Diboll -- The Lumber and Wood Products Capitol Of The South. Home Of The Temple Industries

World Champion and restaurant owner Jack Dempsey dines at The Pine Bough. The World Famous "Manassa Mauler", still the champion in the hearts of fight fans everywhere, proved when he came to Diboll last Wednesday, August 22, that he is not only great in the fight and restaurant field but also in the field of human relations. A charmer with everyone he met and patient in extreme with reporters, photographers and autograph seekers, Jack Dempsey won the hearts of all. Pictured above is Jack, right, enjoying The Pine Bough's chicken and dumplings. Pictured with him are Latane Temple, left and Arthur Temple. The gracious guest is quoted as saying, "I wish my restaurant in New York had food like this."

An Editorial

Schools Serve Democracy, But Cannot Replace Home, Parents

With the opening of the schools in Diboll, it might be well for parents and teachers to do a little thinking about the pupils who present problems to both of them —

Children going to a school system should not be regarded as raw material to be subjected to certain definite process in the expectation that the finished product will be certain or standardized. Factors of inheritance and environment combine to make each child a special subject requiring more or less individualized treatment.

Parents, who expect school teachers to take a rough specimen of untrained humanity and develop it into a polished human being, are looking for a great deal. They must not expect the school to take the place of the home and the church. The guidance that a teacher can give to a pupil is valuable and necessary but it should not and cannot, replace entirely all functions of parents.

Teachers, on the other hand, facing a massof little human beings in their classrooms — should not overlook the importance of identifying each pupil as a separate and distict human entity. The good teacher is not a mass-worker. There must be recognition of the peculiar difficulties that confront each student, together with an intelligent tolerance for the child, if the greatest improvement in the individual is to be secured.

Naturally, we are very proud of the school system in this community. Along with the millions of other Americans, we thoroughly endorse the common school which offer educational opportunities to children upon practically equal terms. We regret the drowded conditions which exist in most of our schools and the resulting impossibility of more attention to pupils.

Processes, which should be understood, respected and appreciated by parents, school officials and teachers, as well as by students themselves.

Employees Will Not Take Off Labor Day; Fat-Cats Privilege

Officials of all Temple Industries in Diboll said that their employees would work Labor Day.

Only federal offices are expected to be closed for the day. Diboll Schools, both white and colored, will begin classes on Labor Day, following reginstration of all games on Friday, August 31.

Jack Dempsey Visits S. P. Dines At The Pine Bough

Jack Dempsey, the most famous heavyweight boxing champion of all times, visited Diboll and officials of Southern Pine Lumber Company last Wednesday. Dempsey and his long time friend Bobby Manziel of Tyler, landed at the Angelina County Airport in Burke Wednesday in Manziel's plush airplane.

The killer instinct which was described to have belonged to the "Manassa Mauler" during his ring days was certainly absent in the 61 year old Dempsey composure last Wednesday. He was described by Arthur Temple Jr. as "the most gracious of celebrities."

Dempsey and Manziel, Tyler Oil operator, were in Diboll to inspect a shipment of lumber which they recently purchased from Temple Lumber Co. in Tyler. The lumber, 100,000 feet of it, was described by Arthur Temple as the best Southern Pine had to offer. Dempsey and Manziel praised Southern Pine operations in Diboll and bragged much about the quality and texture of the Southern Pine lumber.

The Southern Pine lumber will be used in construction of the Bobby Manziel Memorial Sportatorium at Tyler. Manziel, now a millionaire active in many businesses was a sparring partner of Dempsey's when the latter was heavyweight champion from 1919-1926.

VISIT PINE BOUGH

Upon request by Arthur Temple, the affable Dempsey agreed to visit The Pine Bough.

Southern Pine officials wanted his picture for the growing picture array of celebreties on display at the local restaurant.

Dempsey was given a helping of chicken and dumplings so that photographer Shirley Daniel could get a feature shot. And although the 'Mauler' and Manziel were due to lunch with the Mayor of Tyler at noon, Dempsey insisted on another helping of dumplings, commenting: "Boy I wish we could get food like this at my restaurant in New York!"

EXPLAINS LONG COUNT

Buddy Temple, the 14-year-old son of Arthur Temple got a first hand account of the 'long count' defeat of Dempsey by Gene Tunney during The Pine Bough excursion. Jack Dempsey explained in detail the bout in which he knocked Tunney to the canvas, only to see the 'long count' enable Tunney to continue and win the fight.

While at the Pine Bough, Mr. Dempsey autographed books, pieces of paper, and cooperated magnificiently with local photographers. Local personalities are still amazed at the friendly, cooperative attitude of so famous a person as the "Manassa Mauler". All of us now know why he has been the favorite of ring fans for the past 37 years.

OFFICIALS MEET PLANE

At the airport to welcome the visiting pair were: Arthur Temple Jr., president of Southern Pine; Latane Temple, Southern Pine vice-president and general sales manager; Buddy Temple; Shirley Daniel, and reporters.

The brief visit in Diboll lasted from 10-12 a.m.

Dempsey will probably be in Diboll again before the Sportatorium in Tyler is completed.

They also visited the "Grand Ole Opry" in Nashville, Tenn. and The Great Mammoth Cave in Kentucky, and many other points of interest.

Little "D"

According to telecaster J. Hampton Keathley of KTRE-TV my forecast that Mickey Mantle will not hit MORE THAN 56 home runs this season is not even close to being right.

Unlike many, Hamp doesn't even think Mickey will hit 56, much less 60 or more. Let's wait until the end of the season, Hamp Then we'll see who will eat the crow.

In the meantime, hom many our baggars would you guess the Kid from Commerce will hit this year?

—pd—

All Diboll parents who had kids playinv in the Little and Pony Leabues owe a bouquet of thanks to folks like Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Crawford. Mrs. Crawford literally ran the concession stand by herself durinv the season. She had capable help from several ladies, but many times handled the little drink stand alone. And Woodrow was always on hand to do what he could to help all the teams. On the day of the All Star games, he worked as many as six hours readying the diamonds for the big events.

The managers, umpires like Darwin Kerr, the Crawfords, and several other parents saw to it that our 'little fellers' enjoyed a wholesome summer of base ball. Our hats are off to all of you.

—pd—

The Hillbilly bands in The Village Saturday afternoon attracted a good many people.

Object of the entertainment is to keep folks happy while they do their weekend shopping. It looked as if Foster King's aggregation, Billy Martin, Laverl Carrico and troup did just that. Don't know whether the merchants did much business or not, but at least we all enjoyed the western music.

—pd—

As we predicted earlier, Ralph Yarborough and Will Wilson carried Diboll and Angelina Co. by a wide margin in the Saturday runoff election.

Judge Yarborough has always been popular in this part of the country, and it would seem that Wilson is popular everywhere, judging from the resounding number of votes he gathered against his opponent Tom Moore.

—pd—

Our hats are off to J. O. Stubblefield who was defeated for Commissioner of Precinct 1 by Calvin Pouland.

During his term, Mr. Stubblefield was instrumental in the hard-topping of Farm Road 58. As a result of this, students in Diboll Schools got to school on time during rainy weather, and a better residential area was opened to rural land owners in the FM 58 area.

Mr. Stubblefield did a lot of road work in the southern section of Angelina County and for Diboll. I, for one, will be eternally grateful to him for his efforts.

—pd—

Football coach Ervin DuBose said today he would be glad to have visitors at Lumberjack stadium during the two-week period before the season opener. DuBose said he would 'be tickled' to have Dibollians observe workouts and give pre-season support to his charges.

Roy Young Has Bib Day Saturday

Saturday was a big day young Roy Young will always remember.

He was announced as the new Diboll High assistant coach by Supt. W. F. Pate in addition to being married to the former Marilyn Brown of Deer Park.

Young, 22, graduated from the Weyland College at Plainview last Spring where he was a star basketball player. His new bride was also an outstanding cager for Weyland's girl's team.

The new coach will assist Ervin DuBose with varsity football, Bennis Franks with varsity basketball, and coach girl's basketball.

He will also teach science in Diboll Junior High.

Hank Show May Be —May Not On TV

The Hank Huggins show on Diboll Day may not be televised, according to Shireley Daniel. the program chairman.

'Hank's TV following may demand that his special Diboll Day show be televised, but so far we have been able to reserve the show for a 'person-to-person closed circuit', " says Daniel.

"There are lots of fools in Diboll and the East Texas region who have followed Hank on TV and want to see him in person. That thought is uppermost in our planning.

TV cameras will not be excluded, however, according to Daniel.

Lumberjacks Open Against Elks For Start Of Tough Schedule

BY AMOS LEWIS
BULLETIN SPORTS EDITOR

The Diboll Lumberjacks will open their 1956 grid campaign against the Elkhart Elks in the Lumberjack Stadium at 8 pm Friday, September 7. The Elks smothered an inexperienced Diboll team in the season opener for both teams at Elkhart last year, 32-19. The Elks won only two more games after that however, giving them a 3-7 record.

Coach Pearson over at Elkhart reports that his team may be much stronger this year, with 21 boys returning from the '55 team. Thirteen of the 21 ar lettermen. After opening against Diboll, the Elks will play Carlisle, Grosebeck, Malakoff, Fairfield, Groveton, Trinity, Alto, and Grapeland. The last four games will be in district competition.

Diboll who also sported a dismal 3_7 record last year, is billed by observors as potentially stronger for the coming season. With ten lettermen returning, Coach Ervin DuBose will miss the services of big Ken Burnett, 195 pound end who was the favorite target for Royce Grimes' touchdown passes last year.

Both Diboll and Elkhart coaches expected to have at least 30 boys out for workouts Monday, August 27, the first day any school can begin practice sessions, according to the Interscholastic League.

Returning to gridiron wars at Diboll will be Robert Rector, 215 pound tackle; A junior, James Johnson wwill fight senior John Hannah for the other tackle spot. Charlie Carr and George Lee are returning guards while Glen Wells is the only end back from last season. In the backfield with quarterback Grimes will be Wiley Courtney and possibly Don Capps.

Other lettermen's positions are not announced, and the opening night of Sept. 7 might find Ervin DuBose with a completely revamped team, shifting several players to differents spots for the benefit of his fast moving offense.

SAVINGS UP

The Securities and Exchtnge Commission estimated recently that Americans have saved five billion dollars in the first quarter of 1956. This is significant in that it is the largest amount of money caved by U.S. citizens in a three-months perion in three years.

They saved $ 3,300,000,000 more than was saved in the first quarted of 1956. The designation "savings" might be a little misleading in this case, as uced by the Securities and Exchange Commission, since this designation includes money put into savings and checking accounts, invested in stocks and bonds, accumulated in pension and insurance plans and paid off on consumer and mortgage debt. Savings invested in stocks may not come within the narrow definition of savings, as some people know it.

However, it is encouraging to see that the savings rate is going up. The SEC reports that 500,000 persons are becoming stockholders each year, and have done so every year since 1952. An interesting sidelight to this report is the revelation that two-thirds of the nations stockholders earn less than $7,500 a year.

The encouraging factor of any report which shows that savings are increasing consists of the safety value of collective savings such as the $5,000,000,000 saved during the first quarter of this year. The more Americans are able to put up for a rainy day, the better chance this country will have of surviving economic difficulties without the bottom dropping entirely out of our national economy.

ECONOMIC SANCTIONS

Talk is now current in high administrative circles about the prospect of economic sanctions against Egypt, in case the Egyptians refuse to agree to a satisfactory settlement of the Suez Canal issue.

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and President Eisenhower have all told news conferences that the Uuited States did not wish to use force to settle the dispute. PresidentEisenhower made the further observation that he hah not taken the position that there was no situation which could arise in which the use of force could be justified.

But the number one point stressed by Secretaries Dulles and Wilson, in their comments on the Suez Canal crisi, is that the use of force should be avoided. Mr. Wilson hinted that economic pressures might be brought to bear on Egypt, if the Egyptians did not agree to some sort of settlement which would guarantee the freedom of navagation through the canal.

If President Nasser does not agree to terms supported by Great Britain and France, and economic sanctions are used, there is no guarantee that they will work. For one thing, the Communists would probably go to some length to keep Egypt on a sound economic basis, since Egypt is serving Communist interests.

Therefore if the issue resolves itseif into a situation in which France and Great Britain, and possibly the United States,, are ererting economic pressure on Egypt, the West may have lost the battle.

Class of '46 To Hold Homecoming Here

Mrs.Billy Jean Tucker said today that the DHS class of 1946 will have its own homecoming on Diboll Day, set this year for Sept. 29. Mrs. Tucker said that private dining rooms will be reserved at The Pine Bough. She intends to get her classmates together for at least two hours during the hectic celebration.

All 1946 graduates interested in attending the affair should write to Mrs. Tucker at P. O. Box 343, or phone 2637.

Warm Springs Opens Doors To Patients

As unlike a hospital as any medical institution can be, Warm Springs opens its doors to fictims of crippling dieases and accidents. Infantile paralysis patients, both adults and children, still out-number other rehabilitation cases.

Non-polio cases treated include cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, arthritis, and other neuro_muscular diseases andmusculoskeletal disorders. A number of industral accident victims have been treated here.

A non-profit, non-sectarian organization, Gonzalas Warm Springs has never denied treatment to a child under 20 for financial reasons. Many adults are admitted, but thus far wellfare funds have not been adequate to accord them treatment free af charge.

Thousands of Texans contribute to the Foundation each year so that this comprehensive rehabilitation program may be carried on.

Anyone desiring information on admission procedures may get it by writing the Regintrar, Box 58, Ganzalas, Texas.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa:

I am a woman of 21. I am married. My husband left me.

We have a little girl. He says he still loves me. He has dates I don't think he cares anything about me. He wants me to come back to him but I feel that I can't trust him. What would you do about going back to him?

Lonesome Worried Mother.
Alabama.

ANSWER:

Why did he leave you? It is hard for me to advise you what to do without knowing all the circumstances of the case. However, if he goes with other women and you feel sure that you can trust him, it seems to me that you are well rid of a worthless man and the sooner you start out to make something of your life for your little girl and yourself, the better off you will be.

Dose he support the little girl? He certainly should and the law of most states will require him to do so if he left you without legal cause.

I would think a long time before I went back to a man who left me while I was so young. What will he do when you are old and have several children?

Good luck,
LOUISA.

Dear Louisa:

I am a man of 21. I have been married only one year. I am staying dith my mother.

I have my own furniture and I want to move by myself because my mother doesn't treat my wife so good and we all can't get along as we should.

I want to move but I feel if I do, I will be treating my mother wrong, and be treating my wife wrong if I don't move.

But if I move, my mother won't have any furniture but her bedroom suite.

She is working just like anybody else, so what would you advise me to do?

A FRIEND
North Carolina.

ANSWER

You poor thing, you are certainly in a spot. You love your wife and mother, and they both love you, but the three of you are too much for one house and happiness, as is usually the case when two out of three people in a house are women Your mother probobly thinks she is very kind to your wife and your wife probably thinks she puts up with a lot.

The best thing, I think, is for you and your wife to live by yourselves, for awhile at least. Couldn't your mother rent a room and the use of the kitchen from some friends?

Or if she owns her own home, she could reserve what she needs and rent out the rest. If she works, she could board, furnishing her own room. You could go to see her often and have her over occasionally to spend the night or day with you. I Imagine you would all think more of each other then than you do now.

Did you buy your own furniture or is it some that your mother helped you buy? In the latter case, I don't think you should take it all away unless she agrees. But what are a few sticks of furniture compared to pease?

Good uck to you all.

LOUISA

Sixth of A Series

Christians Are Devoted To Restoration Of New Testament Christianity

Should young people wait until they have made a tragic mistake in marrage to learn what the Bible teaches regarding the home? Should man wait until the tragedy of divorse wrecks his life and home before being taught fundamental principals of God that woud have prevented the tragedy? The obvious answer to such questions is no! Youth is certainly the time for a person to learn the Bible concept of love, marrage and the home. It is the time to learn how to prepare for Christian marriage, how to choose wisely a lifetime companion and how to lay the foundation for what has been called the "nearest thing to paridise on earth--the christion home.

It is not enough for fundamental principles to be mentioned to teen age boys and girls. Such principles must be built into their charactor. The maladjusted individual is not likely to heed the teaching he hears in his teens. He is not spiritually prepared to accept it. The surest way to asspre success in marriage for our children is to do all within our power to help them develop well rounded characters early.

Our Lord grew physically, socially, mentally and spiritually (Luke 2:51_52). And it should be the aim of every father and mother to encourage with all of their power such developements in their children. A person who has failed to develop in any one of the four aspects mentioned is sometimes referred to as "a cake half baked". Marriage is for mature men and women. Yet there are those who never reach emotional or spiritual maturity.

Many parents who are very careful to fulfill theid obligations toward their children's physical and mental development, fall short regarding the social and spiritual aspect. Consider this example. A father and mother who had only one child were very careful to see that he received a balanced diet each day. The child always had access to good books and was urged never to be late with any assignment at school. All this was fine, yet the child was very unhappy and socially maladjusted. Seldom if ever did he have the opportunity of playing with other children of his own age. The parents never insisted on having friends in their home and seldom arranged any occosions which would provide association with children of his own age group. At the school the child was "picked at", teased unmercifully, and made miserable. This child will have a poor chance for a successful marriage.

No doubt the neglect of the spiritual development of the children is the most serious, the most frequent and probably the greatest tragedy ofthe average home. A young man may possess a strong body, a brilliant mind, a dynamic personality and yet be unable to make a success of marriage because he has failed to develop spiritually. For the sake of our own soul and the future happiness of our children we must do all within our power to assist in spiritual development. A father and mother cannot say, "I have bigger and better things to do and do not have the time." There is no bigger thing than the obligation to foster proper development in our children! There is no better thing than a christian life well lived! There is no short cut that will guarantee our children success in marriage. We cannot do it in ten easy lessons or by magic formula devised by a marriage. True, we can see that our children are taughe to the best of our abality what the Bible teaches on marriage and divorse. However, we must start very early and encourage the child to grow as did our blessed Lord_ "In wisom an stature, and in favour with God and man" (Luke 2:52). The young couple that has developed in a well rounded way, who are not only mentally alert, physically strong and socially well adjusted, but what is more important, spiritually mature, wil have no difficulity in making a success of marriage.

500 Ex-Dibollians Expected For Annual Festival

On Diboll Day 1956, set this year for Saturday, September 29, more than 500 ex-Dibollians from all over the United States are expected to attend, according to Mrs. Jimmie Ferguson who is in charge of making arrangements for Homecoming Day.

Letters are going out to more than five hundred former residents informing them of the events planned for the day and offering to make arrangements for them.

Mrs. Ferguson, a lifetime resident of Diboll, is eminently suited to the task. She has raised a family here in Diboll and is herself the daughter of Will Chandler, who was an employ of Diboll's founding industry, Souther Pine Lumber Company, when it started over sixty-two years ago.

One of the features of the entertainment for the former Dibollians will be conducted tours of Southern Pine Lumber Company, Temple_White Company and Temple - Associates Box Factory, it was announced.

Build Your Own Community First

"Build up the prosperity of your own community instead of somebody else's," is the somewhat selfish attitude recommended by Diboll business leaders in a disseration on economics, page 4 this week.

Observing that morethan 30 per cent of the amonut represented by retain dollars sales goes not for goods but for the support and maintenance of the community wherein the money is spent, these factors of hard facts suggests that while it may be charitaole to use your money to build some other community it isn't very profitable.

Inflation seems reasonably certain, so don't overlook the inevitable consequences which are also certain even if the timing is uncertain.

Heat Takes Its Toll On Diboll Citizens

Two of Diboll's most prominent business people are evidently victims o either too much work, the sultry heat, or a combination of both.

Last week Bob Scoggin of Village Furniture Co. failed to see Mrs. Bill Munson leave The Pine Bough, but he did notice her boxer dog standing outside. Realizing that someone might try to steal the expensive tnimal, Bob put him in what he thought was Mrs. Munson's car and rolled up the windows.

Presently, two men emerged from the Pine Bough, only to find their car occupied by the big boxer. Being strangers from Houston, one of them approached Bob and asked: "Pardon me but we're from Houston. We were getting a cup of coffee, and when we came out we found this boxer locked in our car."

Turning a shade green, Scoggin said he would be glad to release the animal from the auto. Needless to say, Mrs. Munson did not take kindly to the idea of having someone try to give her dog away!

A lady last week asked Mrs. Wimp for a good work cap with a bill on it. "I'm sorry", said Mrs. Wimp, "we have no caps with bells on them."

A second sales lady offered to correct Mrs. Wimp's misstatement, but she insisted that were no caps in stock with bells on them.

After taking a lot of kidding later, Mrs. Wimp DID find a cap with a bell on it and presented it to John Lee for his next fishing trip.

Church Of Christ Continues Series

The current series on "The Church of Christ Speaks" is besupplied The News-Bulletin by members of the Diboll Church of Christ.

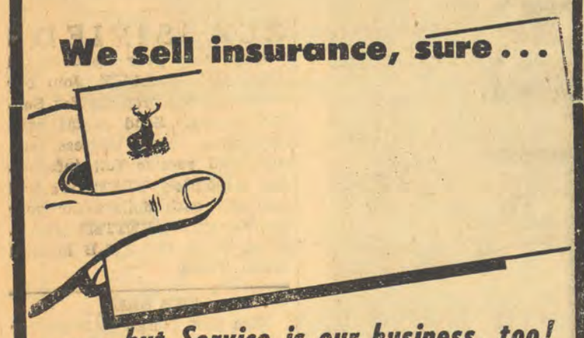

The series, now in its sixth week, deals with Christianity from the standpoint of study. An entirely different lesson is presented each week.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Kerr gather for the series from various Church of Christ periodicals.

The more ignorant an individual is the more certain he is of his conclusions and convictions.

A modern vacation leaves a man unable to work effectively for at least a week thereafter.

Posse And Quadrille To Vie For Award

The feature attraction of Diboll Day on September 29 this year will not be an event but a spirit, according to Diboll Boostes's Diboll Day Committee.

In past all the activities of Diboll Day have centered around the bright, new modern city square where concessions, auctions, contests, kangaroo courts and other broad fun were featured. The 1956 version will be centered in the shady pine grove east of the highway where the community center building is nestled in the shadows and khere the pleasant tsreams flow. Groups singing and string bands will precede the drawings climaxing Diboll's queen contest which raises funds for the Diboll youth fund.

Over 500 old timers are expected to be back with other friends and residents of Diboll to join in the mamoth barbecue picnic in the Pine Grove.

Although plans are not yet finalized, the desire of the young fry to have a little bit more excitement is going to be satisfied at the end of the day's activities when the Angelina County mounted quadrille and the sheriff's posse will compete for honors in a display of western horsemanship. Diball Day 1956 is expected to be bigger than ever.

Professional rides and concessions will be available as usual, it was announced.

Bank Will Close For Labor Day

Apparently only the Diboll State Bank will close for the labor day holiday holiday next Monday. Store owners contacted here this week said either they would remain open or abide by the oral ruling of the majority of other establishments.

Supporting Your Town

Merchants who do not advertise are invited to read the following from the American Bankers Magazine, as it might let you have a new slant on business, your own business, as well as the matter of the building of your own town.

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. . . This does not mean you should have a . . . whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

"A stranger picking up a newspaper . . should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by Looking at the paper. The man who does not advertise is doing an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses advertizement of his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberall advertising business man."

...because he buys where his bread is buttered

A REAL sharp trader doesn't need "connections" or "special discounts" or catalogs, or any other gimmick to get what he buys at BETTER than wholesale.

Maybe you think we're kidding?

Not at all. It's a fact. When you BUY in the community you LIVE in, you know that every cent you pay for goods and services above wholesale cost stays here at home with you. By staying here, it can get around to buying MORE good things for you and your family.

It's trading material . . . and TRADE ALONE builds communities with better opportunities, better schools, better churches, better neighbors.

Any ONE of these advantages could bring you returns beyond measure in a BETTER LIFE, as well as real CASH returns in the form of increased business, improved property values, a better job, more people to help you carry the load of normal community expense.

All of this — which you don't get for your money when you buy somewhere else — makes the cost of the actual GOODS very low . . . when you buy them at home.

That's how the SHARP TRADERS get BETTER than wholesale values.

It Pays to Buy where You Live

Diboll firms are the only business establishments in the world that are genuinely interested in this community's future . . . and in the future and prosperity of us who live here

Highlights and Sidelights

From Your State Capitol . . .

AUSTIN—National party candidates have been chosen. State Democratic primaries are over.. Texas' political focus now shifts to the upcoming state Democratic convention.

Tension is apparent in Liberal-Loyalist ranks. They are fearful of losing control of the Sept. 22 meeting through the Conservatives' executive committee left in power last spring. That committee decides which of numerous contesting delegations will gain seats..

Bexar County Judge Jim Sorrell, Liberal-Loyalist spokesman, asked recall of the "recessed" spring convention on the eve of the new convention.

It was apparently without a hope. Permanent Chairman Raymond Buck of Fort Worth said he could see no reason for it. Executive Chairman George Sandidge termed the Liberal position "the cry of the vanquished." He has promised all contestants a fair shake in credentials hearings..

U. S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson may play a key role again. He has said he will be present.. He assured Liberals in Chicago that he will use his influence to install leaders who will work for party victory in November.

SHEFFIELD GIVEN TEN YEAR SENTENCE

B. R. Sheffield of Brady is the second person to be convicted in the veterans land scandals. Sentence was assessed at 10 years.

Former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles is now serving a six-year sentence.

A Lubbock district court jury found Sheffield guilty of passing a forged instrument. No conviction was sought on a second count of aiding a notary public in making a false acknowledgment.

Prediction was made meanwhile that the state may end up making a profit instead of losing money from its veterans land troubles.

NEW DROUGHT PLAN READY FOR OPERATION

Applications for roughage can be filed with County Farmers Home Administration offices. If determined eligible by the local FHA committee the farmer is issued certificates valued at $7.50 a ton. Certificates may be applied on the purchase of roughage from any dealer.

Another phase of the expanded federal relief program als is moving forward. Texas Drougrt Emergency Committee has recommended that 106 counties be made eligible for increased aid in grain buying.

Parade To Start 1956 Diboll Day

The Diboll Mounted Clarion Award with the Leather Cluster will be given the winner of the wwestern group riding competition between the Angelina Co.. Mounted Quadrille and the Angelina County Sheriff's Posse it was announced today by Shirley Daniel program chairman

The Award is one of Diboll's highest for horse events, according to Daniel, and is reserved for extraordinary performance

The report that three lives have been lost in the past competing for it, is erroneous, however says Daniel.

The exact origin of the Award is unknown..

Diboll Day is September 29..

Humble To Have SWC Programs

This season Texans will be able to see and hear more Southwest Conference football than before. That fact was brought out at a school held last week for, The Humble Company's football announcers.

Nearly 30 play-by-play announcers and broadcast and telesast supervisors attended the school held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Southwest Football Officials' Association in Houston. As a part of the school the announcers attended sessions of the officials meeting to hear first hand about the rule changes for 1956.

Heading the staff at the announcers school were Jess Neely, Rice Athletic director and head coach, and Kern Tips, popular Southwest Conference football announcer. Attending were announcers from all over Texas including such veterans as Dave Russell of Beaumont, Eddie Barker, Ves Box and Jerry Doggett of Dallas and Bob Walker of Wichita Falls.

Coach Neely explained the various plays and formations that will probobly show up in conference play this season. While explaining the plays he made careful diagrams to show the announcers how to accurately recognize formations.

Tips, known as "Mr. Foot Football" to hundreds of thousands of Texas followers of the game, told announcers that preparation for broadcasts is most important. "Know the teams, their records, the signals and above all respect the officials," he said.

"And always remember that team play is what counts. Good runs are seldom made without good play by other members of a team."

Included in the comprehensive football coverage this year will be telecasts of six Conference games over a network of 24 TV stations and broadcasts of 61 games incuding the entire Texas Western schedue. On some weeks more than 100 radio stations will be used.

The six regional telecasts will be described by Kern Tips, a vetern of more than 20 years in Conference broadcast circles. The games to be telecast were selected by the Southwest Conference under a policy of the NCAA. Under Conference rules, telecasts are blacked out in areas where they might hurt attendence at the telecast game. Thus, the optning regional telecast, Baylor vs. Texas Tech, in Waco September 29, will be blacked out in Temple and Waco unless the game is a sell-out.

Other Southwest Conference games to be telecast include Texas-Oklahoma, October 13; Rice-SMU, October 20; Texas T and M-Arkansas, November 3. TCU-Texas, November 17; and Texas-A and M, November 29.

Radio and TV crews will travel more than 150,000 miles and use many thousands of miles of leased wire to bring the games to all parts of Texas. Broadcasts will be brought from such places as Berfeley, Cal.; Lincoln, Nebraska; Gainesville, Florida; and College Park, Maryland.

Supplementing the live coverage of games will be Humble's popular TV program, Texas in Review, shown each week over a network of 22 Texas TV stations. A large part of the program wil be devoted to highlights and interesting plays of Southwest Conference games played the previous Saturday.

These highlights are filmed, flown to Dallas, sometimes by chartered plane for quick processing, and edited for presentation on the program the following Monday. Kern Tips will narrate the highlights.

This will be the 23rd year Humble has brought Southwest Conference into the living rooms of Texans.

Too often news is not what happened, but what people think has happened.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Jack Chandler and children visited in the Chandler home last weekend. She is the former Dorothy Wyatt, daughter of Mrs. Lela Wyatt of Diboll.

The welcome rains here Monday did not phase the beginning of Diboll Lumberjack workouts. Coaches Ervin DuBose and Roy Young put the boys through the preliminary steps of fall training twice, with two daily workouts scheduled for each day in the week, including Saturday. The boys have only nine days in which to get in shape before the season opener on Sept. 7.

TRA To Meet At Pine Bough Here

The East Texas division of the Texas Restaurant Association will meet at The Pine Bough restaurant in Diboll for its September meeting, according to Julius Bird, manager.

Widespread interest and the quality of its operation for a town the size of Diboll has attracted a great deal of friendly attention to The Pine Bough.

The Texas Restaurant Association is a group who work to maintain standards of food service in Texas. Its headquarters s in Austin.

"The Lord gave us two hands—so that we'd have one to receive with, and the other to give with."

Police Training To Be TV Feature

Houston has an excellen training program for policemen. And next week The Humble Company's TV program, Texas In Review, will follow a future policeman through his thorough training in all phases of law enforcement.

Another interesting feature is to be on the launching of the 12, 100 ton USS Alamo at Pascagoula, Mississippi. This is the first Navy ship to be named for the shrine of Texas liberty.
