Easter Revival Set At Methodist Church

Little "D"

REV. J. D. WEAVER has announced forthcoming Easter revival at First Methodist Church — Old Dibollian, C. A. KENNEDY, here on business for Lufkin insurance firm — MR. AND MRS W S STAFFORD visiting MRS. MARY LOU DURHAM— ERA NELL AUSTIN will soon handle Burke news for this publication — DAN FENLEY has formerly announced for re-election as constable — RILEY CARR helping friend with furniture moving.

Seldom do newspaper men accept gifts for a job they are doing. Such was not the case with this writer last week, however.

While gathering data for a special feature on Jim Richards, his daughter, Mrs. Harold Turner, was baking some of that home-made bread. Having an extra loaf hot out of the oven, Mrs. Turner said that if I hurried home with it, the bread surely would go good with some butter.

She was right. It was delicious.

When Jim Arnold flipped his car Saturday afternoon, half the population of Diboll must have driven down to see it. Or rather, they flew down.

An ambulance anwering the call came close to not making the call at all. Simply because cars would not yield the right of way, the skilled driver had to take a chance. It is a proven fact that ambulances do not make 'good time' because of the speed, but because of their emergency lights and sirene. They cannot make that good time as drivers refuse to let them pass.

Most ambulances are not — 'souped up.' They are stock automobiles, although they are kept in the best of trim so that they will respond properly when power is needel.

So if you want to prove that your new model, shiny, high-powered car will outrun an emergency vehicle - - don't It probably will, and the only thing you'll prove is that someone can die in the rear of an ambulanre enroute to the hospital.

Springtime is building time they say and Diboll is getting its share of new business establishments. No new big business is scheduled to locate here, but a lot of little ones will be just as effective.

By the end of this summer, employment in Diboll shouuld be at an all-time high due to the springtime increase in business construction.

While businesses are under discussion, it might be pointed out that Diboll merchants, plus our national advertisers, are the backbone of this publication.

Should their advertisements be jerked from these columns,— The News-Bulletin could not go to press.

That is the reason we harp on the subject: "It's good business to shop with your hometown merchant."

REV STANLEY VODICKA

Rev. J. D. Weaver of the First Methodist Church has announced that an Easter Revival will be in progress in Diboll April 1-8.

The general public is invited to hear the Rev. Stanley Vodicka, Jr., sing and preach in Revival services, each evening at 7:30 p.m. at the First Methodist, Rev. Weaver said.

Bro. Vodicka comes to us from Keltys where he is enjoying a good ministery.

"Bring your friends with you and enjoy these services," Bro. Weaver announced.

Kuykendall Speaks To Meeting

Austin—Jerome J. Kuykendall, chairman of the Federal Power Commission, will address the tenth annual meeting of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Dallas April 15, 16 and 17.

Kuykendall heads the agency with direct price control over gas producers as the result of the Presidential veto of the Harris Fullbright Bill. He will also speak at the annual banquet the evening of Monday April 16, and is expected to discuss what the future may hold for gas producers selling in interstate commerce.

School To Be In Several Events

Diboll Public Schools will participate in several forthcoming Interscholastic League events, according to high school principal Robert Ramsey.

In the first Sprint District Meet held at Hudson last Friday, girls of the Diboll Junior division won the district trophy. The Senior boys lost to the Corrigan team, while the Junior boys lost to Hudson.

Diboll will be entered in the Track and Field Meet at Huntsville on April 14.

The literary events section of the Interscholastic League will be held at Corrigan, April 7.

There, such scholastic material as story-telling, debate, and shorthand, and declamation will form the competition.

The softball meet also sponsored by the League will be held in Diboll May 5, Mr. Ramsey said, and will wind up the League meets for this spring.

1st Baptist Church Seeks Attendance

The First Baptist Church will seek to have 250 in the Sunday school this Sunday as they again use the 'Pack-A-Pew' Plan that proved so successful last year. Each row of seats in the auditorium has been assigned to a row captain and they will be responsible for filling that row of seats.

Sunday will be the opening day of the Revival Meeting that will bring Rev. J N Phillips to Diboll as the Evangelist. Bro. Phillips, a native of Hazzard, Kentucky, was a raillroad man when he surrendered his life to preach the Gospel. Never one to do anything half way, Bro. Phillips reads Greek, Hebrew, and German and makes his sermon notes in four notes and in those languages to keep himself refreshed on their usage. Yet for all his learning he has an appeal to the layman that is unique.

Brother Turner, pastor of the First Baptist Church, told your reporter that the public was so cordially invited to attend all the services.

NO COMMENT

WASHINGTON — Give-away programs are not unpopular— not in election years. And the most popular — politically — in 1956 is the so-called social security.

Look at the record.

First — A bill to provide disability benefits to persons over 50 and to reduce the retirement age of women to 62. Disability isn't defined. Total cost of the bill — estimated at $600 million per year — would rise rapidly.

Second — Old age assistance started in 1936 as a transition, interim move to care for needy, aged folks not eligible for retirement insurance. It's now is proposed to step up federal payments. Estimated cost for 1957 —$185 million. Forty six senators have endorsed it.

Third — Retirement for railroad workers — increased benefits — and income tax deduction for employee withholding tax contributions. Estimated cost to tax payers — $70 million plus higher payroll taxes on railroads. If extended to non railroad employee contributions under social security a natural extension cost to Uncle Sam and the taxpayer — $600 to $700 million annually.

Fourth — Government employees. Liberalized retirement benefits proposed to cost over $500 million annually. Concurrent proposals to raise compulsory retirement age above 70— while reducing retirement age of women (in private employment) to 62. This — despite the shocking revelation that government retirement fund now suffers a $13.5 billion deficit — according to House appropriations committee members — because of the past failures to make agreed upon federal government contributions.

A chicken feather is handy for brushing out a crumb of a pop-up toaster.

Lakeview To Have Fourth Homecoming

Residents of the Lakeview Addition will celebrate their fourth annual Homecoming here on Easter Sunday, April 1.

Among events to be held that day will be sunrise services and an afternoon Easteregg hunt for the kiddies, reported members of the Lakeview Baptist Church. Rev. J. R. Kyle is assistant pastor to Bro. Don Turner at the church.

The Lakeview church was opened on Easter Sunday just four short years ago. Brother Zachary gave the first sermon in the building.

Members of the church report that Sunday School enrollment has increased from 22 to a bulging 80 during the past four years.

Members urge the general public to attend the Homecoming activities.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 6
Deductions Reduce Your Income Tax

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

"Deduction" is the taxpayer's favorite word. Every dollar you can deduct in figuring your tax puts twenty cents to ninety-one cents in your pocket, depending upon the tax bracket you're in.

Medical deductions were discussed in a previous article. Here are some of the other deductions you may be able to take if you itemize them instead of using the short 1040A form or the standard 10% deduction:

Contributions

You can deduct your contributions to religious, charitable, scientific, literary and educational organizations, and to non-profit cemeteries.

Include contributions of goods at their fair value, as well as cash, but not your personal services (blood donations are regarded as a personal service and not deductible).

If you contribute stocks, real estate or other property, you can deduct their value at the time of the gift, even if it is considerably more than the original cost to you.

You are ordinarily not permitted to deduct a contribution which you have only pledged and not paid during the tax year.

You can deduct up to 20% of your income for any eligible charitable contributions, and up to 30% if at least 10% was in gifts to religious organizations, schools or hospitals.

Interest and Taxes

Interest you pay on personal loans and other indebtedness is deductible.

If there is a mortgage on your home, be sure to find out what part of your payments is interest and deduct it on your tax return. The same applies to automobile financing and installment purchases.

If some of your credit buying involves "carrying charges" instead of specified interest, you are allowed to deduct such charges up to 6% of the average monthly unpaid balance if they are listed separately in your contract or bills.

Most taxes you paid for yourself or a member of your household, except federal taxes, are deductible. However taxes are not deductible when included in the price and not separately charged to the customer.

"Baby-sitter" Deduction

If you paid someone to care for your child under 12 because that was necessary while you were at work, you may be entitled to a "child care" deduction of as much as $600. This deduction also applies to the care of any dependent who was mentally or physically incapacitated. Check the instructions to see whether you qualify.

Storms, Floods, Fires

Don't overlook deductions for losses due to storms, fires, floods, theft, and accidents not due to your own negligence.

The way to figure such losses is explained in the instructions. Any insurance or other compensation you may have received for the damage must be subtracted from the amount of loss.

Miscellaneous deductions to which you may be entitled include union dues, purchase of necessary tools of your trade, fees to employment agencies, expenses you incurred for the benefit of your employer, and some alimony payments.

The instructions that come with your tax forms give further information. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you need outside assistance.

McCurry, Franks Appointed 'Jack Baseball Coaches; Play Chester Here Friday Night At 7:30 P.M.

Bobby McCurry and Bennie Franks assumed coaching duties of Diboll High School Baseball team Monday afternoon,— succeeding Johnny Waldie, who had worked the team earlier in the season.

The Lumberjacks were unable to play two games last week with Livingston. It was reported that one of the games was cancelled, while a make-up game will be played later in the year for Friday's game. Neither game could be played anyway because of rain, said high school principal Robert Ramsey.

McCurry, presently Vocational Agriculture teacher at DHS has played baseball with A and M and with numerous semi-pro— outfits. Mr. Franks head basketball coach, has dubbed as both baseball and football coach during the past five years.

MET GROVETON TUES.

The schedule called for the Jacks to meet Groveton Tuesday in a non conference tilt. If all players are out for practice and further difficulties do not arise, the locals will engage the Chester Yellowjackets here at Miller Park Friday night at :30 p.m.

FIRST DISTRICT

McCurry and Franks will pit Diboll against Hudson here in the first District 49B game, on April 6. All district games played at Diboll will begin at 8 p. m. Most games played in opponents parks will be afternoon games.

Women's Demo Committee Speaks

"When Governor Shivers put his gimmick 'Interpostion' into Texas politics as a dominant issue in the precinct conventions, the Texas Democratic Women's State Committee decided to offer a more realisteic issue facing frankly the bold corruption in government both in Austin and Washington" Mrs. Jud Collier, Chairman of the Committee explained that the resolution passed by the meeting in Amarillo, embodied that issue. Here is the resolution:

WHEREAS the unfolding story of corruption in our State and Federal governments is so horrifying to decent, honest citizens that confusion and suspicion cloud the issues of the day; and WHEREAS officials in high — places—have resorted to percentages to minimize the bribery and stealing by officials; and WHEREAS the grand juries and courts are dealing most leniently with culprits taken in guilt; and

WHEREAS the choice of the Democratic National Convention will probably be the next President of the United States — which makes the selection of the delegates to that Convention a matter of high political importance; therefore be it

RESOLVED that the precinct conventions be requested to instruct their delegates to work for a delegation to Chicago of plain, honest men and women, none of whom occupy official position in either State or Federal government; and all of be of known integrity.

"The disgraceful unscrupulous effort to stir up racial trouble in order to divert attention from the Veterans land scandals, the insurance scandals, the handsome gifts to persons in office and the neglect of public business in favor of Hollwood and other entertaining ventures extends to both the May and July convention and is designed to create great emotional disturbances. We think our resolution is the answer," Mrs. Collier stated.

Judge not, and ye shall not be judged; condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned; forgive, and ye shall be forgiven. —(St. Luke 6, 37.)

When we pray God for forgiveness, do we first in our hearts forgive those we feel have wronged us? Do we judge and condemn others for errors and shortcomings without confessing our own? Let us always remember what Christ Jesus said of the greatest virtue—charity.

125 YEARS OF WIRE DIE PROGRESS

Progress in the 125 year history of wire drawing in America is dramatized in these old and new dies for drawing wire. Wire is made by drawing it through successively smaller holes in dies such as these until it is reduced to the desired diameter.

ABOVE are a set of cast iron dies used by Ichabod Washburn in drawing wire in Worcester, Mass., in 1840. Abrasive action of the wire drawn through the dies quickly enlarged the hole. The die then had to be used for a larger sized wire and when the hole became too large it had to be discarded. An estimated 70 to 80 pounds of wire could be drawn through a single die hole before it was too worn and had to be switched to a larger diameter. Such dies and all others up to the 1920's very often were made and maintained by the wire drawer himself.

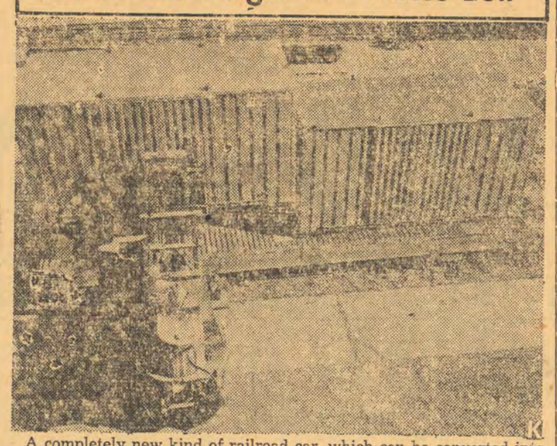

BELOW are modern-day tungsten carbide dies used by American Steel & Wire Division of U. S. Steel Corp., the successor to Mr. Washburn. The cross section shows the tungsten die material which, being very brittle, is imbedded in a steel jacket to give it strength. The opening in the die is ground to precision finish with diamond dust. The modern die came into use in the wire industry in the late "twenties." The small die above will draw 2,000 pounds or over 6,000,000 feet of wire without change. Larger dies of about an inch in diameter will draw 1,000 tons or about 750,000 feet before change is required.

Engineers Develop New Methods

While thoughts of skyscrapers and bridges come to mind when engineered type structures are mentioned, houses, too, can be the products of engineered design. A case in point is the plank and beam system of residential construction, which has brought economies up to 25 percent in the basic cost of the local house.

Engineered design which provides more efficient distribution of the roof loads, permits a new clean simple structure requiring only a few parts.

All-In-One Freight Car Makes Bow

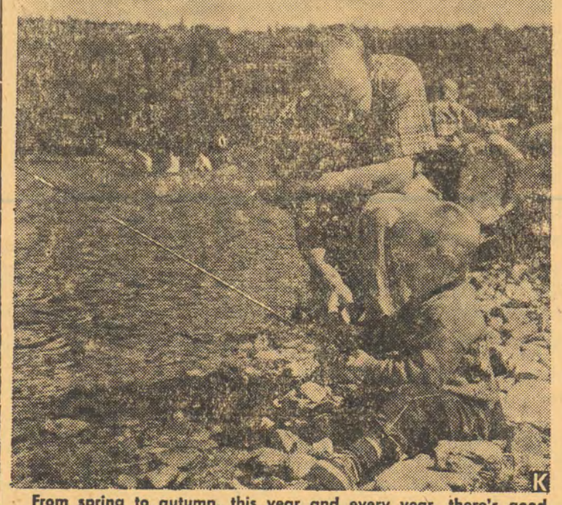

A completely new kind of railroad car, which can be converted into any type of freight car, will save money for railroads—and shippers—and make railroad freight operations faster and more flexible than ever.

The new ADAPTO car costs and weighs about half as much as conventional railroad cars with comparable equipment. It can carry more than three times its own weight, compared to the average freight car's limit of twice its own weight. The ADAPTO can serve as a tank car, box car, refrigerator car or even caboose—and has the riding qualities of a passenger car. It is especially adapted to the new trailer-on-flat-car (TOFC) operation.

Because of its quick conversion into any type of freight car, it will make the hauling of empty cars almost unnecessary. One more instance of how America's century-old railway industry is adapting itself to modern needs!

Produced by the American Car and Foundry Division of ACF Industries, Inc., the new railroad car will shortly be placed in mass production.

Fishing Fun in Canada

From spring to autumn, this year and every year, there's good fishing to be found in Canada. The finest angling waters in North America are in the ten Canadian provinces. This little fisherman is trying to catch a big one in Bennett Lake at Fundy National Park, New Brunswick. Details on where and when to fish in Canada are available for the asking from the Canadian Government Travel Bureau, Ottawa, Canada.

Gen. Lewis Griffing Gets Promotion

Major General Lewis S. Griffing, chief of the Texas Military District, has been promoted from the rank of brigadier general to the two star rank of a major general in Austin.

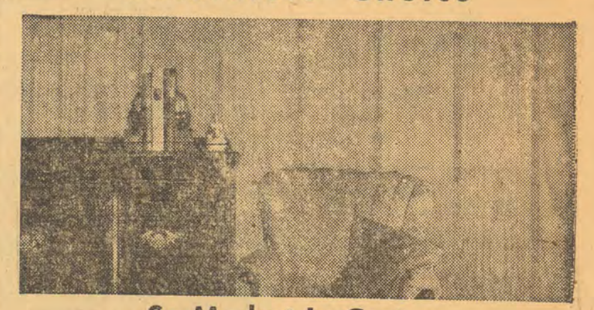

This new rank may well reflect the Department of the Army increasing emphasis on the importance of Reserve Forces in the National Defense program. Texas is now one of the few states having a major general in command of Army Reserve activities and indicators of the increased responsibilities of the military districts.

It Is The Law In. . . TEXAS

In this unpredictable life of ours, it is the law's business to take a long look into the future and say what would 'happen if.'

For in your contracts, leases, wills, insurance policies, escrow and the like, you had better say what would "happen if" some of your best laid plans go awry. Such events the law calls "calls "contingencies."

Who gets the "earnest money" you put down, if you cannot go through with buying the house? What if you want to pay up that loan and save interest?

The law is wise but it cannot do your thinking for you. It settles such questions — but not always to your liking. If you do not make a will, the law says who shall get your property.

Ontario: Canada's Variety Vacationland

Just across the Great Lakes, the Province of Ontario takes claim to being "Canada's Variety Vacationland," due to the diversity of its attractions for the vacationer; in 1955, it is estimated 18 million U.S. vacationers spent their holidays in Ontario, taking advantage of the Province's 250,000 lakes and rivers, abounding with fish, its hunting facilities in fall and chiefly the resort and lakeland areas where several thousand fine resorts operate. Famed areas such as Muskoka Lakes, Parry Sound, Haliburton, Kenora, the Lake-of-the-Woods hold many attractions for the visitors, the season opening in mid-May and continuing to September. Early Spring, in May brings thousands to view the blossoms of the famed Niagara peninsula, "the garden of Canada," where all types of fruits and vegetables abound. Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

This column is for the ladies who are planning vacation trips alone. The popularity of one-woman vacation trips by car is increasing each year — a sign that they are successful. I travel alone much of the time, and I have discovered a number of ways to dispell distaff difficulties on the trip.

Have confidence in yourself and in your ability to make all necessary arrangements en route. Be sure your car is in A-1 condition before you leave. I'd suggest a complete lubrication job and change of oil. Also, have the steering gear, generator, battery, brakes, tires and head and tail lights thoroughly checked.

The fear of boredom seems to figure in the lone woman's concept of car travel. This can be solved in a number of ways—listening to the radio, or stopping off at interesting places to observe new scenery and note the different styles of architecture. Another idea is to drop in on old friends—or friends of friends — along the way. This might be a good chance, too, to track down distant or long-lost relatives!

A word of caution: never pick up hitchhikers no matter how harmless they may look. Avoid driving late at night over lonely stretches of road. End your driving day around 4 or 5 o'clock. This will give you time to find a good room in a hotel or motel, and help you to avoid fatigue. Always stay at well-recognized and respected lodgings.

For "musts" on your trip, don't forget your driver's license and certificate of title. Identification cards and travelers checks can be useful.

You're on your way ladies! Safe journeying and—happy vacationing!

New Travel Map For Texas Planned

Austin—The new 1956 edition of the Official Highway Travel Map is now available, D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, announced in Austin today.

The map has many new features and contains a wealth of information on Texas, Greer said. Most of the topographical relief was removed from the map last year so that more essential information can be read easily and quickly. The growth of the Texas Highway System at the rate of about 3,000 miles a year has made it necessary to gradually remove some of the less important information to make room for the increased mileage, he said.

Your official state inspection station reminds you that you have only until April 15 to obtain your new sticker. Don't wait until the last minute. Do it now!

HEALTH INFORMATION FOUNDATION REPORTS ON LONGER LIFE-SPAN

NEW YORK, N. Y.—1,500,000 Americans were alive in 1950 who would have died that year had the 1900 mortality rates prevailed.

This illustrates the amazing decline in mortality in this country since the turn-of-the-century, according to Progress in Health Services, a monthly statistical bulletin published by Health Information Foundation. Dramatic advances in medicine, the development of new drugs and better equipped hospitals are credited with the vast improvement and with extending life expectancy from 47 years to an estimated 69.

Persons of all ages have benefited, but especially children under 15. The mortality decline nationwide for all ages has been an unprecedented 46 percent. Lined areas in the graph above show actual deaths for each age group; solid areas show the number of deaths which would have occurred had 1900 death rates still prevailed.

Now that many infectious and childhood diseases have been conquered or controlled, future declines in mortality, according to Health Information Foundation will most likely result from research in the two leading causes of death: heart disease and cancer.

They've Done It!

Since 80 per cent of all cooking is done on the top of the stove, the recent introduction of automatic top-burner temperature regulation is the biggest news in gas range design since the invention of oven heat controls.

Using the new-type gas range, a housewife now can pre-set the exact temperature needed for the most delicate cooking operation and be absolutely sure the food won't be overcooked, undercooked or burned.

The very instant the heat under the cooking utensil begins to exceed the dialed temperature, the gas flame automatically diminishes to maintain an even heat. If a draft of air passes the sensing element in the center of the burner, or the lifting of a lid releases heat from the utensil, or something cold is added to the food cooking in the pan, the flame's intensity automatically increases.

Effectiveness of the new gas-range feature, demonstrated above, shows that a single drop of water is enough to activate the automatic "feeler" and bring the flame up to a leveling temperature.

BASEBALL — The Sporting News — BASEBALL
THE BASE BALL PAPER OF THE WORLD

SPORTS FLASHES

The Cincinnati Reds, training at Tampa, Fla, have a rare rookie this spring. The young man isn't being given a major league tryout, in a manner of the word. He's reversing the process — he's putting major league ball on trial. If he likes it, he'll consider playing in the big leagues.

The name of this extraordinary young man, is Bill Werber. Yes, the name has been heard in baseball before. Young Bill is the son of Bill Werber, Sr., who played with the Yankies, Red Sox and Athletics. The elder Werber led the American League in base stealing and was a hero with the Cincinnati pennant winners in 1939.

Young Werber really is a new one. He not only has turned down a half dozen offers of bonus contracts, but hasn't even signed with the Reds. At the age of 25, with a stretch in the Marines behind him, he has a Duke University diploma. He's still weighing a career in baseball against another in finance and insurance. He already has been accepted for admission to the famed Wharton School of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania.

But with his background, the pull of baseball is strong in him, according to his father. The elder Werber is in a good position to give the young man advice. He not only starred in baseball but has starred in his chosen field of insurance. He's the head of an important brokerage concern.

Father Werber in a talk with a correspondent for The Sporting News, says young Bill has been making his own decisions since he was 12 or 13. "I didn't persuade him to go to Duke University like I did," he said, "It was his own choice. I didn't even suggest the branch of the service he should enter. He picked the Marines himself.

Young Bill left some lasting impressions at Duke. Only 3 balls have ever been hit over the hedges in right field for a homer at Duke Park. Werber hit 2 of them. He's almost an ideal physical specimen, standing six feet two and weighing 185.

OLD AND NEW WIRE MACHINES

There are 125 years of advancement between these two wire-drawing machines. ABOVE is the first wire drawing frame designed by Ichabod Washburn who established the first successful wire drawing business in America in 1831 in Worcester, Mass. It was considered marvelous for its ability to draw 2,500 pounds of wire from sunrise to sunset.

BELOW is a wire drawing machine recently installed by American Steel & Wire, successors to Mr. Washburn's firm. Its six rotating blocks draw wire through six tungsten carbide dies at a rate up to 850 feet per minute—20,000 pounds in an eight-hour shift. The inset of six cross sections shows the successive reductions made by this machine. They total a 70 per cent reduction in area.

Sample of the 100,000,000 colorful '56 Easter Seals mailed in Texas this week is discussed by Mrs. Henry J. Martyn, Jr. (left) and Mrs. Temple J. Barcafer, typical volunteers among the hundreds of Texans who annually give their spare time during the Lenten season for preparation of the huge Texas mailing. The 1956 Easter Seal Appeal, which opened March 10, will send the Seals into 1,000,000 Texas homes with an appeal for funds to aid thousands of crippled Texans. Mmes. Martyn and Barcafer are officers of the Women of Rotary Club of Dallas, one of the many organized service groups over the state which help in preparation of the Easter Seals.

Car Tag Deadline Draws Near Here

There is no connection between the purchase of automobile license tags and the safety inspection of passenger vehicles Executive Director G C Morris of the Highway Safety Council of Texas reminded motorists today.

"One reported reason for the delay of some motorists in having their automobiles inspected this year seems to be a miunderstanding about new license plate and safety inspection stickers being issued together," Morris said. "There is no connection—whatsoever."

Deadline for purchase of 1956 license plates is April 1, Morris pointed out, and the inspection deadline is April 15.

"It is not necessary,' he added, 'to show any certificate of inspection to secure license."
