Diboll -- The Lumber and Wood Products Capitol Of The South. Home Of The Temple Industries

Ground Observer Unit Organized; Pate, Supervisor

The first aircraft ground observors activities for this area were enacted Sunday April 29 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. with four volunteers assisting, according to Post Supervisor W. F. Pate.

This activity will be carried out once each month from now until a crew of volunteers are trained to do this sort of work, along with reporting unidentified aircraft in this vicinity.

Twenty volunteers are needed so that Diboll can be listed for a ground observor school, Pate said.

In a recent conversation with Capt. Leon B. Patton of the USAF in New Orleans, Pate said that the GOC would like to have an observervor's shack built so that it can be equipped by the government with adequate equipment for both spotting and in plotting flights of known and unidentified aircraft.

"This work could be very important to us," Pate told the N-B, "Since I am told that we—Diboll—are in the air current which moves from Russia to the large industrial points around Houston, Baytown, etc. We have had two volunteers already and I certainly hope we can recruit others. Observors work has now turned out very interesting fo me although my experience has been limited. I would like to see other Dibollians come out and help us with this work."

It seems that interest is at a low ebb for everything today but television.

A few more than 100 persons attended the annual Spring concert at the high school gym on Friday night, a small number indeed to hear the efforts of the best high school band has ever had.

Victor Roper mixed them up beautifully as he offered marches, pop tunes, and easy rhythm numbers to the audience.

For Roper this was his last appearance as a band director in Diboll. He leaves at the end of school for a job in Houston.

Vic has done a masterful job in the short time he has had the DHS band. With only one hour a day in which to rehearse the band, his job he has certainly accomplished much.

The kids performed very well —well enough to warrant a — much — much larger audience than attended the concert Friday night!

Every week or so we carry traffic mats in the News-Bulletin. All of you have seen them I'm sure. Many of them are so self-explanatory, and others are captioned or carry a short editorial.

These mats are distributed by the Texas Press Association as a public service. The Association figures that the cost of these mats is justified if just one person's life may be saved as a result of seeing . . . and believing in . . . just one of them.

Death is a terrible thing when it comes as a result of a violent auto crash. We hope our traffic mats cause YOU to be more careful on the open road.

Recently, news items from this newspaper have been discussed on KTRE-TV's newest program, "Hamp's Hi-Lites." The program is on each Friday night at 8:45 p.m.

The program was a hit from the beginning, since narrator—Hampton Keathley sticks to the news pertaining to our immediate area. This in itself makes it a refreshing program, since I for one am tired of hearing so much national and international news.

Recent visitors in the Frank Smith home were Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Williams and Betty of Beaumont. Clifford Smith of San Antonio also visited his parents recently.

Jack Armstead Turns First Spade Full

Jack Armstead turned the first shovel of earth Saturday afternoon in ground breaking ceremonies that signaled start of construction on the Shiloh Baptist Church here.

Ground breaking ceremonies were opened at 3 p.m. Saturday afternoon with several songs by the attending citizens. The song, and spirituals, were led by C. R. Hunt.

Professor Jackson introduced the principal speakker, Arthur Temple, Jr., president of Southern Pine Lumber Company. Mr. Temple praised the Negro citizenery here for the important part they have played in the building of Diboll.

Appreciation talks were then given by Will Canada and Thomas Cosey, as they thanked Mr. Temple for his help in raising funds for the new church.

The old Shiloh Baptist church stood for some 50 years in the same location where the new—$30,000 building will be erected, accrding to Fund Chairman Finis Henderson. Citizens raised about $10,000 in cash during the last few years, $3,000 of which was raised during the last eight months.

(Spl.)—Joaquin High School was suspended from football in Interscholastic League play at a hearing Tuesday before the Texas Interscholastic League Committee, according to an Associated Press report from Austin.

For playing ineligible boys the last season, Joaquin was suspended in football for a minimum of one year. The suspension will continue unless the school board can convince the league it will enforce the rules and keep proper records.

Dean James R. D. Eddy, the committee chairman, announced the decisions.

Joaquin was scheduled to play the Diboll Lumberjacks in District play next year.

Johnnie McClendon Gives Resignation

(Spl.) — Johnnie McClendon, Alto High School coach for the past two years, has tendered his resignation to the school board there, effective at the end of the school term.

Mr. McClendon has accepted the position as head coach of the New Boston High School. The football team in that school now plays in AA competition.

Ownership Of Taxable Property Not Required Of Voters In Burke-Diboll Election On May 12

D. D. (Dred) DEVEREAUX is shown as he is about to feed and water his 50 pair of quail. Grazing pens and individual laying houses are shown in the background. Mr. Devereaux is standing in the center of his beautiful flower garden.

One row of individual quail pens are shown here. Birds will be kept in these pens until October, when they will be turned into the grazing plains. Most of the 35 to 40 hens in these pens will lay at least 150 eggs this year, with some laying 180 or more. Mr. Devereaux, a retired Southern Pine construction foreman, raises the birds as a hobby, although he has several thousand dollars invested in the p oject.

Colorful Construction Boss Now Raises Quail; With S.P. 43 Years

BY BETH DURHAM

One of the most colorful personalities in Diboll is D. D. (Dred) Devereaux.

Many stories about this most colorful of construction men are fast becoming legend with folks in and around Diboll. His work for Southern Pine and TSE Railroad almost hold a complete story of the progress of a town.

Dred Devereaux's life in Diboll started in the year 1910. He moved here as a construction foreman from his home in Milam County, Texas. He held the same job for 43 years, but the responsibility of construction work in Diboll changed and then rose to new heights each day that Mr. Devereaux worked.

HISTORY

The construction jobs that D. D. Devereaux engineered here have been related time and again. But counting the exact number of projects that have been completed under his direction—would be an impossible task.

Dry kilns, skidways, mill remodeling, machine installation, road construction, and a hundred other projects have been started and completed under the man's supervision. Generally, until recent years, these jobs were done without the help of blueprints or trained engineers.

THE WORK BEGINS

When Dred Devereaux retired as an active employee from the Southern Pine Co. three years ago, it was his intention to sit back and relax the rest of his life.

As he puts it though; "the work began the day I retired". Working for his wife around the house, Mr. Devereaux soon had a hobby.

So, last year, Dred bought a few pair of quail. That stey, in little more than a year's time, has grown to much larger proportions: to the extent of a $3,000 investment in equipment and housing facilities alone.

SLOW AND TEDIOUS

Raising quail is a slow and painstaking job. It requires a sanitary procedure that must be followed to the nth degree if a select flock is to be marketed.

Starting with only a few pair of birds, Mr. Devereaux this year expects to raise at least 2,500 birds. He says that thirty-five of his hens will lay not less than 150 eggs this season.

Contrary to the belief that the birds weigh a lot, Mr. Devereaux said his quail would dress in the neighborhood of 8.9 ounces. Quail are now marketing for about $15 to $18 per dozen. Other species of this bird will be of higher weight. The blue quail was cited as an example.

SANITATION

A sanitation procedure is a must, says Mr. Dred. The pens in which birds are now kept must be cleaned and sterilized once each week. The ground around the pens must be sprayed twice a week. Water and the food dispensers must also be sterilized twice a week.

The birds will be kept in their special pens until October, when they are turned out into three large grazing plains, located adjacent to the pens. Shelters are provided at each end of the grazing plains so that birds may go in and out as they please.

Quail are delicate and easily disturbed by strangers. They soon become accustomed to being fed by one person, however.

HIS FAMILY

Dred Devereaux moved his family to Diboll in 1911. He and his wife Annie have two girls and one boy. Jack Devereaux is now in Flagstaff, Arizona. Pauline Holleman lives with her family in Groveton Texas, where her husband is a car dealer. Etheldred Atmer resides in Corrigan, Texas.

SUMMING UP

To sum it all up, D. D. Devereaux has had a long and colorful career in his work for the Southern Pine Co. and TSE — A career that he nor his friends will soon forget.

Mr. Dred labored many hours in the field of construction. . . And although the era of construction know-how, common sense, and an eagle eye has now passed into the hands of super engineers, Dred Devereaux will long be remembered in Diboll as with Southern Pine for his feats of creative building.

Meanwhile, he continues to raise some of the finest quail to be found in East Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pavlic returned from a vacation trip that took them to points in Mississippi and other Southern states.

Mistake Made In N-B Story Of April 19, Pate Declares

According to Supt. W. F. Pate of the Diboll School System, a mistake was made in the story which appeared in this newspaper on April 19 in regard to requirements of voters in the consolidation election scheduled for May 12.

Mr. Pate told the News-Bulletin that it is not necessary for citizens in the Burke-Diboll area to have taxable property listed on the tax roll of one of the two school districts, as was reported in the April 19 issue of this paper. He said further, that he had in mind the rules for bond elections, in which case all voters must have taxable property listed.

At the insistence of several potential voters in both districts, Mr. Pate said that he consulted with the County Attorney and County Judge on the matter.

Then, seeking a clearer definition of the law on the matter, Mr. Pate said that he wrote Mr. George Cooper, who handles law problems for the school during bond elections, etc. Mr. Cooper referred the case to the law firm of Dumas, Huguenin and Boothman, and the resulting letter—to Mr. Pate this week. The superintendent said he felt this should make perfectly clear the law concerning the important May 12 election.

DEAR MR. PATE:

We are writing you at the request of Mr. George Cooper to advise you as to the qualifications of voters in the school consolidation election to be held in your county on May 12th, 1956.

Provided that this restriction shall not apply to officers of the National Guard of Texas, the National Guard Reserve, the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, nor to enlisted men of the National Guard the National Guard Reserve, and the Organized Reserves of the United States, nor to retired officers of the United States Army, Navy, and Marine Corps, or retired warrant officers and retired enlisted men of the United States Army, Navy and Marine Corps.

"ART. 5.02: Qualification and requirements for voting.

If such a voter shall have lost or misplaced said tax receipts, he or she shall be entitled to vote upon making and leaving with the judge of the election an affidavit that such tax was paid by him or her, or by his wife or by her husband during the time allowed by law preceding such election at which he or she offers to vote, and that said receipt has been lost, misplaced, or left af home.

The provisions of this section as to casting ballots shall apply to all elections including general, special, and primary elections; provided that a city poll tax shall not be required to vote in any election in this State except in city elections.'

We trust that the foregoing answers your question. If you need additional information, — please do not hesitate to call us.

New Floor Paint Can't Corner You

(Left) Nancy Ann Miller isn't as trapped as it seems. Even though she's painted herself into a corner, she won't have to spend the weekend in her basement. That's because Luminall's new Concrete Floor Paint, made with Acrypolyrene, dries in only 20 to 40 minutes. The paint greatly simplifies floor painting, too. It comes ready-to-use, and requires no mixing. Completely alkali-resistant, it requires no pre-painting acid wash to prepare the surface. (Right) Just 20 minutes later, Nancy pops out of her corner to finish the job. During her brief "paint break," she suffered no discomfort. The new Concrete Floor Paint has no toxic odors. It's also non-flammable, so there's no danger from smoking. The long-handled floor brush eliminates stooping or kneeling, and permits Nancy to brush in the first coat, as suggested by the directions. The paint is available at local paint stores.

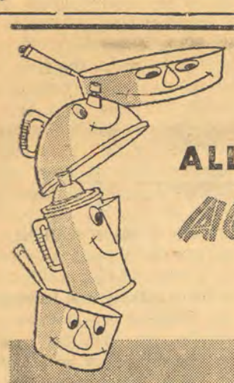

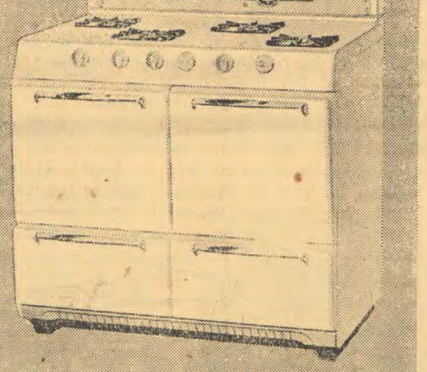

Five and a half million small fry were enrolled in kindergartens this year, a 40 pct. increase over 1950.

Local Band Group Gives Concert

BY BETH DURHAM

Slightly more than 100 persons attended the annual Spring Band Concert at the high school gym Friday night.

Admission of 25c and 50c was charged for the first time since the concerts were originated.

The program lasted less than an hour as Victor Roper's pupils opened with a march "Them Basses" and closed with a grand mach, "March Triumphal."

Such popular tunes as "See You Later, Alligator," "A Teen Age Prayer," and "Lisbon Antigua' were presented.

The 40-piece aggregation performed well to the audience.

They have made important strides since the band was revived six years ago. The band was discontinued during the war and was revived in 1949 by the late Mr. Matthews.

Pony Little League Officials To Meet

....Managers and officers of this year's combined Pony-Little League meet today for purpose of player selection and assignment of players to their teams, league President Calvin Lawrence said today.

Some 150 boys are expected to be on hand for the 1956 assignments. This number also includes 'farm club' players who are too young to play on any of the regular clubs.

Lawrence said that a definite announcement will be made concerning managers, although the most of last year's managers will probably again be used.

W. F. Pate is serving as the vice-president and Mrs. Onita Hendricks as secretary - treasurer of the combined leagues.

Purpose of the combination, Lawrence said, was to minimize work of elected officers and to make financial business easier to transact.

Both Little League and Pony League games will be played the same time each night, with the Little Leaguers playing on their field and the Pony Leaguers on the adjacent field at Miller Park

Annual Faculty Party Is Slated

Faculty members and their families from both Diboll's high school and elementary school will get together at Scrapping Valley this weekend for the annual faculty party.

High School principal Robert Ramsey said today that the faculty had been invited by the Southern Pine Lumber Co. to use the lodge and fishing facilities at Scrapping Valley which is located near Pineland.

The faculty members and families will stay at the lodge on Saturday and Sunday, Ramsey said.

Farmers May Get Social Security Now

"Self-employed farmers past age 65 who had net profit of at least $400 or gross income of at least $800 from their farming activities in 1955 should discuss their cases with a Social Security representative as soon as it is possible after they have grossed $800 in farm income in 1956," said L. R. James, manager of the Lufkin district office. "They do not have to wait until July 1, to qualify for payments."

Mr. James explained that optional methods of determining the amount of farm earnings to be credited to their Social Security accounts are available to farmers in the above income brackets under some conditions. He added that it is important for an accurate Schedule F to be filed with Internal Revenue Service as part of the income tax return in order for proper Social Security credit to be given.

Farmers whose options enable them to pay the self-employment tax for 1955, and who have done so, may become insured under the old-age Survivors Insurance program as soon as they have earned a sufficient number of credits to meet the requirement of the law. For persons already 65 or older this requirement is from six to ten quarters of coverage depending on the individual's exact date of birth. However, credits earned at any time in the past through work covered by the Social Security Act also count toward meeting the requirement.

To assure accurate advice as to respect to their specific cases, these older farmers are urged to draw up a statement of their gross farm receipts and expenses so far in 1956 and get in touch with the Social Security office as soon as their gross receipts reach the 0800 level.

An Editorial

No thinking American approves of a monopoly, regardless of what form it may take. For a many a year, it has been specifically against the law for business firms to merge or to enter into agreements that result in a monopoly or even a near-monopoly of the available market.

These antitrust regulations are well-known to most of the public. But surprisingly few of us realize that labor unions are specifically exempt from such laws.

This double-standard is directly contrary to the concept of equal justice under law.

The basic trouble with monopoly lies in the fact that it enables a company or a union to impose its will on the public. It has been demonstrated that the public always benefits whenever monopoly is eliminated or controlled.

We, as a nation, must be consistent. Every instance of monopoly, whatever its source, must be stopped in its undemocratic trackss!
