VALENTINE'S DAY

Valentine's day, properly known as St. Valentine's Day, is on February 14. Our customs of giving valentines, which are supposed to be things of love and affection, is believed to have been handed down from a Roman festival where names of the young women were put into a box and drawn by men as chance directed. This custom has expanded to the giving of valentines to children by parents and to parents by children.

The exchanging of these little messages seems to have stopped since we were in junior high and elementary school. Remember the fun you use to have by making mail boxes and trying to give the other person a card without him knowing it? Now, we turn to boxes of candy.

Yes, the vividness of St. Valentine's Day dies as you grow older, but let's try to keep it alive for the younger ones.

A musical director for Columbia... Percy Faith has taken and arranged it into a hit. The tune rates a star performer on the Hot 100 chart. For two weeks it has been No. 1 in Lufkin.

Considered a musicians musician, Mr. Faith is a product of Toronto, Canada. In 1940, he came to this counry to take over the musical directorship of several radio and later television shows. Several years ago he joined Columbia where he has accompained most of their leading vocalists.

A new release which is beginning to pop is the "Trios", "Home from the Hill", and "El Matador". The Kinston Trio should have a two-sider with their latest effort, "Home from the Hill" is a wistful folk flavored ballad. "El Matador" is a starring Flamenco type with standout guitar backing.

Pat Boone warbles "New Lovers", a pretty rockaballad strongly. His relaxed reading is smooth and listenable. "Words" is a new lyric version of "Silver Threads Among the Gold", and this too, is neatly sold by the hit-maker.

Jr. Red Cross Plans Project

The Jr. Red Cross held their regular meeting Thursday, February 5, in the library with Mrs. Cardwell, sponsor. Herman Bate was elected as candidate for Valentine King.

These boxes are to be used to keep personal articles such as jewelry, cosmetics, hankies, scarves, etc... They are to be presented to the patients in March, when the council will make another trip to Rusk.

MARTIN READ EXHIBITS SKILLS IN METAL WORK

SOPHOMORE HAS METAL HOBBY

Sophomore Has Metal Shop Martin Read, a sophomore at L.H.S., got started with metalworks by watching his father who makes metal objects as a hobby. Martin started helping him by doing small jobs and found out that he enjoyed working with metal things also. Finally he became very interested and started making metal articles on his own. Martin has made several metal masks and is now in the process of making three more.

To develop his character, Martin uses many interesting ideas. Characters may be made up by adding hair, ears, teeth, eyes, earrings, crowns, horns, eyelashes, tongues, and mustashes. Lips may be put on, but it is very hard to develop them and attach them to the mask. Martin puts his masks made of galvinize and in together by means of soldering.

The texture may be smooth and shiny. This texture is kept by polishing often. A rough texture may be acquired by hamering the face of the mask with a tinner's hammer. This kind of texure is usually used on copper masks. A copper mask is tarnished to bring out the color in the metal; it is then polished and sprayed with lacquer to hold its finish.

Some of the tools necessary for the construction of masks are tinners's hammer, tin snips, rollers, crimper, left and right hand tinsnips, soldering iron, and a number of others.

Marvin says, "These masks are not to be used as spooks or goblins on Halloween night. They are only to be hung on the wall in the form of a decoration. Some masks are very elaborate and expensive; however, my prices are low."

F.T.A. Elects Delegates

On Thursday, January 28, the Future Teachers of America Club met in Mrs. Moody's room to elect delegates to attend the state convention in Denton, February 19-20. The delegates chosen were Pat Bennett and Joetta Root. The girls will attend different meetings in order to learn more about the FTA. After returning the girls will give reports to the local F.T.A Club.

The club also elected Bill Royle to represent their organization as Valentine King.

F.B.L.A. Discusses Convention

The F.B.L.A. Club met Thursday, January 26, in a call meeting to discuss plans for attending the F.B.L.A. convention to be held in Denton at North Texas State Teachers College. The convention will begin on February 26, and last through February 28. The members discussed certain contests that they could enter at the convention. Included among these were vocabulary, spelling, Miss F.B.L.A. and public speaking.

Don Adair was chosen to represent the club as a candidate for Valentine king.

Former New York Model Visits Homemaking Class

Miss Doris Ingraham, a consulant of the Butterick Pattern Company, visited in our school Friday, January 29, wih the first and third year Homemaking girls. Miss Ingraham was in Lufkin to demonstrate for Perry Brothers the new methods of sewing as set up by the Butterick Patterns Company.

The girls enjoyed hearing about the latest in the coming spring fashions. Big sleeves, which were gaining popularity last summer, were out this fall because of the bulk under the heavy coats. The large full sleeves, however, will be back in full style this spring and summer and are well-liked by most of our teen-agers.

The neck of the new dresses and blouses will not fit closely to the neck as before, but will be set slightly away from the neck. Most of the new spring dresses will have either very large collars or no collars at all. Hemlines will stay approximately at the same length this spring with the exception of ful skirts being shortened slightly. Miss Ingraham discussed these and many other points of fashion.

Miss Ingraham whose home is Detroit, Michigan, majored in Home Economics and taught Homemaking for three or four years. She later became a model and is now traveling within various areas of the United States representing Butterick.

Art Classes Plan Trip

The first and second art classes of L.H.S. are planning a trip to Houston Saturday, February 27. The group will visit the Southeastern Texas Regional Art Exhibit to be held at Foley's. This show will display top art work done by Texas high school students of this area.

The students will leave Lufkin High School by chartered bus at 6:30 A.M. Their first stop will be 20 minutes in Livingston.

After visiting Foley's, they will have lunch and then tour the Houston zoo. Later they will visit the Houston Museum of Fine Arts, as well as the Contemporary Arts Museum.

Civil War Studied In History Classes

Civil War Studied Lufkin The two American History classes have been having an interesting study of the Civil War. Mrs. Ross and Mr. Stuart took their classes to the library to read magazine articles and books about the battles and people of the War between the States. The students found that they favored articles from Life Magazine, Reader's Digest, and the American Heritage. Some of the most popular stories were about Robert E. Lee and Mary Lincoln. Al Witliff brought a beautiful book on the Confederacy for the enjoyment of Mrs. Ross's class. John Collier visited Springfield, Illinois, during the summer and told his class about some of the historical sights he had seen. Mitchell Starling brought a Confederate flag which is displayed in Mrs. Ross's room.

The classes are planning to see a movie about Ulysses Grant at the end of February.

Spotlight Is On Third Wing Display

Do you ever notice the display windows? Taylor's have been kind enough to present the Homemaking class with a plaque showing china from its beginning stage to the finished product. Taylor's also furnished the china which the third year Homemaking girls arranged in the third wing diplay windows.

In the left side of the window is the plaque which shows the steps in making china. Formal place settings are also shown. The plaque consists of the following steps: (1) raw materals and body, (2) plaster plate mould, (3) unglazed or "Biscuit" plate, (4) glazed plate, (5) gold print plate, and (6) finished plate with "Jewel" pattern.

Also, in the left window is an exhibit of formal place settings. One of these settings is a blue and white plate with sterling silver trim. A crystal water glass accompanies this setting with sterling silver. This setting is the most popular among the young brides.

In the display window on the right are two informal pottery settings. One of these settings is an example of conventional design while the other is realistic design. The pottery is accompanied by plated silver or stainless steel.

IMPROVE YOUR BOWLING

By Wayne Montes

Bowling isn't a game of brute strength. You don't have to boom the ball down the lane like a shot out of a cannon. Rhythm, relaxation, and form—that's the key to striking and sparing.

These are a few of the points I would like to put across.

Stance: Take an erect position with the weight evenly balanced and shoulders squared. Hold the ball slightly above the waist, with its entire weight resting in the left hand.

Approach: Use a four-step delivery starting anywhere from 12 to 16 feet from the foul line. As you start forward with your right foot, push the ball straight forward — not down.

On the second step, start the ball down into the backswing. Bend forward but keep the shoulders squared.

By the third step, the ball comes to the top of the backswing. Have the arm, wrist, and ball from a straight line — a full arm's reach from the shoulders. But don't swing the ball back above the head.

As you slide forward for the final step, keep the arm close to the body and the wrist straight and unbroken. The fingers are now on the top of the ball, with the thumb on the inside. Let the left foot come down flat and slide toward the foul line.

Release the ball at the end of your slide — with the left knee deeply bent. Release the ball just ahead of the left foot, with the thumb coming out first. The right toe stays on the floor to maintain balance and serve as a brake. Let the right arm continue out in front of the body and up to the eye level.

If you're just starting out don't try any fancy hooks or curves. Learn the straight ball first. It's the easiest to control. It won't get you too many strikes, but it will give you your share of "wood". After you've mastered it, you can learn the hook — using your straight ball for picking up spares.
