F.F.A. Banquet Held February 26

On Friday, February 26, Lufkin's Future Farmers' candidate, Sue Ann Rucker, won the title of co-district sweetheart at the McGee Bend District F.F.A. Banquet held in the cafeteria of L.H.S. The other sweetheart elected from a group of sixteen candidates was Linda Bailey of Jasper.

The meeting, composed of 250 member assembly, began promptly at 7 P.M. with a welcoming address by Mr. Ben Harris, principal of L.H.S. In the address Mr. Harris pointed out that Vocational Agriculture definitely has a place in the school program and if it is taken along with other basic courses, it is invaluable.

State F.F.A. President James Pruitt then gave the evening address on the importance of leadership in F.F.A. work. The banquet dinner music was provided by Virginia Stringer. The food was prepared by L.H.S. cafeteria cooks and was served by members of the homemaking classes.

Conner and Karrh Lead Seniors

Attention was centered on selecting a favorite boy and girl from each class last week at L.H.S. The races were all close and resulted in run-offs. These students were in the run-offs: Betty Conner and Erma Miles were the senior girls; Billy Karrh, Rudy Bresie, and Scotty Beasley were the senior boys; the junior girls were Nancy Medford and Jan Murdoch; the boys were Cue Boynkin and Reagan Bradshaw; the sophomore girls were Carolyn Russell and Dianne Sturrock; the sophomore boys were Jimmy Harrison and Billy Ballard.

Betty Conner has been named as the favorite girl of the Senior class. Betty is secretary of the Student Council and an active member of the Latin Club. She has been in the Dramatics Club for three years and in National Thespians for two years. The Key Club recently named her as their sweetheart for this year. Betty has completed a course in modeling in Houston and would like to continue in this work in the future.

Billy Karrh, boy favorite of the Senior class, is Vice-President of the Senior class. He is also very active in the Honor Society of which he served as President last semester. Billy enjoys all sports and participates in football, baseball, and track. He was one of the boys who traveled to Springfield, Illinois, with the baseball team this summer.

Nancy Medford and Cue Boynkin were elected favorites of the Junior class. They were both favorites from the Sophomore class last year. Nancy is a very active student in the Spanish Club and in the Student Council. She is also a member of the Dramatics Club, and she participates in many other activities. Outside of these extra-curricular activities, Nancy maintains good grades in her school work.

Cue is Vice-President of the Junior class and is very active in the Key Club. He is also very active in all sports. He is looking forward to next year when he will be a definite asset to the Lufkin Panther football team. Cue also enjoys golf and basketball.

Carolyn Russell was chosen as the sophomore favorite for this year. Carolyn is Vice-President of the Sophomore class and a member of the Student Council, Latin Club, and the Dramatics Club. She showed her dramatic ability in a delightful play which was presented at Christmas time on assembly. Carolyn was a cheerleader in Junior High.

Jimmy Harrison, 15 year old sophomore, has been named as the favorite boy of his class. He is an active member of the Key Club and plays all sports including football, baseball, and basketball. Jimmy says his favorite subject is English, and his hobby is girls.

Classes Hold Meetings

The three class meetings were held on Monday, February 22, in order that L.H.S. students will be informed on activities which are to come.

The Senior class meeting was held in the auditorium. Since there has been a tie between "I Believe" and "I'll Be Seeing You" for the class song, Rachael Cavanaugh sang both selections in order that the students could make a choice. Miss Boozer, class sponsor, then asked members of the student council to distribute ballots to the students. After the seniors had voted, Miss Boozer read the senior calender to remind students of activities in which they may participate.

The Junior class meeting was held in the cafeteria. Mrs. McKenzie, class sponsor, discussed the Junior-Senior Prom and the work that is to go into it so that it will be successful. Mr. Curry discussed college requirements for the students. He designated that the work done in high school will establish one's background when he enters college. Mr. Curry emphasized that students should not take easy subjects to get by in school, but to take courses that will be helpful in college.

The Sophomore class meeting was held in the gymnasium where David DeLoach led the students in prayer. Diane Sturrock read the minutes from the previous meeting and Mr. Harris spoke to the class on happiness as an individual.

Art Students Receive Awards

Marlea Hall and Natalie Kendall, second year art students, have had pictures accepted for display in the Scholastic Art Awards south-eastern regional exhibition, held February 20 - March 5 at Foleys in Houston. About 600 paintings were selected out of several thousand entries.

Marlea had two pictures accepted; she received a gold achievement key for one and a certificate of merit for the other. Natalie received a gold achievement key for her entry. From the key-winning art pieces the judges will select "blue-ribbon" finalists which the regional sponsors will forward to New York to be judged for the National High School Art Exhibition.

Each year an outstanding event of the art classes is a visit to the regional art show, as well as other museums and places of interest in Houston. This year approximately sixty students and adults attended.

The answers were judged on a point basis, with Margie Chancey and Virginia Stringer keeping score. The reward for the team gaining the most points at the conclusion of the panel was candy, which was furnished by the club sponsor, Miss Boozer.

Dr. Walter Kerr Addresses Students

Dr. Walter Kerr from Tyler was guest speaker on assembly Tuesday, February 23. Dr. Kerr proved to be an entertainer, as well as an excellent speaker. He opened his presentation by singing Single Saddle, I'll Walk The Line, That's All, and His Hands.

Dr. Kerr also discussed Communism. He stated that it is not surprising that certain communistic ideas seem good to half of the young minds of today. In order to create a deeper understanding of Communism, he listed the following three theories concerning the subject:

(1) Communism is an over simplified theory of history. The communists consider history a class conflict, while we explain it as progress by cooperation.

(2) Communism is an economic half truth. The communistic idea is leaned toward distribution, just as the American idea places emphasis on production.

(3) Communism is inadequate faith. The only rights the communist receives are given to him by the state. In the U.S. the individual has a dignity given him by God.

Dr. Kerr felt that any dictatorship is only temporary and will eventually collapse. The things that we, as Americans, must do to combat communism are to educate ourselves in sciences, and above all, to preserve our faith in God. He closed by singing an appropriate song entitled A Closer Walk With Thee.

LIBRARY IS WORTHY PROJECT

Have you ever noticed how well the L.H.S. Library is stocked with material? Part of this is due to many of the organizations of L.H.S. donating their gifts and money to the library department.

The Senior Class of 1959 gave Mrs. Morrison the money to buy a complete 1960 set of World Books. The Honor Society gave $100 which was used to buy Senior Classics. The Student Council of 1959 as their project donated an amount of money to be used for binding magazines. Those that have been bound are Reader's Digest, U.S. News, Newsweek, and Time.

Is your club pondering over a worthwhile project? The library is certainly the right answer. They are always in need of books. Another thing that would help is the gift of money for rebinding. It costs $1.26 a book to have this done. Anything for our library is worthwhile.

Take Care Of School Property

Schedules of students may vary, but in all probability they permit the same faults. You go to your locker, which may be in a special room or along the hall. Do you open it gently, or do you twist and fumble with the handle, finally yanking it open so it bangs against the next locker, or perhaps even hits someone? Do you close it with the same abandon? Lockers will not last very long under this treatment. Remember that you are ruining school property — not only lockers, but desks, books, chairs, tables, anything that you come in contact with! You carve your initials on the desks and tables for no reason, and you put your feet on the chairs to the detriment of the polish. These actions are not necessary. School is the training ground for your future work. Get in the habit of treating it in this manner and it will become a habit.

L.H.S. HIT PARADE TUESDAY at 7:15 K R B A

Disk Jazz

Burleson

The spotlight this week is actually "Spotlight on Bud and Travis". This is a rocking new album on Liberty label by Bud Dashiell and Travis Edmonson. For two boys with guitars, they are unequaled in the music field. Although they tend to infringe upon the Kingston Trio, the duo is gaining popularity by leaps and bounds. Their first album, "Bud and Travis", first introduces them to the people all over the nation. The new album "Spotlight on Bud and Travis" is a must in all personal album libraries.

This week there are several new hits rapidly climbing the charts. From a personal standpoint, "Mama" by Connie Francis is one of the most beautiful records released this year. It has a real listening appeal.

Paul Anka, in a lot of opinions including mine, has made the biggest leap yet in "Puppy Love."

Bobby Rydell who is rocking back from "We Got Love" with "Wild One" is No. 10 across the nation.

One of the cleverest songs is Perry Como and "Delaware". It makes use of the names of the States in the Union. Listen closely and you would be surprised at the clever way it is arranged.

A new copy of "In the Still of the Night" and "Fannie Mae" is ordered.

TIPS FOR TEENS

The time for graduation is drawing near. Many seniors will be sending invitations to friends and relatives announcing their graduation and, in turn, receiving gifts.

Promptness is the most important item in acknowledging a gift. Whether the acknowledgement is made in writing or in person depends upon individual considerations. An acknowledgement in writing is preferable, and a must for Seniors receiving gifts.

In order to write thank-you notes properly, they should be written the same day the gift is received. Because of concern about mailed packages, it is a kindness to let the person know as early as possible that the package arrived safely.

The question has been asked, "What can you say in an informal thank-you note?" Just mention your appreciation about the gift which would be personal.

"Quick Curtains" will be presented at the auditorium tonight by Mr. Tom J. Lucas and the Dramatics class. The admission is 40 cents. Curtain goes up at 7:45.

"Opening Night", a gay, witty comedy will be first on the program. Here is Cornelia Otis Skinner about to open a new show on Broadway! As if her own nerves aren't enough to cope with, she also has the fluttering of her family and friends. They feel the strain so terribly that Cornelia is practically forgotten.

"Balcony Scene", a moving fantasy, takes its mood from thoughts and words at the funeral of a ne'er- do well. The spirit of the dead man is escorted to the balcony by his friend with the black book. When the people arrive for the funeral, their thoughts—brave, pathetic, petty, but honest—flow out. The spirit of the dead man flails back at the judgments he cannot reach. In a beautiful blend of pathos, philosophy, and ironic humor the play unfolds.

"Quiet Please," a folk comedy, takes place in the hills of Tennessee. Separated by a chalk-line down the middle of their cabin, Jeff and Judd, brothers, carry on a long feud of silence despite attempts to reconcile them. Their feud strikes a snag when they find themselves with an uninvited overnight guest on their hands. The situation becomes hilarious as the brothers attempt to maintain hospitality and personal hostilities.

Don't miss a full night of entertainment!

MACBETH — CHA CHA CHA

Like, this too tough tragedy swings in with Big Daddy Macbeth and Boppin' Banquo coming home from a way-out war. As they are swinging along, three of the Demon's Daughters tell Big Daddy that he's getting promoted to the "Cat of Cawdor". They also talk of him being "top dog" soon - - - hey!

When he gets to the King's Pad, he finds that the old Cat of Cawdor turned chicken and as of now he is the new boy. This gives Macbeth a bad case of the big head and he, with the help of Big Mamma Macbeth, cuts out ole King Duncan with his switchblade so he can be the "Biggest Daddy." After this, Macbeth mo nacherly flips and begins to rub out all his buddies. Like, this bugs him more and even Big Mamma begins to go psycho - - - hey! Then she makes a frantic scene in her peejays to the beat of "sleepwalk."

Then Big Daddy rocks with the Demon's Daughters in this crazy caucus about a moving forest - - - hey!

Like it really happens! Big Daddy gets wasted by this cat Macduff. (Big Daddy had previously rubbed out Duff's chick and biddie.) Then one of Dunkie's kids is made top dog and there are beer busts and Mac is hung in effigy and football games and parades and everything. I wonder what happened to the Demon's Daughters?

WHAT TO DO IF . . .

YOU GET CAUGHT SKIPPING SCHOOL:

1. Say you were ill and were on your way home but, forgot the way.
2. Run-n-n-n
3. Whistle and pretend you don't know someone is talking to you.
