Forestry Museum receives 5,000th visitor

Lufkin Mayor Pitser Garrison, Angelina County Chamber of Commerce Green Greeters, Texas Forestry Association officials and three of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program members who help man the museum were on hand to welcome the 5,000th visitor to the Texas Forestry Museum. John Fleming, front row left, of Independence, Mo. received a TFA museum T-shirt and a "genuine" wooden nickle from the Mayor for being the lucky number 5,000.

From England, from Japan, from the Panama Canal Zone and Canada they've come...

From Scotland, Mexico, Saudi Arabia, Venezuela and New Zealand...

From 38 of the 50 states...

They've all stopped in Lufkin to visit the Texas Forestry Museum, and their number now has swelled past the 5,000 mark.

John Fleming of Independence, Mo. doesn't hail from an exotic nation, but he did come to the museum from a faraway state, and he holds a special place in the history of the young facility.

He was the 5,000th person to register a visit at the museum. Actually, the magic figure may have been surpassed some time ago, sincy many visitors have missed the museum register.

The register shows the names of persons from every state in the union except Alaska, Connecticut, Delaware, Hawaii, Maine, Montana, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Dakota, Rhode Island, Vermont and West Virginia, in addition to the nine foreign countries listed above.

Fleming was part of a group of 14 students visiting various forestry-related facilities in Texas from the University of Missouri. The group, consisting mainly of Forestry majors, are all graduating seniors, with the exception of one graduate student from Iraq who is working toward his doctorate degree in land management.

The museum officially opened its doors at the October, 1976, annual meeting of TFA, with Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby presiding over the ceremony.

Since then, it has expanded its schedule twice and now receives visitors from 1 to 4:30 p.m. seven days a week.

Members of the Retired Senior Volunteers Program (RSVP) act as hosts and hostesses. RSVP members working the day of the 5,000th visitor were: Minnie Newman, Lovie Roberts and Jewel Lambert.

Recent donations and loans of items have given the museum a changing face and have brought many one-time visitors back for another look.

Also in that election, Lufkin Attorney Herman Bate won over Woodland Heights Hospital Administrator George Culbertson with a 764 to 751 vote margin. Bate will be filling the vacancy left by Lufkin Attorney Jim Cornelius, who chose not to run.

In the Angelina College Board of Trustees election. Lufkin Industries executive, Joe Byrd was Victorious over Attorney William Drew Perkins in the Position Five race. Lufkin City Commission incumbent, E.C. (Ed) Wareing will retain his position after defeating Safeway employee, Marvin Bell.

Other City Commission positions will be decided in a runoff for the heavily contested Place B Commission spot. The runofff will be between Contractor Richard Thompson and Juanita Spence. Other candidates for the Place B slot were W.M. Welch, David Riley and Jim Peavy. The incumbent in this position, E.G. (Rod) Pittman, chose not to seek reelection.

Voters in the Fuller Springs City Council election appeared to have radical change on their minds as they ousted all three of the incumbents. Incumbents Dr. Robert Ray, Calvin Pouland and W.C. Ricks will be replaced by three women winners; Del Bridges, Charlotte Parker and Katherine Neal

Alan Miller's T-WHEELER

By ALAN MILLER, Director, Public Information
Temple-Eastex Incorporated

I must be getting more mentally incompetent as the years go by.

The problems Heavyweight Champion (or is he) Leon Spinks is having these days must leave most fight fans more than a little bewildered.

Spinks decisions Muhammed Ali for what I, and millions of other folks thought was the heavyweight championship.

Certainly Ali didn't seem confused. He thought Leon won fair and square, and said so.

And apparently the World Boxing Association thinks Spinks is the champ. Haven't heard any noise out of their corner.

But the World Boxing Council, which I'm sure is not a household word to fight fans, snatched away Spinks' "title", and gave it to Ken Norton. From the way it was done, I imagine Ken was as surprised as Leon. Ali has said nothing, which is unusual in itself.

Little glimmers of perception come to the surface however, the more you sift through the maze of press reports from all camps.

I guess the World Boxing Council claims Spinks signed to fight Norton. Spinks says he didn't and why would he fight Norton for $1 million, when he can chop up a lot of tankers this summer, and then fight Ali again in the fall. The only confusion on that score at the moment is that the fight is apparently going to be held somewhere in Africa, Botswana, or some such. Maybe there's a tax advantage there somewhere.

Spinks is still trying to make a decision on whether he is going to sue somebody to try to get the other half of his title back.

All of this must have been preying on his mind of late, because he was arrested for driving the wrong way on a one way street, and for not having a driver's license in his possession. The cop must have been a little tiny guy, because it's reported he took Spinks to the cooler in handcuffs. For a traffic citation?

While all this was happening, Mr. Spinks' landlord has threatened to throw his clothes out in the street, unless Leon comes up with the bread for his back rent. The landlord is uneasy about Mr. Spinks' solvency? The young man has $200,000 in his savings account. Which I imagine is a heck of a lot more than he had when he signed the lease.

Well, anyway, Leon Spinks is half a champion. Ken Norton didn't fight anybody, and he's half a champion.

Muhammed Ali, who made all these multi-million dollar gates possible, is sitting back there grinning like a cat lappin' cream, just waiting to be invited to another $10 million fight.

Then there's Jack Dempsey. By his own recollection, 70 professional fights before he even got a looksee at the then reigning heavyweight champion.

And Ali, in the Spinks fight, carried home more money than Jack Dempsey made in his entire career.

Kind of makes you stretch your mind to produce any enthusiam for the fight game as it is apparently practiced today.

three giant photographs donated by Billy Rivenbark of Lufkin. The pictures depict scenes of early East Texas logging and forests.

The pictures have been handed down to Rivenbark's grandfather, T.L. Epperson, a former Mayor of Trinity, from Hoxie Thompson, former mill owner in Doucette and a past President of TFA, to Rivenbark.

Also new to the museum is a station clock 50 to 70 years old, formerly used at the Angelina County Lumber Company in Keltys. Robert Hutson of Lufkin furnished the clock, along with an old Underwood typewriter and a caboose stove.

But the entire museum was new to the 5,000th visitor and his 14 companions, all students of either forest management or wood products at the University of Missouri in Columbia.

The group was accompanied to the museum by their faculty advisor from the School of Forestry, Fisheries and Wildlife, Proffessor J.M. Nichols.

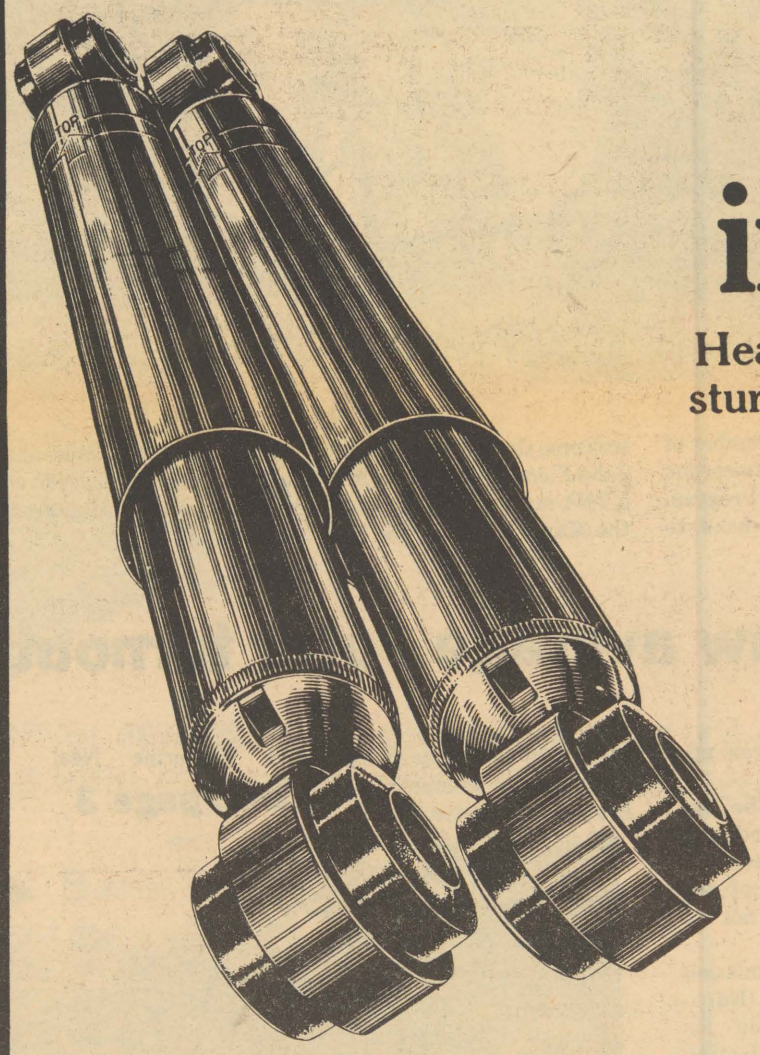

Nichols and his students visited the museum March 29.

Country cooking in America is a potpourri of native produce and foreign heirlooms.

From New England's boiled dinners, the sweets and sours of Pennsylvania's Dutch, to Bohemian Kolaches, to the tortillas of the Southwest, to robust dishes of the Northwest, our countries' cuisine is truly a melting pot - not only of flavors but ingredients and customs as well.

Spring is the season to liven up your menus with new and exciting dishes for your family you'll make your dinner table extra special when serving any of the following dishes.

APPLE TUNA TOSS

2 cups diced apples
1 1/3 cups mandarin oranges, (drain)
1 (6 1/2 oz.) can tuna
1/3 cup walnuts
1/2 cup mayonnaise
2 teaspoons chili sauce
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Lettuce

Combine apples, oranges, tuna, and walnuts. Mix mayonnaise, chili sauce and lemon juice. Mix well. Before serving add dressing mixture to salad and toss well. Serve on lettuce leaf.

Sweet and Sour Pork

1 1/2 lbs. boneless pork, cut in 1 inch cubes.
Corn oil.
Salt & pepper.
1/2 cup barbecue sauce
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1/4 cup vinegar
1 Tablespoon cornstarch
1 (20 1/2 oz.) can pineapple chunks, (drain).
1 green pepper (cut in strips).
Cooked rice.

Brown meat in a small amount of corn oil. Season with salt and pepper. Stir in mixture of barbecue sauce, pineapple juice, vinegar and cornstarch. Cover and simmer for 35 minutes. Add pineapple and green pepper. Simmer for 10 minutes longer. Serve over hot cooked rice. Very delicious!!

According to entries dated 1833 in the private journal of Robert Campbell, noted fur trader and St. Louis business man, "bladders," of grease and meat were constantly being exchanged with Indians for "little barrels" which is all they would drink and "all they could think of."

Lufkin Public Schools to hold round-up day

The Lufkin Public Schools will hold round-up day for all kindergarten and first grade students not presently attending LISD on Wednesday, April 19 from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Children will be registered in the school zones in which their parents or legal guardian reside. Parents do not have to bring their children to school on round-up day. It is important that parents bring their child's birthday certificate, shot record and dates of booster shots.

Registration of all kindergarten and first grade students on this date enables the district to complete plans for the 1978;79 school year in providing classrooms for all students.

Bi-lingual kindergarten and first grade students will register at Redland Elementary School on April 19.

Kindergarten children must be 5 on or before Sept. 1 to register. First grade children must be 6 on or before Sept. 1 to register. The school district would appreciate anyone with neighbors of friends who will have a child in kindergarten next year to remind them of round-up day, stated Jerry Campbell, assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction.

If parents do not know the school their child will attend next year, they should call Mildred Stoddard at 632-7580, Special Services Building.

Lufkin High students to present 'South Pacific'

"South Pacific", the Pulitzer Prize winning musical play generally regarded as the best of the Rodgers and Hammerstein shows-- on par with their other masterpieces, "Oklahoma!" and "Carousel"-- is being presented in the Lufkin High School auditorium on Friday and Saturday, April 7 and 8 at 8 p.m. A matinee will be presented at 4:30 Thursday, April 6.

Emily Shelton and Jon Tinkle, both seniors, will be starred in this bittersweet romance of war days on the South Seas island, as the Navy nurse from Little Rock, Arkansas, (as corny as Kansas in August) and the exiled French planter, of whom, in her indecision, she sings two of the most famous songs of the show--"I'm in Love with a Wonderful Guy" and "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outa My Hair".

Jon Tinkle, of course, will sing the show's immortal love songs, "Some Enchanted Evening" and "This Nearly Was Mine." Together, Jon and Emily, will be singing the celebrated Soliloquys, in which each, hesitating to hope for love from the other, admits feeling bashful as a schoolboy and a schoolgirl.

The second rueful romance in this production of "South Pacific" will be enacted by Drew Perkins and Misty Lawrence as the marine lieutenant and the Tonkinese girl with whom he falls hopelessly in love, and yet refuses to marry because of the racial difference between them. "Younger Than Springtime" is the famous song of their love story.

Keri Leggett will have the part of the rowdy Tonkinese woman, Bloody Mary, eager to sell souvenirs and to profit in every possible way from the American troops on her island, who sings the hauntingly beautiful song about the nearby, other Eden-like island, "Bali Ha'i", as well as the memorable song of domestic felicity, "Happy Talk."

Jay Lindstrom will have the role of the irrepressible Seabee, Luther Billis, the conniver, the fixer, the finagler, man of strategy and big dealer of the sort that was represented by at least one man in every wartime military unit in the 1940's, and in this role he has the assignment of leading the male chorus in the exuberant song of the woman-hungry warriors-- "There is nothing Like a Dame".

Other leading roles will be played by Benny Hunter as a peppery Naval captain, and Jesse Hensarling as a regulation Naval commander.

"South Pacific" ran just short of five years on Broadway and for two years in London, while all over the U.S. and Canada a touring company continued for a full five years to play this light and year somber musical drama about strange meetings, loneliness, love, galantry, and heroism on a remote Pacific island war base.

The production in the auditorium is being directed by Tom Jack Lucas, Dramatics instructor at Lufkin High School, Technical director is Miss Billye Marie York assisted by Pable Torres. Choral ensemble coach is James Queen with Jack Buccannan at the piano and Martha Brazil at the organ. The choregraphy is by Denard Haden, choreographer for the Kilgore Rangerettes.

Other members of the cast are Ngana, Martha Hall; Jerome, Chan Harris; Henry, Billy Moreau; Stewpot, Joe Sexton; Professor, Alan Hill; Herbert Quale, Tom Croley; Kenneth Johnson, Bryan Sheffield; Seabee West Wise, Mark Burgeson; Seaman Tom O'Brien, Jim Cannon; bob McCaffrey, Joe Kerr; Hamilton Steeves, James Dorsett; and Thomas Hassinger, Curt Cannon.

Also Victor Jerome, Scott Simpson; Sven Larsen, Paul Young; Genevieve Marshall, Elizabeth Moreau; Lisa Manelli, Greta Allgood; Connoe Walewska, Dortha Hendrick; Janet McGregor, Mary Geraci; Bessie Noonan, Jane Rhodes; Pamela Whitmore, L'Ila Lee Zeleskey; Buzz Adams, Glen Reynolds; Sue Yeager, Paula Lively; Betty Pitt, Annette Stovall; Cora MacRae, Lisa Miller, Dian Murphy, Kelly Clement and Rita Adams and Jack Waters.

A visit to the Royal Shakespeare Company

From the Trimbles

Editors Note: Dale Trimble, this year's Rotary Foundation Graduate Fellow Scholarship winner, and his wife Diane, have graciously consented to correspond with the Banner during Dale's year of study in England.

When a person visits Europe, it would be a tragedy should he neglect the opportunity to witness the treasures of art, in every style and form, which the Europeans have to offer. In Paris one would need to make pilgrimmage to the Louvre, in Moscow it would be a must to see the Soviet ballet, and in Munich one could not afford to miss the operas. However, in Great Britain it is the drama that reigns supreme, in particular, the drama performed by the Royal Shakespeare Company. On March 11, Diane and I had the memorable opportunity to see this grand theatre troup in performance at the Theatre Royal in Newcastle.

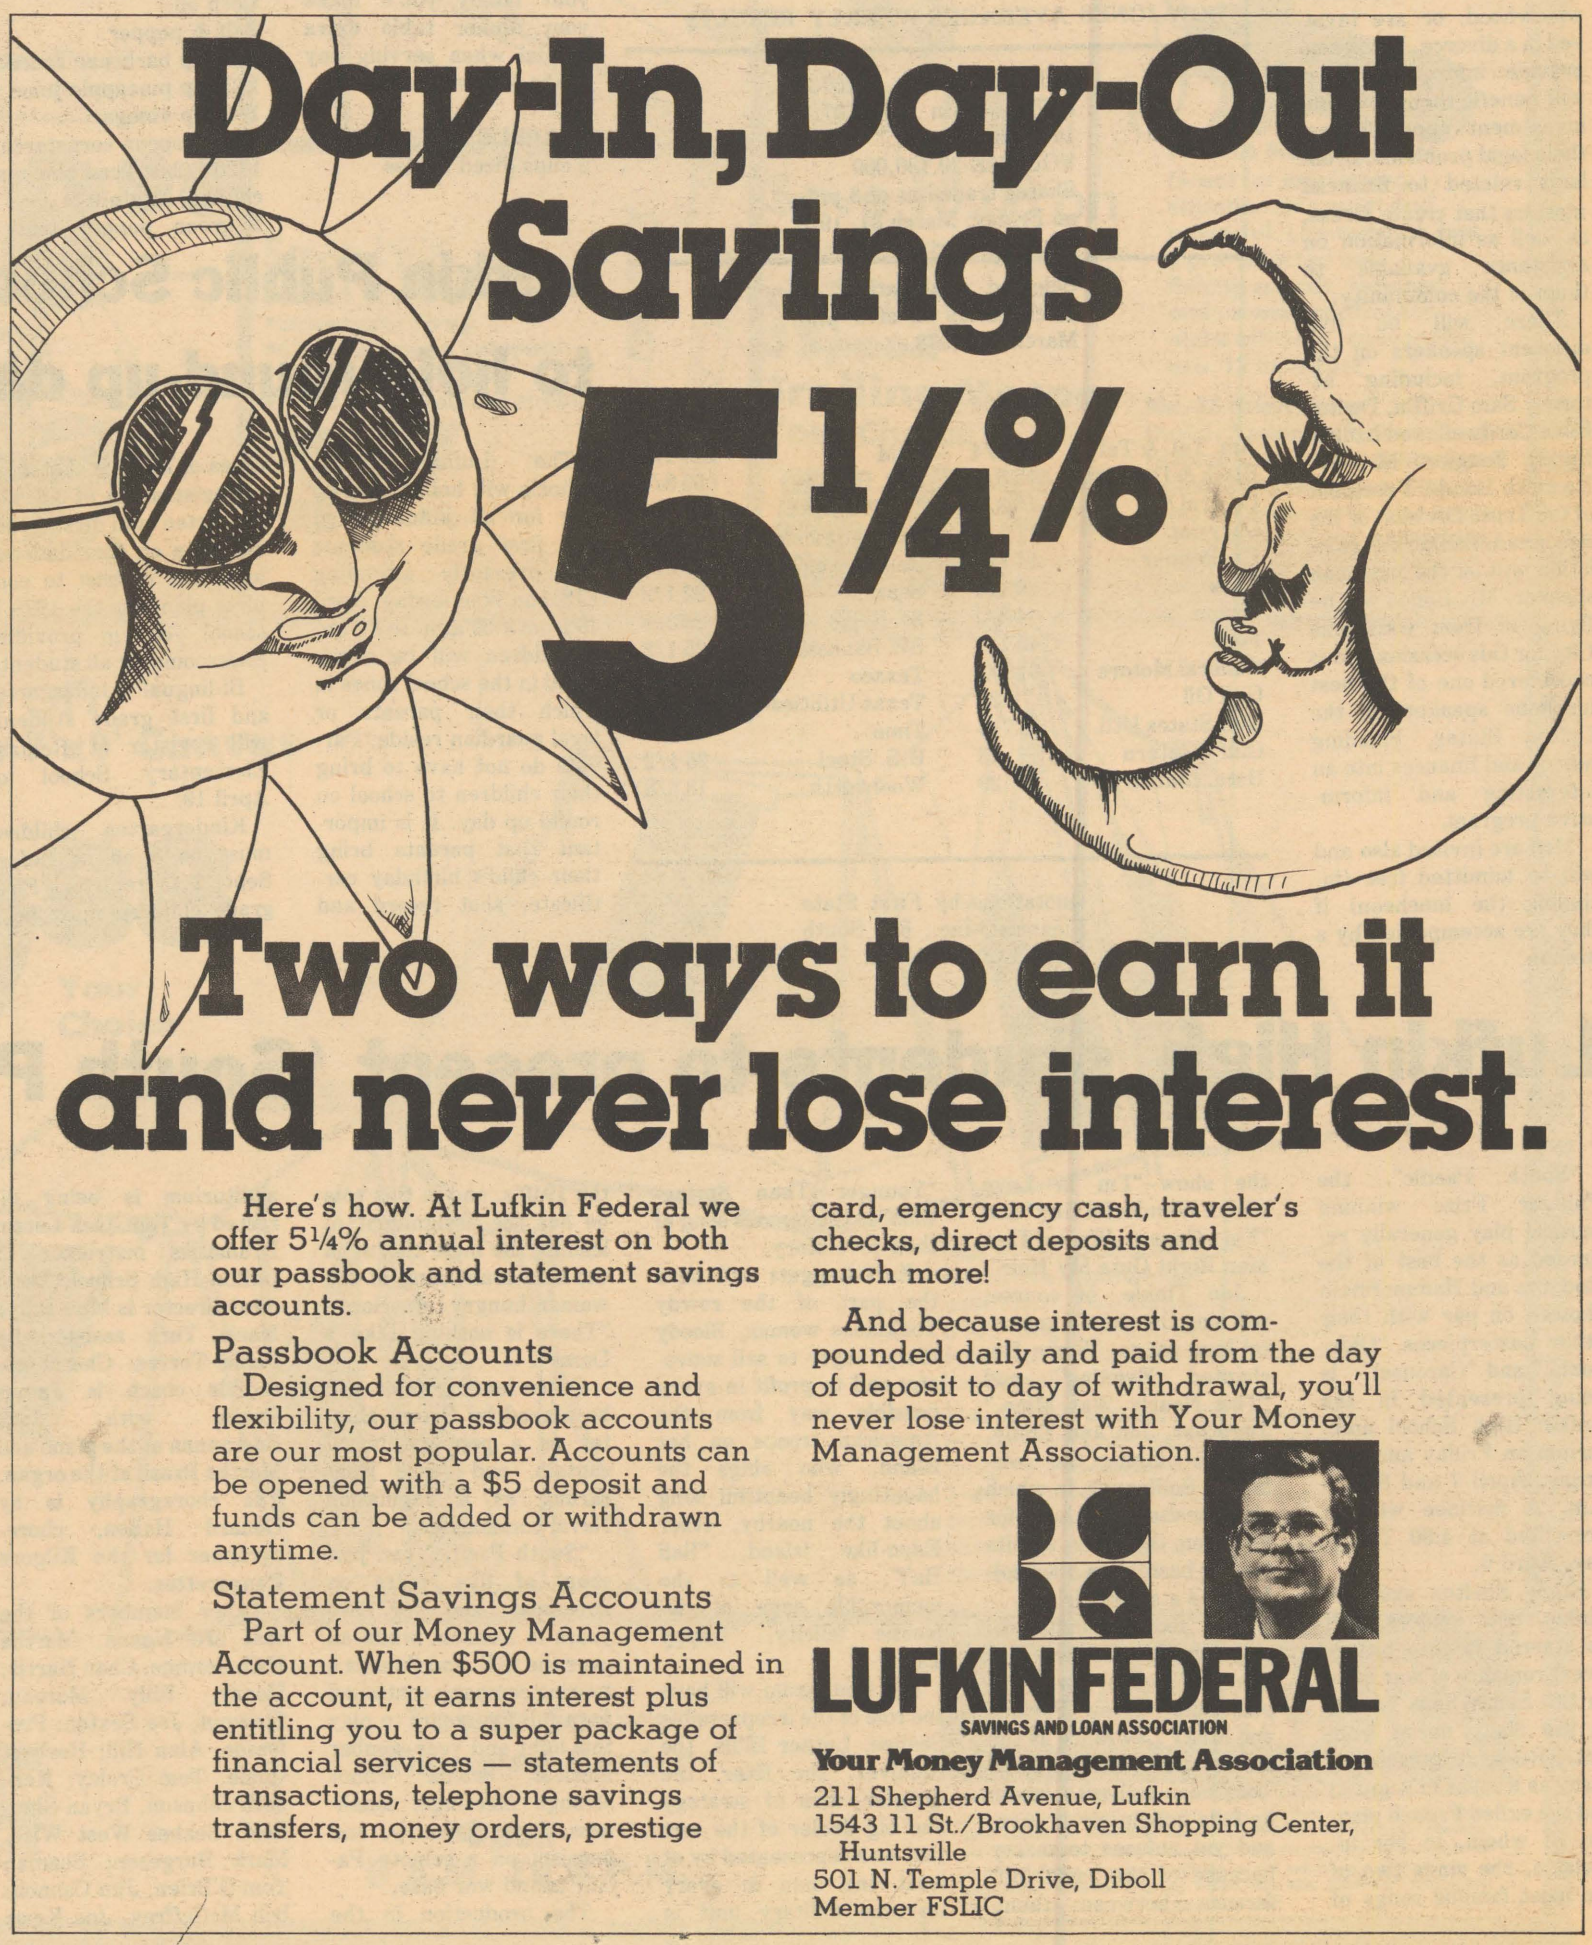

The RSC, as the company is known for short, is one of the largest and best-known theatre companies in the world, annually playing to audiences of more than one million in England and abroad. Shakespeare is, quite naturally, the RSC's central concern, but the company presents both new plays and classics drawn mostly from the last 100 years, in addition to the works of the Bard. Though based in Stratford-upon-Avon, birthplace of Shakespeare, the RSC is regularly engaged in the West End theatres of London. Also, there are two troups of actors of the company who travel throughout the country and abroad to perform. It was one of these groups who we happened to see in Newcastle.

The particular play we saw was Henry VI, Part Two. On this day the RSC was putting on the Henry VI Trilogy, but we were unfortunate in that we were only able to obtain tickets for the second part. The entire trilogy is n historical/dramatic account of the ill-fated reign of Henry VI of England, including the struggle against Joan of Arc in France, the beginnings of the War of the Roses, and the emergence of Richard, Duke of Gloucester, who would achieve infamy by conspiring to murder the Little Princess in the Tower of London in his efforts to gain the Crown of England. Henry VI, Part Two is primarily concerned with the initiation of the rivalry between the Houses of York and Lancaster, leading to the War of the Roses.

To watch the performance was, in itself, a sight to behold, for it is difficult enough to read Shakespeare, let alone act it out in serious drama. But for the most part, the production was flawless. The curtain was never lowered to the stage floor to allow for a scene change; instead, the stage lights would be dimmed, and the necessary props and scene materials would be carried onto the stage by the actors themselves. This is the manner in which Shakespeare himself directed his plays, and the procedure is still being used by his predecessors in the 20th Century.

At the end of a scene, the props would be carried off stage again manually, but this physical means of changing a set did not once disturb or deter from the flow of the dialogue or impact of the drama. The acting itself was outstanding. Though I am being guilty of dropping names, Helen Mirren, the young actress who played Queen Margaret in the production, was superb. Ms. Mirren is following in the footsteps of other notable actresses who first achieved fame with the RSC and went on to world-wide acclaim as film-stars, such as Joan Plowright and Diana Rigg. Ms. Mirren, however, was only one segment of the total cast who gave an excellent rendition, allowing the audience to glimpse at the internal strife that was scathing the heart of the English throne in the late 1400's. As I said before, the production was almost flawless, but when there was a mistake, an actor would simply retrace his steps, begin again, and speak his lines correctly, as if nothing wrong had occured. In this respect these were the finest stage actors in the world today, and possibly the greatest actors alive at present. It is not that difficult to be a film star, for if a mistake occurs during the filming, or a scene does not come off just right, the director simply films the scene over and over until it comes out just right. Such allowance is impermissible on the stage, where the actors must do it right the very first time or not at all. And getting the works of Shakespeare right, including the emotional aspects of the drama which are not written into the script, is an art all unto itself. Any actor can make a Hollywood film, but only a great actor can portray a Shakespearian character successfully.

I fully realize that Shakespeare is not everybody's cup of tea. When it comes to drama, some people inevitably prefer "Charlie's Angels" or Charles Bronson movies. That is all fine and well, for the purpose of any acting is primarily to entertain. However, even if a person recoils from the thought of

SAVING TIPS on electric air conditioning

Central Systems
1. Set thermostat on 78°, or higher.
2. Have equipment checked seasonally by qualified serviceman.
3. Check filter every 30 days. Clean or replace when dirty.
4. Keep furniture, draperies away from air outlets and returns. Clean grills often.
5. Close draperies and blinds to keep out sunlight.
6. Keep fireplace damper closed.
7. Proper home insulation keeps heat out, cuts energy use.
8. Weatherstrip doors and windows. Caulk cracks.
9. Keep windows closed. Open outside doors as little as possible.

Window Units
Follow above suggestions, plus these:
10. Buy units with highest "energy efficiency ratio" (EER). If EER is not on sales tag, ask for it or figure it yourself. Divide "wattage" into "BTU" capacity.
11. Place unit where it'll get as little direct sun as possible.
12. Aim air outlets at lower half of doorway to next room to allow warm air from that room to enter at the doortop for recooling, recirculation.
13. Never vent air conditioner into garage. Ventilation is usually too poor for top performance of your unit.

Conserve electricity and you help conserve one or more of the fuels needed to produce it. Conserve fuels and you help assure that there will be enough to meet essential needs for electricity in the future.
If you would like additional information on conserving electricity, call the Customer Service Representative in the TP&L Office.

Shakespeare, I believe that he should give this form of drama the chance to prove itself. I realize many high school seniors will never touch Shakespeare again once they have finished wrestling with either Hamlet or Macbeth in their English courses. Still, my advice is that a person should watch, instead of read, Shakespeare, because when experienced actors read the lines for you and diyplay the emotions inherent in the dialogue, it is all the more easier for the individual to appreciate the genious of William Shakespeare. That is important, for the wisdom of this great author and philosopher is evident in the literature and poetry of the modern world. But then again, Shakespeare's works have been going strong since the late 1400's, and that is an all-time 'best-seller' anyway you look at it.

Public Bible study planned at Angelina College

"The Ministry of the Holy Spirit", will be the topic of Bible study planned for the public at Angelina College in the Baptist Student Union Building.

Subjects to be studied are "Who the Holy Spirit Is", and "What He Does in and Through the Believer."

Beginning April 7, from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m., this study will be conducted each Friday in April.

The study planned by Dr. Henry McCullough, Dean of Instruction at Angelina College, and Hubert Yount, Bible Instructor, is designed for all individuals interested in more extensive study of the Holy Spirit.

Dr. Herman Hendrix, Pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, Lufkin, will be the instructor.

Dr. Hendrix is a graduate of three Baptist schools. He holds the bachelor of science, bachelor of divinity and doctor of theology degrees. He has served as Pastor of churches in Louisiana and Texas for 20 years. The Fairway Baptist Church, Wichita Falls, Tex. and the Airline Baptist Church, Bossier City, La., were his last two pastorates before coming to his present position.

The study is provided free to the public by the Unity Baptist Association.

Barbara Lott, who is involved in full-time Christian ministry, will be the guest speaker at the April 8 meeting of the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship.

She was called to the ministry about 10 years ago, and has been enlarging it ever since. The ministry is incorporated under the name, "Faith, Hope, and Charity," and has a regular schedule of weekly and monthly Bible studies and meetings.

The public is invited to attend this meeting of the Full Gospel Business Men's Association. A buffet will begin at 7 p.m. with fellowship beginning at 8 p.m. This month's meeting will be held in the Holiday Inn of Lufkin.

Dr. Baker James Cauthen to be honored at Civic Center banquet

Dr. Cauthen

The Chinese have a saying, that a journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step.

For Baker James Cauthen, that first step was taken here more than half a century ago when, at age 16, he began pastoring his first church.

The journey, much more than a thousand miles, would take him eventually halfway around the world--to China as a missionary.

Dr. Cauthen, Executive Director of the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board since 1954, returns to Lufkin April 13 to be honored at a Lufkin Civic Center banquet. The event, sponsored by the Unity Association and First Baptist Church of Lufkin, is expected to attract some 1,000 persons from throughout East Texas and many parts of the nation.

Tickets are $5 to cover the cost of the meal and can be purchased from most any Baptist church of the area and at Lufkin banks. Tickets can be ordered by mail from First Baptist Church, 2nd at Bremond, Lufkin, Texas 75901.

Not simply a Baptist function, the banquet is being sponsored as a community-wide event, according to Rev. Charles S. McIllveene, Pastor of First Baptist Church, and representatives of many other denominations are making reservations.

Understandably, the banquet will have a definite Baptist flavor. Dr. Jimmy Allen, President of the Southern Baptist Convention, will be featured speaker. Dr. Milton Cunningham, President of the Baptist General Convention, will serve as Master of Ceremonies.

Others on the program include Dr. James Landers of Dallas and Carolyn Weatherford, Executive Director of Woman's Missionary Baptist Convention of Birmingham, Ala.

For Dr. Cauthen, it will be a homecoming.

Though born in Huntsville, he grew up in Lufkin and received his bachelor of arts degree from Stephen F. Austin State University.

It was in November, 1926, at the age of 16 when he was called to his first pastorate, Providence Baptist at Hudson. During the next six years, he would serve churches at Burke, Pollok, Manning and Sulphur Springs.

In 1933 he began a six-year ministry at Polytechnic Baptist Church in Fort Worth. Two years later he added teaching responsibilities at Southwestern Seminary.

Appointed for overseas service in 1939, he did evangelistic work in Kweilin, Southwest China, for most of the World War II years. In 1945, the Foreign Mission Board elected him Secretary for the Orient.

During the nine years he held that position, the board assigned missionaries to seven additional Asian countries, increased its staff in Japan from seven to 100 and relocated many missionaries who were forced out of China by Communism.

When Dr. Cauthen assumed his present post Jan. 1, 1954, there were 900 missionaries serving in 33 countries. Today there are more than 2,700 missionaries assigned to about 90 geographical and political entities. This increase in missionary personnel is the result of the program of advance which envisions an overseas staff of 5,000 serving through a diversity of mission ministries.

In 1973, Dr. Cauthen's book "Beyond Call" was released by Broadman Press. His other writings include: "Now Is The Day," "By All Means" and "Advance: A History of Southern Baptist Foreign Missions."

In addition to his degree from SFA, Dr. Cauthen received the master of arts degree from Baylor University and the master and doctor of theology degrees from Southwestern Seminary. He also holds honorary degrees from Baylor, East Texas Baptist College at Marshall, Stetson University at De Land, Fla., Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, the University of Richmond (Va.) and Seinana Gauin, Fukuoka, Japan.

He is married to the former Eloise Glass, daughter of Southern Baptist missionaries to China. They have two children, Mrs. Bill R. Mathews, Jr. and Ralph B. Cauthen, and two grandsons, John and Steve Cauthen.

Christian newspaper begins publication

Most persons already know of the Lufkin Home Banner, but there is another locally published newspaper in the Lufkin area entitled "His Banner" which is published each month and is Christian oriented.

"His Banner" originated from the Christian Counseling Center, located at 114 Paul Avenue. All of the staff at the center work on the paper on a voluntary basis. And like the center, it is supported entirely by the "love gifts" of God's led people.

The editorial staff includes, Publisher Bob Willimas; Editor, Ruby Morris; Business Manager, Janice Williams (Bob's wife); Artist, Ruby Morris; and Distribution Manager, Janice Williams.

If you happen to run across a copy of "His Banner", you'll notice a number of testimonies that are included in each publication.

"His Banner" is always looking for dedicated workers who would be willing to volunteer their time to work on the paper. You may also want to send in a letter of testimony of what God has been doing in your life to "His Banner." If so you can send it to, "His Banner", Christian Counseling Center, Post Office Box 96, Lufkin, Texas, 75901. And if you so desire, "His Banner" will put you on their mailing list and you will recieve a copy of the paper in the mail without a subscription charge each month.

Lufkin Unit of Civil Air Patrol keeping busy

The Lufkin unit of Civil Air Patrol is keeping busy at this time.

March 10-12, the following members participated in providing security and crows control during the display of the Space Shuttle at Ellington Air Force Base in Houston, Texas: 1Lt. Barbara L. Anderson, Commander, 1Lt. Paul A. Anderson, LTC E.S. Creel, S/M Robert Paris, C/MSGT Bobby Moore, C/TSGT. John K. On March 18, the FAA inspector from Shreveport, M.. Randy Brooks requested the assistance of Lufkin Civil Air Patrol in connection with the crash of a Cessna 182 approximately 3 miles north of Hemphill, Texas off Highway 87. Courses planned for this encampment include a Compass and Map Reading Course, an ELT (Emergency Locating Transmitter) Training Course, a Ground Search and Rescue Course and Drill Competion. All Cadets must attend at least one Class B Encampment to be able to advance to Officer's rank in Civil Air Patrol. The Lufkin unit will be setting up a field kitchen and providing focd for all personnel during the Encampment.

We also plan to return to Ellington Air Force Base May 19-21, to assist with an Air Show to be put on by the U.S. Navy's Blue Angels. This Air Show will be to commemorate Armed Forces Day which is May 20th.

Civil Air Patrol has many activities and many interest areas for almost anyone who would like to serve their community and their fellow-man. CURIOSITY SEEKERS

If you intend to implant a "For Sale by Owner" sign in your front yard, be prepared for the inevitable "Curiosity seekers". You'll probably spend more time tramping through the house with curiosity seekers than showing it to firm prospects.

Your "For Sale by Owner" sign leaves you open to all types of people and problems. For example, a visitor may present an offer to buy on which he doesn't intend to follow through. You may make plans based on accepting it, only to learn that the "prospect" had no intention of completing the agreement.

A Realtor has the experience to unmask the insincere offer and turn it away before it does any harm. In fact, the presence of a Realtor usually will discharge any attempts of that sort. He will qualify prospects in advance and allow only those who are definitely prospective buyers - not curiosity seekers - to inspect your home.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at LUFKIN REALTY, 1001 Lee, Lufkin. Phone: 639-2227. We're here to help.
