Jayceettes place first in Christmas parade

Taking first in the parade was the Lufkin Jayceettes with the Cub Scout Pack 121 in second and Hudson Volunteer Fire Department in third. Honorable mention was given to the Wesley Foundation Float.

In the second division Central FHA took first with Hudson Cheerleaders in second and Apple Springs Cheerleaders in third.

More than 10,000 people lined the streets of downtown Lufkin last Saturday for the "Grandest Parade of the Year". Floats, bands, clubs, cheerleaders, civic groups and many other organizations combined to total 113 entries in the "Grand Festivities".

Chamber Manager, Jerry Huffman, told the Banner there were many more spectators than he had imagined.

Lufkin's Civic Center was the starting point for the parade. South on First Street to First Bank then North on Second went the hundreds of participants. From estimations of the judges and officials over 6000 people actively took part in the parade either directly or indirectly.

Lufkin again has evidenced its spirit and enthuiasm. "Lufkin" is to include the smaller communities in Angelina County as hundreds of people from these vital and important towns entered the parade. A great big salute to the Angelina County Chamber of Commerce and the people of Angelina County.

Those participating in the parade were Lufkin High School Band, LHS O.E.A.; Hudson Jr. High Cheerleaders, Ethel Vaughn, Central Jr. High Cheerleaders, Central 4-H Club, Morrow Buick Pontiac, Apple Springs H.S. Cheerleaders, Morrow Buick Pontiac, Huntington CB Club, Hudson FHA, Lufkin Jaycees, Jr. High West FHA, LHS Girls Recreation, Louisiana-Pacific, Lufkin Motors, Jr. High East Cheerleaders, Lufkin Motors, Central FHA Club, Central Hero Club, Lufkin Motors and Carl Wheeler.

The trees changing from green to gold in our beautiful forests signal it's time, "Winters On the Way" and with it brings more hearty appetites for delicious homemade pots of soups, stews & casseroles - good desserts & breads.

How about trying this recipte:

"Homemade Fabulous Soup"

Start with a half-gallon plastic container in the freezer, after a meal - put all left overs into this container (everything - creamed potatoes, gravy, vegetables, rice, meats) Leftovers may be added daily including liquids drained off vegetables. They quick freeze in layers after collecting for a week or two, buy some nice meaty soup bones - boil these with chunks of onions, celery, bell pepper, fresh garlic until meat is very tender. Add 2 or 3 cans tomatoes (whole Kernel Corn & sliced Okra can be added) Cook gently about 45 minutes or 1 hour - add your favorite seasonings - hm! Delicious Soup!

To accompany your soup, amke big croutons - from the week's accumulation of breads & rolls, including hot dog & hamburger buns. Slice or quarter, brush with garlic butter & garlic salt & slowly toasting them. The croutons are munched with the soup or floated on top - sometimes piled with grated parmeson cheese.

Try adding a cheese tray with fresh fruit and a good wine punch.

Till a large pitcher half full of a hearty burgandy wine and add an equal amount of 7-Up, toss in quartered pieces of oranges, lemons or limes. Voila! A personal "pinch-budget" version of the famous Spanish Sangria!

For a grand finale! - One of your favorite homemade cakes, pies or cookies.

Until Next Week! Audry

During the decade before the Civil War and for a few years after, steam boating reached its zenith. River life was luxurious and meals were extrovagant. Tinkling crystal, beautiful china and linens adorned the tables. Bars were well stocked with the finest wines and liquors. Boat Captains vied for the finest chefs with the finest cuisines and many guarded their recipes jealously.

Legislative summary

Congressional activity in Washington slow

Congressional activity in Washington is very slow, with the only activity being Conference Committee Meetings dealing primarily with Energy Legislation. Although the formal recess will not occur until mid December, most of the Senators and Representatives will not see much more activity until January.

Federal Water Pollution Control Amendments: :

On Nov. 10, House and Senate conferees reached final agreement on the Clean Water Act Amendments of 1977. The committee report and final draft of the measure are expected on or about Nov. 29, with final floor votes coming in two or three days thereafter.

Two major changes to the 1972 law which are of interest to the forest industry are:

1. The amendments will provide some relief from the 1983 Best Available Technology "BAT" requirements for conventional and non-conventional pollutants.

2. 404 provisions exempt "normal forestry activities" from the Army Corps of Engineers dredge or fill permit program.

Minimum Wage:

The 1977 Minimum Wage Bill (Conference Committee Compromise) has been signed into law by President Carter. It increases the minimum wage to $2.65 an hour (no change from either House or Senate version) beginning Jan. 2, 1978, and to $3.35 an hour (decrease from Senate version of $3.40 and increase of House version from $3.05) in 1981. The bill did, however, provide some relief for the small businesses, exempting those with income less than $275,000 in 1978, $325,000 in 1980 and $362,-500 after 1981, from the Minimum Wage Act.

Consumer Protection Agency:

Apparently, action on the legislation to establish a Consumer Proteation Agency, a pet project of consumer advocate Ralph Nader, is "dead" for this session. It is reported that Nader is "licking his wounds" over the defeat and working actively to defeat at the Polls next year a target group of congressmen who opposed the consumer bill; sort of a "Dirty Dozen," except it might become a "Terrible Twenty" or even Thirty. Business Week observes that Nader has suffered several setbacks in recent years and is out to vindicate his reputation and prove he still has "clout."

Redwood National Park Expansion:

It now appears that no action will be taken this year on proposed Redwood National Park expansion legislation as it now seems moribund in both the Senate and the House. Word is that it will be taken up in the second session next year.

Tax Reform:

The administration's tax reform package is expected to be submitted to Congress when it reconvenes in January, 1978, without, however, the provision for elimination of the capital gains on industry. Since next year is an election year and Congress will want to return home early to campaign, inclusion of the capital gains provision in his tax reform package by President Carter would make it virtually impossible to pass a major tax bill next year, thus its elimination in 1978.

From your County Agent by Floyd Yancy

PREVENTION OF OVER-WINTERING INSECTS AND DISEASES IN THE VEGETABLE GARDEN:

A neglected garden site this winter can become an insect haven waiting to explode next spring with hundreds of hungry and unwanted insect pests. Don't maintain insects in your garden this winter! Destroy their critical food supply and shelter to have fewer pests in your garden next spring. Garden insects like most living creatures need food and shelter to survive freezing temperatures and other adverse weather conditions.

Ideal places for garden insects to survive are trash, vegetable stubble, unharvested fruits and tubers, boards, mulch, grass and weeds along borders and fence rows. Removing crop residues and disposing of debris, weeds and other volunteer plants eliminates food and shelter for many insect pests such as cutworms, webworms, aphids, wireworms, white grubs, millipedes, sowbugs and spider mites.

When a garden plant stops producing, spade it into the soil or take it to the compost pile.

Deep plowing or spading the soil will expose many insects to be eaten by birds and predators. Other insects will be tilled deep enough into the soil to prevent their emergence.

Remember it is not only important to keep your garden site clean, but it is equally important to mow and maintain it's surroundings.

A disease control program to many people is nothing more than rushing out with a sprayer and a fungicide and spraying a crop when a disease occurs. This approach is, for the most part, unsuccessful. Angelina County gardeners should strive harder each year to be aware of the disease that may occur on a given crop. Therefore, gardeners shold take steps now to avoid certain problems next spring. Here are a few practices that can be used to help reduce diseases.

Nematode sampling - Check the soil now for nematodes. This can be done by taking core samples and sending them to the Plant Nematode Detection Laboratory at Texas A&M or check susceptible plants growing in the area for nematodes. Both techniques are effective. The direct observation is faster and cheaper, however, the soil sample will check as area where susceptible plants are not now growing. Samples taken now are more reliable than those taken later in the winter. The nematode in most areas of Texas will overwinter the egg stage which is difficult to recover.

Deep burial of organic material - Southern Blight is a problem on vegetables in Texas. One method of reducing losses from this disease is by burying the organic material deep so that it will not serve as a food source for the fungus. This will reduce and in some cases were done properly will eliminate the problem. This does not mean that you should avoid the use of organic material in the soil but that it should be well decomposed before it is added to the upper layer. This can be done through composting or by turning the organic material under 8 inches and let it compost there. Next year this material will be turned up and a new layer established at the 8 inch level.

Sanitation is important in disease control. Many of the soil fungi and several of the foliar problems are carried over the soil. The deep burial or organic material will help reduce this carry over. In other cases and also during the season it is best to remove the diseased material from the vegetable planting.

Lufkin Area Church News

Child evangelism group working to teach children

In this present age when a number of peoples minds are centered on the importance of world economy and how to make the future a brighter one for all, some have failed to examine our newest generation: that of the children. Through the latter years, voices have been proclaiming that there is a strong desire for our children to grow up in a world that's free from violence and political takeover, but some have also failed to consider the spiritual well being and strength of tomorrow's leaders. But there is a new dawn and a new awakening on the scene today as we begin to see that spiritual morality has played a major role in forming our country and in order for us to uphold these moral principles, a greater amount of emphasis is being directed toward building up the inner man. Such is the case of an organization entitled, "Child Evangelism Fellow ship".

Reaching children for Christ and the Church is C.E.F.'s main motivation as they train and educate children in the ways of spiritual growth. Lufkinite Gloria Russell has been called to be the Director of the Deep East Texas Chapter of C.E.F. In a testimonial statement given by Gloria, she states "It was about eight years ago, in California, that I had my first contact with child Evangelism Fellowship. I became quickly caught up in the excitement of a Good News Club, using the same program again each Sunday, as I directed the Childrens' worship in our church. It was a perfect way to extend the ministry of my local church with a minimum of effort, and reach more children with the Gospel. I especially appreciated the training class, as I had been teaching for years and had no training."

"God richly blessed those years. Little did I know He was preparing me for futher work with C.E.F. When Russ (her husband) and I knew God was directing me to attend the C.E.F. Leadership Training Institute, I still had no idea what the future held. It is a thrill and a blessing to be called as Director of the Deep East Texas Chapter of C.E.F.". Among the local members of the East Texas Chapter are John Jasper, Jim Stephens, Clifford Russell, Lesserine Dodd, Sue Jasper, Darlene Jarvis and Curtis Burton.

Teacher training classes for Child Evangelism Fellowship are currently being held in Lufkin and Nacogdoches. During this Christmas season C.D.F. is scheduling Birthday Parties for Jesus in order to acquaint children with true meaning of Christmas. For more information on these activities you can contact Gloria Russell in Lufkin at 634-2052.

An exciting, new 25 minute colored film is also available for your church from C.E.F. entitled, "Of Such Is The Kingdom". Gloria said that it will stir your heart with the urgency of reaching children everywhere with the Gospel message. You can call now to reserve a date.

Child Evangelism Fellowship is a non-profit organization and headquartered in Fort Worth, Tex. In Lufkin the Deep East Texas Chapter is located at 912 Carrol Ave. Phone 634-2052.

Area churches plan Christmas cantatas

"Tis the season of Cantata's" as area churches make plans to usher in the Christmas season with a variety of musical attractions to illustrate the true meaning of Christmas.

Harmony Hill

Dwight Hudler, Minister of Music, will be conducting the whole affair. The program will begin at 11 a.m. The same Sunday night, at 7 p.m., the primary choir of Harmony Hill Baptist Church will present their Christmas Program. Sunday, Dec. 25, Harmony Hill will conduct a special Christmas service that the public is invited to attend. John Green is the Pastor of Harmony Hill Baptist Church and services are held each Sunday morning at 11 a.m. and Sunday night at 7 o'clock. On Wednesday worship services begin at 7 p.m.

Denman Ave.

Denman Avenue Baptist Church, located at Denman Avenue and Loop 224 has a new Minister of Music and Youth. Wayne Gadman, who has been with the church for the past month, will be conducting a special Christmas Music Festival, Dec. 18, at 7 p.m., which will include both the adult and children's choirs. Denman Avenue Baptist Church has a marvelous puppet ministry to entertain the children that same night with a program centered around the real meaning of Christmas. Then on Wednesday night, Dec. 21, the young people of the church will be holding a candle-light service and will present Christmas folklore entitled "It's the Lord's Thing." The folklore consists of drama and music and was created by Lanny Smith. During Wednesday night's candlelight service, the congregation will be partaking of the Lord's Supper. Everyone is invited to attend the services.

First Assembly

First Assembly of God Church, located at 1711 South John Redditt Drive, will be conducting a number of activities this Christmas of 1977, as they begin Dec. 11 with a visit from The Galileans who will be singing during their morning services. Pianist, Joel Peralis will be preaching. The Galilieans will then return that same day to present a mini-concert at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the church. Admission is free and everyone is invited to join in this memorable occasion. Then on Dec. 18, during the evening services at First Assembly of God, the choir will present a lovely Christmas Cantata. On Dec. 21 the children will be presenting their Chirstmas program during the Wednesday evening service. Everyone is invited to attend these services. First Assembley of God holds its worship services each Sunday at 11 a.m. and Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Wednesday services start at 7 p.m.

Third Street

"Love Transcending" by John Peterson will be the Christmas Cantata presented by the choir of the Third Street Missionary Baptist Church Dec. 18. The program will be conducted by Jim Stephens, Minister of Music. Robert Childress is the Pastor and the public is invited to attend. Third Street Missionary Baptist church is located at 513 South Third Street in Lufkin.

First United Methodist Chancel Choir to present program of Christmas music

The Chancel Choir of the First United Methodist Church of Lufkin will be presenting their annual program of Chirstmas music on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 11 at 5 p.m. in the sanctuary of the church. The choir is composed of over 50 adult voices who rehearse once each week in preparation for regular Sunday morning worship services. The choir is under the direction of Mr. J. Marshall Maxwell who also serves as the Church Organist.

This year's program will offer music and scripture that should appeal to adults as well as children of all ages. A service of lessons and carols has been planned and will feature four major anthems by the choir and various solos and musical ensembles by members of the choir. Several selections from the "Messiah" by George Frederick Handel will be heard on this program. Randall Thompson's "Alleluia" will be sung at the beginning of the service. This piece was composed in 1940 and utilizes many different musical settings of the one word: Alleluia. A concert setting of familiar Christmas carols will complete the major anthems performed by the Chancel Choir. Soloists for the occasion are Mrs. Linette Scagliola, Miss Beverly Williams, and Mrs. Betty Ecker. Other musicians from the community have been invited to sing with the Chancel Choir of First Methodist Church for this special program.

The anthems that will be sung by the choir will be accompanied by Mr. David Lawson, a member of the choir. Mr. Lawson will be playing the 43 rank Casavant Pipe Organ, one of the very largest in the entire area. Mr. Lawson is the Choir Director of the Lufkin Intermediate School and is a recent graduate of Southwestern University in Georgetown, Tex. Other music for the service will be accompanied by Mr. Maxwell.

Various scripture readings and congregational carol singing will be a part of this service. The scripture will be read by representatives of different areas of the First United Methodist Church.

The one hour service will conclude in a darkened sanctuary with the Choir exiting to the soft strains of "Silent Night" carrying candles as the only source of light. The service has been placed at 5 p.m. so that friends from other churches will be able to attend the function. The church is located at 805 East Denman in Lufkin. A nursery for small children will be provided.

The public is welcome to attend.

Chamber of Commerce shows film to Kiwanians

The "American Album" was the name of the film shown by the Angelina County Chamber of Commerce to the members of the Lufkin Kiwanis Club last week as they met for their regular weekly meeting at the Hotel Angelina.

The program was presented by Barry Hayes and Rex Spencer and the film was intended to project the importance of the independent businessman in America. The film was produced by the United States Chamber of Commerce and lasted approximately 25 minutes.

Other items on the program during their meeting included a speech by Radio Station KSPL Sales Manager Norman Johnson. Johnson is not a Kiwanian but was present to inform the members that an effort is being made for a money drive to help support the financial burden that one of the radio station's employee is currently experiencing since being involved in an hunting accident not too long ago.

The Kiwanis Club also made arrangements to ring the bells for the Salvation Army during its meeting. Different club members will be stationed at kettles located at Perry's, Walmart, Howard's and Woolco. Each one will carry a one-and-one-half hour shift on Saturday, Dec. 10.

Research a problem for Dale

From the Trimbles

Editor's note: Dale Trimble, this year's Rotary Foundation Graduate Fellow Scholarship winner and his wife, Diane, have graciously consented to correspond with the Banner during Dale's year of study in England.

In the past weeks that I have written these articles (which, by the way, I hope have been informative and enjoyable to read), I have concentrated on insights that Diane and I have made into British customs and life-styles different from those in America, especially in East Texas. Today I feel that I should bring you up-to-date on how my studies and social contacts are progressing. After all, that is the whole purpose for my being here, aside from a quick stop at the pubs!.

I have already mentioned some of this matter in an earlier interview in the Banner, so I hope the following does not sound redundant. I am, of course, studying for my Master of Arts degree in Politics at the University of Durham. My studies deal exclusively with research on my thesis topic, which happens to be the National Council for Civil Liberties. I do not have to attend any classes or lectures at all; instead, I am involved in a totally independent study, choosing my own hours in which to work, free from being on time to a class and constant writer's cramp from strenuous note-taking. It may sound easy for one to become rather lazy and listless in such program, and that is the primary pitfall. I have to be very careful not to become inactive, since time does fly, and May will be upon me before I know it.

The major problems that have cropped up deal with sources of material for my thesis research. The University Library at Durham contains absolutely nothing on the National Council for Civil Liberties, and the exact same must be said for the Durham Public Library. For a while, I was certainly at a loss for what to do, but with the assistance of my academic supervisor, Mr. G.F. Atkinson, I now can cope with this problem of scarce publications. I have contacted the national headquarters of the NCCL in London, and the members of staff there have agreed to allow me to interview them concerning my thesis. Also, the NCCL has agreed to allow me access to the organization's archives, which are contained at the University of Hull. I am somewhat disappointed that almost all of my research must be done outside of Durham, and I am further frustrated that while in London, I am forced to work, instead of play! Oh, the tribulations of being a student!

As for the content of my thesis, I intend to research the NCCL not only as a public service organization, but also as a political-pressure group. The NCCL is neither as large nor wealthy as its American counterpart, the American Civil Liberties Union, but the English group has undertaken many projects in the last few years, and, very surprisingly, made itself a force to be reckoned with by British lawmakers and civil authorities. I have become excited at the prospect of what my research may reveal, since this is the first such topic of research ever undertaken by a Durham postgraduate. Hopefully, I will not disappoint either my professors or myself.

Our social life in Durham, provided greatly in part by the local Rotary clubs, has been an experience that we will certainly never forget. The best part of it is that there is still eight more months left in my Fellowship, and those remaining months promise more activity. Diane and I were guests of the Durham Rotary Club's President Ball, at which we were able to meet the Right Honorable Lord Mayor of Durham. On Dec. 16 we plan to attend the Crook, England, Rotary Club's Christmas Party, and other local clubs have chosen to invite us to other functions. Thus far all the activity and entertainment has been very exciting, and we have been able to meet some very gracious people. In truth, it is the people who have made our few weeks in Northeast England so pleasant. Conversation has always been relaxed and friendly, as our hosts have wanted to learn about our home and heritage just as much as we have wished to learn about theirs. In such a congenial atmosphere with such wonderful folks, it is difficult to imagine the conflicts that do occur in economic, political, and social matters between the governments of the world. A Durham student from Algeria told me several weeks ago that his previous impression of Americans had been that of a corrupt, sinister, money-hungry capitalist. His ideas have changed since, he went on, since he had met us. Now, I do not claim to have the gift of Ki[illegible] ger-like diplomacy, but I am still amazed at how friendliness can dispel ugly suspicion. My Algerian friend later concluded that it is the governments that creat the imrest and misery, while the peoples of the world, despite differences in religion, color, and language, are brothers, striving for the precious ideals of peaceful coexistence. You know, despite the young man's broken English, I felt that he had spoken for everyone. It is contacts such as that which have not only broadened my horizons, but sharpened my outlook on life itself.

SAVING TIPS on electric heating

1. Keep heating equipment at top operating efficiency. Have it checked seasonally by qualified serviceman.
2. Set thermostat at 68° or lower. Lower to 50°- 60° if you'll be away several days.
3. Weatherstrip doors and windows; caulk cracks to prevent drafts and warm air loss.
4. Check the filter every 30 days on forced-air systems. If filter is permanent, clean it by manufacturer's directions; if it's disposable, replace if dirty.
5. Thorough home insulation keeps the warmth in, cuts energy use. Can pay for itself by lowering heating (and cooling) costs.
6. When fireplace is not in use, keep damper closed.
7. On sunny days open draperies, blinds to let in warmth of sun.
8. Open outside doors as little as possible.
9. Keep furniture, draperies away from air outlets and returns so air will flow easily. Clean often.

Pine beetle population near collapse in East Texas

That pesky little pest, the Southern pine beetle, that killed 41,262 acres of pine timber and caused an estimated loss of $16,000,000 in forest resources during 1976 has got its own troubles, much to the relief of everyone.

"The Southern pine beetle's population is near collapse throughout East Texas," reports Dr. Ron Billings, head of the Pest Control Section for the Texas Forest Service. "During the past several months we have spotted few, if any, new pine beetle infestations, and at present probably have less than 200 uncontrolled spots in the East Texas area. At this same time last year we were working on more than 2,000 beetle spots which is considerably more than we have at present, and which also indicates a near collapse of the pine beetle's population.

"Assuming we have another cold winter, indications are we will have a fairly moderate year in 1978 with regards to Southern pine beetle infestations. The factors that have led to the beetle population's near collapse was a cold winter in 1976, followed by a hot dry summer. This is just the opposite from conditions that usually favor disastrous outbreaks that have been experienced during the past several years.

"This does not mean the beetle has been eradicated. What it does mean is that since the Southern pine beetle works on a six to eight year build up cycle, we are starting into the downward part of that cycle," Billings stated.

The Texas Forest Service reports that 1976 over two and a half million trees were killed by the Southern pine beetle. This reflects more than 11,000 beetle spots detected with a loss of timber volume over 51,000,000 cubic feet.

Billings stated, "Figures for losses from the Southern pine beetle during 1977 are still being accumulated, but we estimate that the beetle only did about 20 per cent of the damage that it did during 1976."

Tougher standards

TP&L expands energy conservation plan

Texas Power & Light Company has announced plans for expansion of its program to assist customers in conservation of energy in the home, an expansion that will entail tougher standards and offer more service to customers. The new program will go into effect Jan. 1.

The program, formerly known as the 135-Point Energy Efficiency Plan, will now be known as the N.E.W. E-OK Program. It is the result of a merger of TP&L's 135-Point plan with the E-OK programs of TP&L affiliates, Dallas Power & Light and Texas Electric Service Company, and the National Energy Watch program of the Edison Electric Institute, a national organization supported by investor-owned electric utilities around the country.

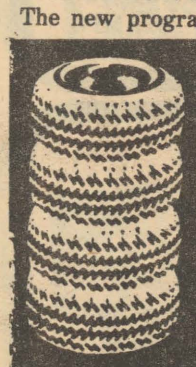

TP&L, DP&L and TESCO, affiliates of the Texas Utilities System, are the second group of utilities in the country to launch the N.E.W. program.

Among new services, starting Jan. 1, will be advice to customers on arranging loans for home conservation projects; information on qualified insulation contractors in the TP&L service area; home energy inspections or do-it-yourself evaluation kits; and estimates of energy and cost savings that would result from various energy efficiency improvements.

Any home TP&L certifies E-OK after Jan. 1 will automatically qualify its homeowner as a member of the National Energy Watch, the first nationally organized conservation program to encourage improved energy efficiency standards for homes.

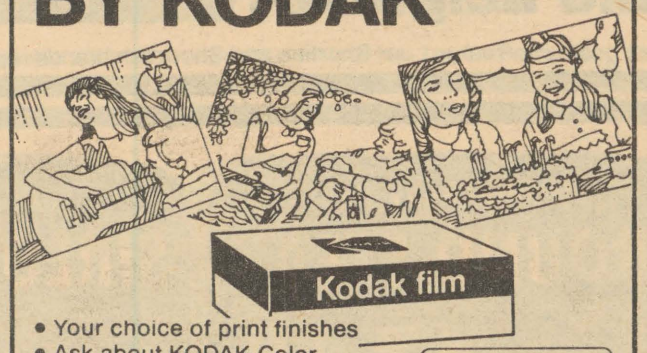

The N.E.W. E-OK plan retains the 135-point program for certification established by TP&L. Homes which do not earn enough points to fully meet E-OK requirements may still qualify for membership in the National Energy Watch if the owner improves the energy efficiency of the structure by at least 35 points.

TP&L customers may receive free copies of the N.E.W. E-OK guidebook by calling the TP&L office at Lufkin. The booklet explains insulation, weatherstripping, caulking, storm windows and doors, high energy efficient heating and cooling equipment, heat pumps and other important areas that will help keep energy use and costs down. A rating sheet in the back of the booklet assigns points to each category according to its energy efficiency value.

Setting forest fires can be costly experience

Setting forest fires can be a costly experience as was recently learned by a young motorcycle rider on the Davy Crockett National Forest.

The Houston County Sheriff and a Forest Service officer apprehended and arrested a 16-year-old resident of Houston County after the youth had set a series of nine fires while riding his motorcycle on the federal forest lands.

On pleading guilty in U.S. District Court, the youth was fined $300 on the criminal offense of willfully setting the fires and was then filed on by federal officers to recover the $600 fire-suppression costs involved in extinguishing the blazes.

Federal officers have indicated that had the juvenile been an adult he would have been charged with felony arson which carries a fine of $5,000 or five years imprisonment, or both.

Rural areas to be served

MHMR Mobile Evaluation Unit in action

The Mobile Evaluation Unit is a new method being used to provide evaluation services to people in rural East Texas through the Deep East Texas Regional MHMR Services.

The mobility of the facility is in keeping with the concept of persons in the 13 county region receiving mental retardation and mental health services in their home communities rather than traveling to a central location or institution.

The evaluation unit is a 27-foot Foretravel coach equipped with two offices, waiting room and restroom. It is fully air-conditioned to provide a comfortable relaxed atmosphere.

The unit is staffed by master's degree psychologist, Bruce Duncan, and a social worker, Terrianne Wilson, a member of the mental retardation staff.

"Our unit is really the first step in the process of receiving help from the many services offered by MHMR," Duncan said. "Our main job is to evaluate a person's needs and then to direct them to the program that will offer them the most benefits."

The evaluation is done by the staff using a series of psychological evaluations and working up a social history containing family background, school and developmental history.

The report is then evaluated by a staff committee and the findings are reported to the parents including a recommendation for a specific program.

"We are mainly a mental retardation unit, but if we find a person needs the services of one of our mental health programs that recommendation is made," Duncan said.

The services are available to residents in any of the following 13 counties who suspects that they might have a problem in the family: Angelina, Hardin, Houston, Jasper, Nacogdoches, Newton, Polk, Sabine, San Augustine, San Jacinto, Shelby, Trinity or Tyler Counties.

The unit travels in every area of the region each month on a schedule prepared by the central office in Lufkin.

"The way to contact the evaluation unit is to call the Lufkin office (713/634-8241) or any local office in the region and an appointment will be scheduled," Duncan said.

Payment for the services is based on the family's income and how many persons there are in the family.

There are no other requirements or standards to meet to receive the service because the information gathered by the evaluation unit determines who will be admitted to the MHMR programs, Duncan added.

MHMR programs include 10 developmental centers, six sheltered workshops and one halfway house for the mentally retarded. Other programs are available for mental health clients. MHMR is a locally controlled agency with a nine person Board of Trustees appointed by the Commissioners' Courts of the 13 county region.

For additional information contact the local MHMR facility or the Mental Retardation Central Office at 713/634-8 241.

National champion pine named

The Texas Forest Service has been notified by the American Forestry Association that a recently submitted nominee for a national champion longleaf pine has been approved.

The longleaf pine to obtain the honor is located near the Jasper-Angelina County line in the Graham Creek bottom on the Angelina National Forest.

The longleaf pine, which was already a state champion, was measured by the Texas Forest Service in August of this year and was nominated for consideration by Ned Fritz and Bill Hallmon of Dallas, Texas. The new champion is 125 inches in circumference, stands 125 feet high, and has a crown spread of 62.5 feet. The previous champion longleaf pine measured 112 inches in circumference, 134 feet high and had a crown spread of 34 feet. The former champion, which was killed earlier in the year when it was struck by lightening, was located east of Milam in Sabine County.

Texas has a total of 53 champion trees to its credit. The Champion Big Tree program is conducted by the Texas Forest Service, and anyone believing they have a champion big tree is encouraged to contact the Texas Forest Service, College Station, Texas 77843.

Dickens' evening set for Dec . 10

Ebenezer Scrooge, the three spirits of Christmas, Bob Cratchit and a host of other Dickensian Londoners will come alive on stage in Alfred Hyslop's presentation of A Christmas Carol during the Galveston Historical Foundation's "Dickens's Evening on The Strand", Saturday, Dec. 10.

Hyslop's dramatic storytelling using Dickens' own words will be held at 7:30 and 9 p.m. in the recreated "Gaiety Theatre". Betty Hilton in co-operation with the Galveston College Department of Speech, Dramatics and Community Theatre will manage the recreated nineteenth century theatre which will be located on the ground floor of the Santa Fe Building at the head of The Strand and 25th Street.

"A Christmas Carol", Dickens' beloved tale about the "stingiest man in town" and the three spirits of Christmas, has taken possession of audiences everywhere since it first appeared on Dec. 19, 1843.

It took possession of Dickens himself. Over it, he said, he "wept and laughed, and wept again, and excited himself in a most extraordinary manner, walking about the black streets of London 15 to 20 miles a night when all sober folks had gone to bed".

Alfred Hyslop is a Broadway and London actor, former producer of television's "Captain Kangaroo", Director of the Texas Theatre Foundation and of New Texas Theatre, the Foundation's public theatre in Houston, and originator of a series of theatrical programs for Texas schools and other audiences. This special version of "A Christmas Carol", told entirely in Dickens' own words, has been devised by Nancy Brooks, literary manager of the Texas Theatre Foundation.

Jaycees build snowman, purchase food for needy

If you were standing around in downtown Lufkin last weekend to view the annual Christmas parade and sighted a rather large snowman going past you, you may like to know that all of the effort made to supply the attraction came from the Lufkin Jaycee's. Mike Albritton, President of the local organization, stated that this was their contribution to the parade to make it an even better one for all.

The Lufkin Jaycee's as well as the Jayceettes have contributed a tremendous amount of work to make Christmas just a little bit better for the needy in East Texas. This year the club is purchasing nearly $500 worth of groceries to stock the Christmas baskets that will be distributed to those in the area that cannot afford a Christmas dinner on their own.

This past Halloween the Lufkin Jaycee's escorted approximately 9,700 people through their famous spookhouse at the old Pine's Theatre in downtown Lufkin. Albritton said that they have become so well known for their spookhouse that they are now giving "spookhouse clinics" through out the state. The Lufkin spookhouse was considered the number one attraction in the state and the Jaycee's are taking time to instruct others on how to better theirs.

The Lufkin Jaycee's are also preparing for their Convention, to be held March 17, 18 and 19 of this coming year. The Jaycee's are currently making efforts to publicize the event in order to have a substantial turnout.

Golden anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. L.W. Bass of Lufkin will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. Dec. 10 in the Fellowship Hall of Herty Baptist Church, 2914 Atkinson Drive. Hostesses for the occasion will be their daughter, Mrs. Mary Ann Nilsson, niece, Mrs. Virginia Barge and sisters, Mrs. Carless Seago and Mrs. Annie Lovell. Invitations are extended through the press.

"Why should my husband and I waste our time learning about funeral planning?"

Actualy, the worst time to ask questions about funeral arrangements is when you are forced to plan one. So, by learning about funerals now, you can create for yourself the freedom to choose. Latr you may not have the time or clearness ofmind for the decisions you'll have to make.

The facts you need to know are in an unbiased booklet,"A Helpful Guide to Funeral Planning." We'd like you to have a free copy, because we believe a funeral is no place for on-the-job training.

Lufkin Industries honors retirees at awards banquet

Over 1,000 people were on hand Saturday night at Lufkin Civic Center, as Lufkin Industries, Inc. honored over 600 employees and 48 retirees at the Seventh Annual Service Awards Banquet.

Approximately 618 employees received service award pins commemorative of years of service ranging from five to 45 years in five-year increments. The retiring employees were presented inscribed Accutron wataches.

R.L. Poland, President, spoke to the employees and their spouses, briefly recalling his first years with the company, some of the changes he has seen over the years and cited some of the changes expected in the next few years.

He discussed LUFKIN's plans for a multi-million dollar expansion in their commercial gear department, over $4 million in foundry improvements and continued investments in new production equipment.

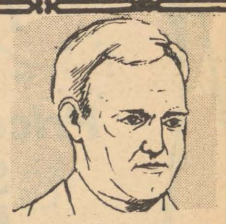

He reported that 1977 would be one of the best years in the company's history, with over $145 million in sales, and praised LUFKIN employees for working many hours of overtime to make it possible.

Following Poland's address, a brief slide presentation gave the audience a few glimpses of the company's 75-year history and a brief tour of the plant today.

Johnny Long, Personnel Director, served as master of ceremonies for the banquet and reported that he expects Lufkin Industries' total employment to reach 2900 with the next week and easily top the 3,000 mark when the new expansion projects are completed.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by The East Texas String Ensemble, a talented group of professors from Stephen F. Austin State University.

What is the Commission?

A member firm is compensated for its services in executing orders to buy or sell stock on The New York Stock Exhange through a commission charge. Orders involving $2,000 or less and portions or orders in excess of $3000,000. are subject to commission rates established independently by each firm. When the money involved in an order is more than $2,000 and does not exceed $3,-000,000. there is a minimum commission, established by the Exchange, and all member firms are required to charge at least this amount. It is interesting to note that a member firm's commission rates are among the lowest charges for the transfer of any type of property.

For example, if a real estate broker sells your house for you his commission might be as much as 7 per cent. The commission on the purchase or sale of stock on the NYSE in amounts comparable to the cost of a house would normally be less than 1 1/2 per cent.

When you are buying or selling "odd-lots"--that is, quantities less than the round lot unit which is customarily 100 shares--there is a price differential of 12 1/2 cent per share. You pay this much more per share when you buy, and receive this much less per share when you sell. Roughly similar--though much more pronounced--price differentials for small lots exist in many kinds of commodities.

ON BUSINESS TERMS

Yield to Maturity

The yield of a bond to maturity takes into account the price discount from or premium over the face amount. It is greater than the current yield when the bond is selling at a discount and less than the current yield when the bond is selling at a premium.

Lufkin well represented during basketball season

During the Pineywoods Basketball Classic last week the Lufkin Panthers exhibited some excellent basketball of their own. Although they lost to Broaddus, 74-68, in the finals, the Panthers can be proud of their performance. Before bowing to Broaddus they beat W.T. White, Huntington, and Cleveland, and they upped their season record to 9-1. Chris Wortham's 26 points against W.T. White and Kenneth "Red Devil" Johnson's play against Broaddus were the high points for Lufkin during the tourney and the Panthers played solid ball throughout.

Lufkin played headsup ball in the Pineywoods and are an interesting team to watch. During every game the tempo would change from fast to slow or offense to defense and the Pack never missed a beat. They hustled all the time and the way they attack the ball indicates more wins to come.

Elsewhere on the home front Lufkin was well represented by the Angelina College mens team in a 101-96 victory over North Harris County. In their best offensive performance of the year the Roadrunners got double figure scoring from Sherman Spikes, Arthur Washington, Glenn Marks, and Alfred Singletary. If nothing else they served notice that it will take some points to beat them. The win brought their record to 5-3 and the Roadrunners' best ball is yet to come.

The girl's team did not fare as well in losing to Lamar by a 76-60 score. The Lady Roadrunners made a good showing against the Cardinals but to no avail. Lamar was too fast for Angelina and although pressed, garnered the win. An excellent performance was turned in by freshman Annette Villaman from Jersey Village. Villaman scored 16 points and pulled down six rebounds. The lose dropped the girls to 6-4 on the season.

From my corner....

by Jim Daher

So much has happened in the past week that we'll try to touch as many bases as possible. Whenever one season is ending and a few more are firing up, there's quite a few stories to tell.

The Denver Bronco's beat the Oilers last Sunday, 24-14, and clinched their first playoff spot in the 18 year history of the club. So far this year they've waylayed Oakland, Baltimore, and Pittsburgh; all playoff bound teams. Led by a tenacious defense they appear to be a solid club and no fluke is involved in their 11-1 record.

Tony Dorsett picked up a nifty 206 yards against the Eagles in Dallas' win Sunday and showed just a glimpse of what's to come. The Cowboy halfback has all the credentials of the great ones and could rewrite the record books.

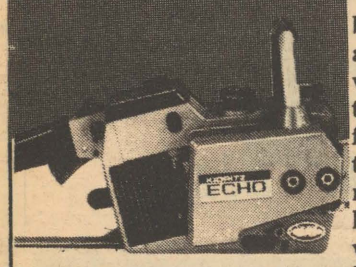

Speaking of running backs, the Cowboys are rumored to have approached Tampa Bay about their number one pick in this years draft. It has been noted that they offered backup quarterback Danny White and their first round pick, all for a shot at the services of Earl Campbell. The Texas great out of Tyler is the best back the college ranks is offering this year, and would establish Dallas as the best rushing team in the league for years to come.

This year's finalists for the Lombardi Award are Brad Shearer of Texas, Ross Browner and Ken MacAfee from Notre Dame, and Art Still from the University of Kentucky. The award goes to the best college lineman of the year and this year's recipient will have earned the accolades. Shearer, an outstanding defensive tackle for the top ranked Longhorns is a good choice but the nod should go to the favored Ross Browner. The Notre Dame end has been devastating in the Irish's 10 wins and will be a sure first round draft pick.

The Philadelphia 76ers lost their first game in the last 11 during the past weekend to the hustling Rockets. The 120-116 overtime victory by Houston stopped a great 76er surge and also helped reaffirm that the Rockets have a good club. With more forecourt speed the Rockets would be very difficult to stop.

Last Monday, Indiana State whipped the 12th ranked Purdue Boilermakers 91-63 and Larry Bird showed why the pros are drooling at the prospect of signing him. The 6-foot-9 junior scored 26 points, grabbed 17 rebounds, and handed out eight assists against Purdue and is off to an outstanding year. There will be more to come on this forward for many years as he has all the tools for the Pro game.

Dot Ray-Broker Residence 824-2111

Any Realtor will tell you that the three most important factors concerning the value of a house are: "Location, Loaction, and Location." Unfortunately, most home buyers ignore this important advice.

Location is especially vital when buying a house for maximum resale value. Statistics say that you will be reselling your home long before the final mortgage payment is in the mail. Therefore, take a long, hard look, not only at the present, but the future prospects for the community and immediate neighborhood.

Select a location where raw land and house values have an increasing price trend. Expecially check into the zoning laws for any unfavorable change which could cause a depreciation in the value of the neighborhood and the resale price of your home in the future.

Remember - you can remove, replace or remodel a house, but you can never change the location. So choose carefully.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at LUFKIN REALTY, 1001 Lee, Lufkin. Phone: 639-2227. We're here to help.
