and Apple Springs, at most of whichplaces he was employed as a log hauler for the Trinity County Lbr. CCo.

MOVES TO DIBOLL

Growing tired of skipping by camp to camp, Jim decided on moving to a permanent home.

So it was he brought his wife with him to Diboll in 1915.

Jim immediately went to work for Southern Pine Lumber Co. in the now fabulous 'car gang.' He was later employed by Texas Southeastern Railroad in a position he was to hold until his retirement, that of 'hostler'.

MANY OLDTIMERS

At that time, Jim recalls, E. C. Durham was general manager of TSE. And working with the railroad at that time were such oldtimers as:

C. A. Jordan, Lon Smith and Frank Laing, Bob Cook, John Dual, Luther Dial, Arthur Porter, Charley Weeks, Tidas Mooney, Dick McKinney, B. L. King and Monkey Burkett and John Stringer. Some are now deceased, while many others escape his recollection.

J. O. Richard's 40 years in Diboll has been broken only by a weeks trip to Phoenix, Arizonia this was in accordance with orders by the late Dr. J R Dale for Mrs. Richard's health.

"Health or no health, we just couldn't stand it out there," Mrs Richards said. "Jim only lost a week's work."

RUNS TWO JOBS

During the time that Jim was 'hostling' for TSE, he occasionally served as fireman for the Southern Pines log train.

After being retired by the TSE, he was employed for awhile by Southern Pine as a utility man in their machine shop. In 1953 he went into complete retirement and his 'rocking chair' as Mr. Richards so aptly put it.

GRAVEDIGGER TOO

Before funeral homes became numerous or popular in hese parts, J O Richards dug many a grave. And to toup it all, this railroading man has acted as an undertaker in many instances....

Mr. Richards says that he long ago forgot how many of the graves he dug at Rlan's chapel, Prairie Grove, Bald Hill, and Corrigan, and other communities close to Diboll.

TWO CHILDREN

Mr. and Mrs. James Oscar Richards have two children, both of whom are still living in Diboll.

Mrs. Mildren Winder is the wife of Southern Pine engineer, J D Winder. Mrs. Hazel Turner is the wife of Southern Pine electrician Harold Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner have one child, Stanton, who is the Richards' only grandchild.

Safety Resolution Given By State

Safety inspections of the near 4,000,000 motor vehicles registered in Texas is "falling seriously behind schedule" with the official deadline only five weeks away.

This was reported today by the Highway Safety Council of Texas after a spot check of authorized inspection stations for the week ending March 3.

Executive Director G. C. Morris of the Council said that inspections had "held to a satisfactory pace until January, but inspection stations — particularly in metropolitan areas report that the required safety checks have been falling seriously behind schedule during the past six weeks."

"In some areas," Morris reported, "motorists seem to have forgotten about inspections altogether and activity has come to a standstill."

Deadline for the inspection of vehicles registered in Texas is April 15.

On March 15, 1867, Andrew Jackson, the 7th president, was born, who saved New Orleans.

BULLETIN

Head football coach at Diboll High School, Johnny Walldie has resigned. Informed sources said that the resignation will become effective at the end of the present school term.

Waldie, who in his second season here this year directed the Lumberjacks to a 3-7 won-lost record, told The News Bulletin that he will go out of the coaching and teaching profession. He declined discussing future plans, at least for publication.

Plans will probably be related at a later time in this newspaper.

Open House and 'Exchange' Attract Over 800 Persons During School Week

BY W. F. PATE

Texas Public Schools Week was celebrated in the Diboll Schools with an open house in the Jr.-Sr. High School on Mar. 6, and an open house in the elementary school on March 8.

More than 800 persons attended elementary and high school during the week.

In the Junior High School the home rooms exhibited projects the cllass had been workking on during the current semester, along with papers of each student from the first week of the current school year to the week of the showing. In these group exhibits were safety, health, science and social science. These each depicted special items that concerned or was near to the lives of the students of this particular community.

They each showed the progress made in the nation, State, and in the community.

An added feature of the program for this year was the calling for volunteers in the community of people to come out and teach for some of the teachers. We were very successful in obtaining the services of several people who came out and taught for half a day and permitted the home room teacher to visit in the homes of several of her students thereby bringing the home and the school together. This added feature has proven to be one of the best contrivances for the promulgation of Texas Public School week in this community.

In the high school the parennts of the children came ou and the high school principal gave each of them a schedule of the classes and the class periods of their respective boys and girls.

Each then attended the classes of their boys and girls and in this way the parents had an opportunity to become better familiar with the teachers of the high school and to check the work of their individual children. This has been done for the past several years and has proven to be very good public relations between the home and the school.

Another new introduction to Public Schools Week in Diboll was the calling in of business men and women to teach certain classes and to explain why a boy or girl should study these several subjects. This seemed to be very satisfactory from the standpoint of the students and also from that of the participants in this work.

The interest in our schools has been on the increase for the past few years, and we attribute this to the state-wide enactment of Public Schools Week.

In our Open House in the Jr.-Sr. High School we had approximately 350 parents, and during the entire week we had several people that were not able to to make the night session, making the total of visitors to the Junior-Senior High School for the week approximately 500 persons.

In the Open House in the Elementary School we had an overflow on Thursday Night, also many visitors came during the week who could not attend the Open House on Thursday Night. The open house in both schools has called for, or accounted for, about 800 visitors in the Diboll Public Schools during the week of Texas Public Schools Week.

In each room of the elementary school the teacher showed the work of every child, from the biginning of this school year to the week of the Open House. This gave the parent a chance to make inquiries into the why and if their child was not doing as well as he or she should be doing.

Every parent of the Diboll School Community is cordially invited to visit your school at any time convenient for you to do so.

ICE HOUSE TOUR

BY
Johnny Popham - Nita Ramsey

Mrs. Pate's room of the fifth grade had an interesting visit to the Diboll Ice House recently.

Mr. Hale was very nice to invite us there. We walked orderly from the grade school to the ice house where learned quite a bit from the things we saw.

The first thing Mr. Hale did was to fill some large vats with fresh water. Then with the use of pulleys, he put it in brine water that is from 13 to 16 degrees F, to freeze.

The brine water is 73 pct salt. It takes 4 to 5 days to freeze. In the first few days air is kept blowing in it to give it a clear color. As the water freezes from outside in, impurities are driven to the center where they form a pocket of unfrozen and now impure water.

To overcome this, the impure water is pumped out, and replaced with fresh water which is free from impurities to continue freezing and turn out firs class ice every time.

When the completely frozen ice, which weighs 300 pounds, is taken to a storage room to be kept until cut into blocks of all sizes.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 5
Tax Benefits Ease Pain of Sickness

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

Nobody likes to be sick. But if there was sickness in your family during 1955, you may have some compensation tax-wise.

First there is the question of "sick pay." If you were absent from work due to injury or sickness and received payments from your employer (either sick benefits or regular pay) or his insurance company, these payments, within limits, are free of tax.

There are two limitations:

First, the maximum amount is $100 per week, plus any amounts which came from your own contributions to the plan.

Second, unless the absence was for sickness during which you were hospitalized at least one day, or for an injury, the payments are not tax free until after the first 7 calendar days of absence.

If these payments are included in the wages shown on your withholding slips, you should subtract the proper amount from your income in the place provided on the first page of the tax return (Form 1040). Attach an explanation as described in the instructions. You are entitled to exclude this amount even if you do not itemize your deductions.

Apart from sick pay, you may have received payments covering medical expenses for yourself and your dependents. Don't include these in your income, but don't deduct the medical expenses covered by these payments either.

Medical Deductions

If you itemize your deductions, you may be able to save tax money by listing medical and dental expenses you paid for yourself and your dependents.

This year you list your medical and dental expenses on a separate sheet, rather than on the form itself. Space is provided on the form for figuring the amount that is allowable as a deduction.

You are allowed a deduction for your medical expenses beyond 3% of your adjusted gross income. If you (or your husband or wife) were 65 or over at the end of the year, the 3% rule does not apply to your own medical expenses. It does apply to any medical expenses you pay for your dependents.

maximum amount for the year, as explained in the instructions. Medicines and drugs may be included in your medical expenses only to the extent they exceed 1% of your gross income.

Among the items to include in your list of medical expenses are fees of doctors, dentists, hospitals and nurses. List premiums for Blue Cross and other health, accident or hospitalization insurance, but remember you cannot deduct medical expenses paid or reimbursed by insurance.

Widows and Widowers

There are several provisions of special interest to widows and widowers:

1. You may file a joint return with a husband or wife who died during the tax year if no separate return is filed.
2. If you have not remarried and have in your household a dependent child or stepchild, you are entitled for the next two years to use the same tax computation (with income-splitting) as you would have been entitled to on a joint return.
3. When life insurance proceeds are taken as an annuity or in installments, widows and widowers are allowed $1,000 per year of tax-free payments in addition to the principal.
4. You may be entitled to retirement income credit if your deceased husband or wife would have qualified.
5. You may be entitled to a deduction for child care expenses.

The instructions that come with your tax forms give further information. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you need outside assistance.

bank has been applied for.

A modern city-type sewage disposal plant is being projected.

A new residential addition is being planned to make room for two hundred additional privately owned homes.

Budget for the current year for new plant buildings and automatic machinery is approximately one million dollars, according to officials of Southern Pine Lumber Company, Pineland's principle industry. 1956 expenditures are part of a long range program already in progress. Objectives are to apply automation to the ultimate degree already achieved at Southern Pine's other plant in Diboll, Texas, in order to achieve even greater efficiency and job security, according to Temple Webber, chairman of the board.

The new building material store will be number thirty five in a line of Temple yards scattered over Texas.

There will be a no more complete modern yard in the state when this one is built," according to D. C. McNair, general manager of Temple Lumber Co. which is the retail division of Southern Pine Lumber Co., "We made a study of Pineland and the surrounding area and feel that there is a real need for another source of quality building materials and complete home building service."

Lumbermen's Investment Corporation, according to McNair, and other agencies, intend to attract FHA, VA and building and loan financing into the area.

By re-engineering fuel preparation machinery, inexpensive electric power man be generated for the whole region as well as for Pineland's forest product industry. Power people are being interested in this possibility, according to E. G. Prud'homme, Southern Pine's plant manager at Pineland. It is hoped some announcement can be made in the near future.

A new bank on the town square organized and owned largely by local Sabine County individuals depends on approval of the State banking officials, according to Temple Webber.

It is hoped, he said, that a $50,000 bank will be authorized to meet the credit needs of our Pineland businesses and individuals.

Final plans are being drawn for a modern sewage disposal system according to J. O. Booker, civil engineer for Southern Pine Lumber Company.

Cooperating with the city of Pineland, Booker is projecting a plant which will provide for not only the present town but for a fast growing city twice Pineland's present size.

Streets and sewers and all utilities will be briught into a new residential area being planned for Pineland's immediate growth and beautification, according to Prud'homme.

An attractive subdivision of winding streets and individual landscaping will provide Pineland with home neighbors not often found in smaller towns. ....

It is contemplated that Lumbermen's Investment Corporation and other agencies, encouraged by local leaders, will make possible adequte FHA, VA and conventional financing to provide new impetus to private home ownership.

Color TV Simple To Tune

CHICAGO — Color television now is so simple that a child can tune it. Little Linda Furnari shows how easy it is to tune a Raytheon 21-inch console to her favorite color telecast. Receivers are easily installed and easily operated. There are only two additional controls, "color" and "hue," and the sets receive both color and black and white signals. The television industry has predicted that between 300,000 and 500,000 color sets will be sold this year.

GOOD INVESTMENT FOR AMERICA'S FUTURE!

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Someone who likes to figure once figured that approximately 600 million travel snapshots are taken each year by American vacationers. This comes to an impressive pile of prints and a lot of I-hope-it-comes-outs.

Seriously, taking photos on your vacation trip is a fine idea. Photography is a satisfying and stimulating hobby. Here are some hints to help you catch your vacation fun in pictures you can enjoy long after the trip is over.

Be sure to have your camera carefully checked before starting out. The time it takes for repairs and adjustments is usually out of the question once you're on the road. It's a good idea to have the camera within easy reach—not packed away in a suitcase. You never know what interesting things you'll see while driving and you'll want to be prepared to make the shot quickly. Naturally be sure you always have film in the camera. When you're finished with one roll, load another right away.

Another suggestion: carry a small notebook with you and make notes on the photos you take. Identify people, places and things—and mark the date. Number your rolls (with pencil on the cardboard container) and match these numbers with your notes. Be sure to tell the person who processes your film to keep the negatives with the proper container. When you're pasting the pictures in an album later on, you'll welcome this identifying material and can use it to write captions.

You'll find that taking pictures is easier now than it ever was. Cameras are better, and generally cheaper. Also, film, both color and black-and-white, is faster—enabling you to take photos even if the light conditions are not too good.

This year, take a camera on your motoring vacation. It'll add to the fun, and help you re-live the trip later on.

NO COMMENT

WASHINGTON — Jubilation among Republicans over Mr. Eisenhower's announcement that he will seek reelection has now given way to a more deliberate look at the political problems. ....

At first blush, Mr. Eisenhower's personal popularity — plus the achievements of his first 3 years—should assure his reelection. Some 'ifs' are inherent: — Defection of the farmers, as in 1948; effectiveness of union labor's political organization; effect of the "health" issue.

The end of Korean fighting — a $400 billion national income—a $10 billion cut in federal expenditures — tax reduction — and prosperity with a stabilized dollar — these are powerful assets. And Eisenhower's legislative recommendations in the social welfare category have stripped the opposition of any real issues.

The presidential campaign, therefore, shapes up as a battle of personalities. Here the Democratic Party faces definite handicaps. Absent any unforeseeable upsets, the Republicans should have another four years to obtain their goals — world peace and re-establishing a real two-party system through rebuilding of the Republican party

But — and this is a serious but — the administration has had experience with a legislative branch controlled by the opposition party. It's frustrating—time consuming. And the outlook today for a Republican-controlled congress is less than a 50-bet.

Two Baptist Church To Hold Census

Bro. Don Turner, pastor of the First Baptist Church stated this week that a large map of Diboll has been secured by his church and the town divided into 10 sections. Each section has all houses located and numbered. When this census is complete Bro. Turner stated a group captain will be appointed over each section whose duty will be to keep up the census record of his section of Diboll.

It is our hope that when we have completed this census we will have a perpetual record that will show at a glance the religious status of every man, woman, boy and girl in Diboll. The Adult Department of the First Baptist Church is taking section Number One, which included all houses east of Highway 59 from the nursery to the Treating Plant Road. The Young Peoples Department will take Section 2 which includes the section west of Highway 59 and East of old highway from Village on the South to Treating Plant Road North. The Intermediate Department will take Section Four, which is all houses east of old highway and South of Diboll Loop to Loop 210 bounded by railroad on the West. The Second Baptist Church is taking Group 5 and 6 which are the sections of Loop 210 and Between Highway 59 and the Railroad.

Copestown is Designated as Section No. 3 and is being taken by the Junior Department of the First Baptist. The New Addition East of 59 is Section No. 8 and West of the Highway is Section 7, these are being taken by the Beginner and Primary Department. Lakeview Addition is as Section No. 9 and The Lakeview Mission will take this Census.

Section No. 10 includes both sides of Highway No. 59 from the Treating Plant Road Northward to Carl Pavlics house

HEARING BAD?

If so, you will be happy to know how we have improved the hearing and relieved those miserable head noises, caused by catarrh of the head, for thousands of people (many past 70) who have used our simple Elmo Palliative Home Treatment in the past 16 years. This may be the answer to your prayer. NOTHING TO WEAR.
Here are SOME of the symptoms that may likely be causing your catarrhal deafness and head noises: Head feels stopped up from mucus. Dropping of mucus in throat. Hawking and spitting. Mucus in nose or throat everyday. Hearing worse with a cold. Hear — but don't understand words. Hear better on clear days. Worse on rainy days. Head noises like crickets, bells, whistles, clicking, escaping steam or many other sounds.
If your condition is caused by catarrh of the head, you, too, may likely enjoy such wonderful relief as many others have reported. WRITE TODAY FOR PROOF AND 30 DAY TRIAL OFFER.

What do Tractors and Telephones have in common?

The telephone, like the tractor, is one of the handiest time and labor savers the farmer can use. Today, farmers buy, sell, get farm market reports by telephone. And we are working constantly to increase even further the value and usefulness of telephone service to the farmer.

C. T. JOHNSON

Austin, Texas—March 9—C. T. Johnson, who ran against Lt. Governor Ramsey in 1954 and since then has been pushing civil and criminal action in connection with Ramsey campaign advertising, announced Saturday he will make a second try for the office.

The 45-year old Austin insurance man and building contractor said he wants to have a part in "bringing the Texas Senate back to a position of wholesome respect."

He promised that if elected, he will keep under scrutiny the influence of senators who have been revealed as having accepted insurance company retainers as considering insurance reform legislation.

Johnson specifically referred to the Ramsey advertising expenditures which this week caused indictment of a man who placed the ads and said he could not recall who paid for them.

"The people should know by what influence the presiding officer of the Senate was elected to the office," Johnson said.

Recently, Texans have learned that thousands of dollars are spent to elect the incumbent lieutenant governor by persons unknown to the lieutenant governor, and the names of those donors of thousands of dollars are still withheld from the public.

Auto Inspections Lagging In Texas

WHEREAS, the unprecedented growth of the State of Texas, both in population and number of motor vehicles, has created a traffic load on the Texas Highway System far in excess of the ability of the presently developed system to carry with comfort, speed, and safety and

WHEREAS, the continued expansion of the economy of our State is directly dependent upon the availability of adequate motor vehicle transportation; and

WHEREAS, an expanded hiway program is demanded at the present time by these critical highway needs;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the membership of the Texas Good Roads Association, represented by its Executive Committee, assembled in Austin, this the 5th day of March, 1956, that the Texas delegation in the National Congress be urged to support to the fullest extent the immediate passage of the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956, expanded to meet the current needs of the nation; and, further, that in the passage of this Federal Aid Hiway Act all care be taken in all respects to preserve the integrity of state laws that have been so successful in operating the State Highway development program during the past thirty years.

Revival At Hand At First Baptist

Revival time is almost at hand at Diboll's First Baptist Church with Bro. J. N. Phillips of Henderson presiding as Evangelist for the revival which begins on Sunday, March 25. Services nite and morning will continue thru Easter Sunday, April First.

Brother Turner said today he felt that no finer preacher could be found than J. N. Phillips and a blessing to our city was assured by the coming of this fine preacher.

Traditional Easter Season Programs Heard On "Greatest Story Ever Told"

Radio's most honored program, "The Greatest Story Ever Told," will again present "The Crucifixion" on Palm Sunday, March 25, and "The Resurrection" on Easter Sunday, April 1. These two Easter programs have become traditional radio fare for the American public, this being the tenth year of its presentation.

The broadcasts, heard each Sunday at 5:30 p.m. (EST), over the ABC network, are most unusual in many respects. Though sponsored by one of the country's largest industrial organizations, The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, there are no commercial or institutional messages to mar the reverent feeling of the dramatization.

Baptist Group To Attend Meeting

Bro. Bill Saxton announced Sunday the Training Union is to meet at The Second Baptist church Houston, Friday, March 16. This meeting usually attended by from 3000, to 4000 Union workers from Texas and neighboring states has been one of the most helpful meetings in the promotion of Training Union Work that we have Brother Saxton stated. The authors of the programmaterial to be used in Training Union Work for the next quarter are present to present their programs and their ideas for promotion of Training Union Work. Dr. T. C. Gardner State Training Union Director is in charge of the program.

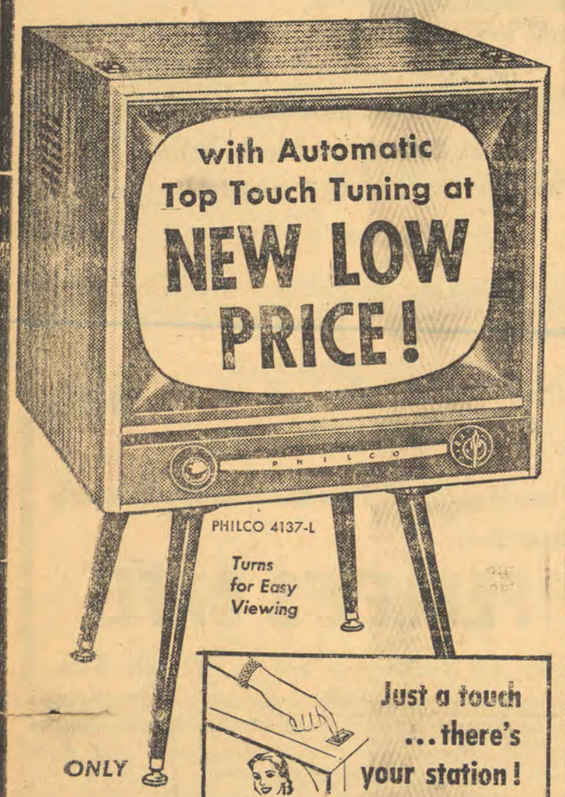

Bro. Saxton stated that he hopes to have about 3 carloads of workers from Diboll workers attending the meeting.
