He was apprehended and returned to jail July 4, and the new hearng was scheduled.

In a sanity hearing, the burden of proof rests on the accused. If Wilson is declared to be sane and to have been sane at the time of his alleged crimes, he will be tried for them in criminal court.

Attorney William E. Carroll of Jasper will present Wilson's case. O'Neal Bacon of Newton is District Attorney.

R. L. Martin Makes Statement

I wish to take this opportunity to express my appreciation for kindness shown me in my campaign for the offce of Justice of the Peace, Precinct 3. I think the people should know something about me: I was born 2 miles east of Pineland and lived there until seven years ago. I bought a place just outside the city limits of Pineland. My wife and I built us a home there and it has been a great pleasure living with her among our good neighbors. I stand for anything that is upbuilding to our town and community. If you see fit to elect me to this office I will attend to it to the best of my ability. My motto is fairness to all. I will appreciate your vote and influence.

Market News from Southern Pine

Since all of the Mid-Summer Furniture Markets have been held, there seems to be some increase in demand for furniture stock, and, while it is a little early yet to make any predictions, we feel we will have good business for the remainder of the year in our furniture dimension plant. We are operating on a normal basis at the present and do not anticipate any changes in the near future.

Temple Precision Wood Parts
C. H. Sanders

The sale of SPIB 77 lumber products continues active in no. 2 and no. 3 Common grades through the third week in July. Volume continues at a satisfactory rate.

The sale of SP Supreme Oak Flooring continues to be fairly active and we are instigating price increases whereever possible. The volume of sales is not as high as we would like for it to be but we are maintaining a sufficient volume to keep shipments at a fair level.

R. M. Burns
Asst. General Sales Manager

The market for our Temple Treat materals was more active during the week of July 13th than had been in the previous weeks. Prices have not improved, the competition from other treating plants is very keen. Orders continued to come in volume which is satisfactory.

The hardwood market continues firm, and orders are coming in daily in volume. It some times makes it difficult for the shipping department to get them all loaded out.

Ed Price
Asst. General Sales Manager

In spite of stiff competition, Temple Seats again this week sold slightly more seats than produced.

Don H. Burnley
Asst. General Sales Manager

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Coody, Leo and Sheila visited the Jack Coody family in Nederland last week. Cynthia Gail, returned home with them to spend two weeks.

Julian Smith Makes Statement To County Voters

To the People of Sabine County:

I would like to take this means of saying a few words in behalf of my candidacy for County Judge. I have made a house to house campaign as near as I possibly could. Some of you were away from home or busy, so in that case I failed to see you.

There is no need to make a lot of promises that would be impossble to keep. All I promise is to do the very best that I know how.

Since I have served as your County Treasurer, I have had close association with your Commissioner's Court. This association leads me to believe that I am justly qualified to serve you as your County Judge. As you know, your Commissioner's Court, with the help of your County Judge, is the financial backbone of the County.

It's hard for a man to be elected without the help of his friends and fellow citizens. If you should see fit to elect me, your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated.

Thank you,
Julian (Doc) Smith

M. A. Sloans Celebrate Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary July 4

In this day and age of hydrogen bombs and Sputniks a restless uncertainty hovers over the land. So many things that were once accepted as being the ultimate truth have been proven false and untrue. Speed is evident in everything done and haste seems to be the pass-word for our way of life. There are hasty decisions, hasty conclusions, hasty marriages and even hastier divorces. Nothing seems very certain and lasting, few things very steadfast and durable.

This atmosphere keeps one constantly on the alert, conscious of each and every new change, and perhaps subconsciously searching for something that does not change, something that is steadfast and durable. A marriage that has lasted fifty years is certainly an inspiration and a promise, and such an occasion occurred n Pineland July 4, when Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Sloan celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

It all started a long time ago, when the family of Mr. Sloan moved from Ashton, Arkansas, to Village Mills. Mr. Sloan was eight years old at that time, and here for the first time he met Alice Brown, the six-year-old daughter of a well known Village Mills family. The two families lived on the same block, the Sloans on one corner and the Browns on the other, and the two youngsters attended grammar school together.

Time flew by, and in 1902 Mr. Sloan left the Village Mills school to attend high school in Kountze. He attended school there for three years, in 1902, 1903, 1904. After graduation Mr. Sloan went to work as a sawyer for Lutcher Moore in Orange. He later worked for the Miller Vidor Lumber Company, and 1908 found him working in Milvid, Texas. Apparently he hadn't forgotten his young school mate, for he and Alice Brown were married at 8 p.m. in the old Redland Hotel in Kountze, county seat of Hardin County, July 4, 1908. She was 19 at the time and Mr. Sloan was 21.

During the years that followed the Sloans were blessed with five children, though only three of them are living, a daughter, Elma, and two sons, Frank and C. E.

The Sloans moved to Hemphill in 1924 and Mr. Sloan began working for Temple Lumber Company as head outside foreman. In 1937 the mill at Hemphill burned and Mr. Sloan was transferred to Pineland. Pineland has been their home ever since, and both Frank and C. E. are married and living in Pineland. The daughter married S. J. Price and is now living in San Antonio.

Mr. Sloan officially retired in 1952 and became partner with his son, C. E. in running a service station in Pineland In 1958 he retired fom this business also.

He has been kept on the payroll as advisor for Southern Pine Lumber Company, with which the old Temple Lumber Company merged in 1956. He is now the oldest foreman still working for the company and has been closely associated with the whole Temple family throughout the years. Mr. Sloan speaks warmly of the Temples, and gives them credit for his position at the company.

When asked about his wife and the past fifty years, Mr. Sloan's voice was warm with love and pride. He admitted that he wouldn't change one minute of his married life, and stated that his wife has been the big influence in his life.

"I might be an advisor for Southern Pine," he chuckled, "but you could say that Alice is my advisor. She's really been a wife to me.'

It certainly is heartwarming and inspiring to hear a couple speak of each other in such a way after the trials and troubles of 50 years. Certainly they deserve the congratulations of The Star, and the respect and well-wishes of their many friends.

Pineland salutes the Sloans and sincerely thank them for proving that there are a few things in our mad cap world that haven't changed.

RODEO CARAVAN FROM CENTER VISITS PINELAND

A caravan of boosters of the fifth annual Sheriff's Posse Rodeo of Center visited Pineland Friday morning of last week.

Spokesman for the caravan announced that the rodeo would be held nightly at 8 o'clock on July 17, 18, and 19.

To the people of Sabine County:

I wish to thank you for the gracious manner in which you have received me during my race for County Judge. I have visited as many of you in your homes as I possibly could. Some, of course, I have missed seeing because you were not at home. In all cases I have left my cards to show you that I had called.

All of you know that I have served you as County Judge in the past. You know whether you were satisfied with the manner in which I discharged the duties of the Judges office. If you were and are satisfied, then I earnestly solicit your support in the present campaign. If you do vote for me, I will do my very best to see that you never have cause to regret having done so.

Although it is not required that the County Judge be a licensed or practicing lawyer, the state constitution does provide that he "shall be well informed in the law of the state." I feel that my years of service as County Judge well qualifies me for the duties of the office and it is on this basis I solicit your support.

Please consider that when you elect a County Judge that you are not taking him on probation, You are not saying to him:

"You can try the job and if you can do it, we will let you keep it".

On the contrary, you are electing him for a four year term and if the manner in which he discharges his duties does not please you, there is nothing you can do about the matter. It is, therefore, in my opinion, your duty to give this matter your very serious consideration and when you have done so, then vote for what you consider to be the best interest of all the people.

Candidate of the people

EDWARD T. McFARLAND was born on a farm in East Texas. During his early years he was a sharecropper and a newspaper carrier boy. He has poured concrete and worked his way through college while helping to support his aged mother. He has learned the problems of East Texas by hard work and humble beginnings.

As a county judge EDWARD T. McFARLAND has dedicated his administration to the grassroots policy of serving the people and promiting their welfare. Unprotected by the vast distances between his office and the people, he has been fair and impartial in day-to-day problems of his friends and neighbors.

EDWARD T. McFARLAND stands for good highways and roads, a strong school system, economy in government, adequate care for the elderly and ill, more industry for East Texas to provide good jobs for its people, and honest dealings with the people.

STRUCTURAL SOUNDNESS means INVESTMENT SOUNDNESS

SMART MONEY BUYS STRONG LUMBER

The heart of a home is its structural framework. This vital "inner core" requires the driest, strongest lumber available for lasting value and endurance. It must support great stress and strain . . . and remain unshrinking, straight, and true for the life of the home.

YET LUMBER REPRESENTS ONLY ABOUT 10% OF THE COST OF THE AVERAGE HOME

That's why we say the soundest investment you can make is the use of Texas Grown, KILN DRIED, SPIB Grade-Marked Southern Yellow Pine lumber for the "heart of your home."

Letter to the Star

Dear Charlotte,

I want to commend you on the fine job of newsreporting that you have been doing and are doing. We appreciate the accuracy of your news and the clear, concise way in which you present it. Continue the good work.

Sybil Ingram, of Waskom, told me last week that she can "hardly wait to read the Pineland Star when it arrives each week, and that it it a much better paper than their local paper." Marcille Berryman (one of my sisters) told me that they appreciate the paper immensely. Many Pinelanders have said just such nice things to me also.

I have enjoyed reading the letters from local people, in regard to improving our town. I have been a Pinelander almost twenty-one years. May I present the one important thing that I think would make our town a better town? It is my desire to see all of the people of Pineland attend our local church services on Sunday. I believe that if our people would recognize and realize the fact that God is to be worshiped, that Sunday is not a "holiday", but a "Holy-Day", then we would have a better citizenship. If hearts are right with God, then hearts will normally and naturally be right with ones' neighbor. Churchgoing people are usually happier people. With exceptions to "all rules, I'm sure".) I don't have much patience with idle people who tell me they are "bored, dissatisfied, etc." I don't have much patience with people who are eternally "critical" of people who are trying to work and improve themselves spiritually, mentally, morally and physically.

There are at least seven or eight church buildings in the white sections of our town, and just out of town, on highway. Surely people could attend worship services each Sunday and hear one of these fine ministers deliver a message from Gods' word, and thereby receive inspiration to help sustain them in living better lives and being better citizens through the week. When this is true, then all of the needed material things would be much easier to acquire in improveing Pineland in a material sense. the most important is the individual. The "people" are Pineland, and even though nice clean buildings and lawns are important, it is our hearts that God sees. And, who is so important, or necessary, as is God?

Vivian Clark

Letter to the Star

"Pinelad on Parade" was such an enjoyable event to my daughter, Alma Belle, her husband, W. H. Cox and myself. We arrived about 9 a.m. and were immediately taken on the guided tour of the entire plant. Our old friend, Jake Shivers was chauffer and Ben Smith, Jr. a most interesting guide. Twenty years ago, 1938, we left Pineland, so after these years of absence every thing looks entirely different. The only familiar land marks are the hotel and the old saw mill. I enjoyed sitting on the hotel porch for a while. Meeting so many old friends and neighbors gathered from different cities and towns was wonderful. Wandering around peeping at everyone's name tag was such fun. So many of the teen agers of twenty years ago had different names, of course, so finally when I saw a face I thought I remembered, I just pointed to my tag and said, "do you know me?" Anyway, for the day, I was at least young at heart, even if the years have taken their toll. I had a good time! Pineland has many dear memories. All my children grew up there, went to school and four graduated there under those truly great school men, Mr. Hargis and Mrs. Burtis Morris.

Let me say again, the entire day was quite an enjoyable one.

BILL BLAKLEY

Texans like a public official who is independent in his thinking and doesn't have to account for his actions to anyone except the voters themselves.

William A. Blakley is such a man. Of his race for U. S. Senate, the Port Arthur News says:

"He entered this race by his own decision. He is beholden to nobody. He doesn't have to promise special interest groups anything and he wants to represent all of Texas, not any political splinter or fragment or faction above the rest . . ."

A vote for Bill Blakley on July 26 is a vote for returning to Washington a man who will truly represent Texas.

BILL BLAKLEY for U.S. SENATE
(Pol. Adv. Paid for by Jim Blunde...

WHO IS SMEARED?

In desperation some of my opponents, realizing that a smear was the only way they could keep me from winning this race, have tried to smear me with the charge that I was connected with the Veterans' Land Scandal, knowing full well all the time that such was not the fact.

Reproduced below is a letter from Hon. Les Proctor, District Attorney of Travis County, Texas, with reference to any alleged complicity of Frank Carpenter, candidate for the office of State Senator, in this scandal. The letter speaks for itself:

Mr. B. L. Cornwell, Editor
The Oil City Visitor
Sour Lake, Texas
Dear Mr. Cornwell:

I am in receipt of your letter of June 30th with respect to any purported involvement of Mr. Frank Carpenter, of Sour Lake, with the irregularities that developed in the Veterans Land Purchase Program. I am in a position to form a definite opinion on a number of matters in connection therewith, as this office has thoroughly investigated phases of this situation and has handled the prosecution of a number of cases that arose from complicity in fradulent transactions with the State of Texas thereunder.

Frank Carpenter did not sell any land or any interest in land to the State of Texas, or to any veteran, under the Veterans Land Purchase Program, or any other program. Further, Mr. Carpenter did not have any connection with any sale of land to the State of Texas or any veteran under such program. He did own, at one time, an interest in a tract of land that he disposed of, and subsequently that tract of land was involved in a block sale to veterans under this program, but we have found no basis for any claim that he had any part in the sale to the State of Texas or to any veteran purchasing a part of the tract. In my opinion, and in the opinion of every agency that has investigated the transaction for me, Frank Carpenter exercised no bad faith or impropriety in his purchase and sale of this property and none such has ever been attributed to him by any such investigators.

Mr. Carpenter has been called as a witness for the State of Texas in the trial of two persons indicted for their part in the irregular transactions, and any charge or rumor that would tend to put an unfavorable aspect on his ownership and sale of this properly does not have any basis in fact.

In the interest of fair play, in which I have a considerable belief, I have no objection to the use of this letter in any manner you may desire in order that the public may be informed as to the facts if any question as to this matter arises.

Very truly yours,
(s) Les Proctor
District Attorney
Travis County Courthouse Annex
Austin, Texas

All is fair in love, war and politics and anyone running for public office runs the risk of whispering campaigns and smear attempts. Knowing my opponents, I was expecting just what some of them have done and I want to brand them for just what they are. Do you want to send someone to Austin to represent you in the Senate who would stoop to these tactics? They are only too willing to try to crawl through the slime and scum of deceit and slander, over the bodies of tried and true public servants, crucified on a cross of false accusation, in order to gain a position of trust, honor and service in Austin.

Annual Pilgrimage to McMahan's Chapel Will Be Held Thursday

The annual historical pilgrimage to McMahan's Methodist Chapel, the first Protestant Church founded in Texas, is being planned for Thursday, July 24, according to an announcement made by Rev. C. A. West, pastor of First Methodist Church of Crockett and president of the Texas Methodist Historical Society.

A service of worship will begin at 11:00 a. m. with the sermon being delivered by the Rev. Jester White, pastor of the First Methodist church of Huntsville and a noted church historian and evangelistic preacher. A message of Welcome will be given by Dr. E. O. Dubberly, Nacogdoches District Superintendent. Mrs. R. S. Noble, oldest living member of McMahan's Chapel, will tell of the highlights of the Chapel's history and the Rev. John Thomas Adkinson, Jr., pastor of the church, will be in charge of music and local plans for the observance. Mr. Bryan J. Butts of San Augustine, president of the Texas Conference Town and Country Church Commisson and treasurer of McMahan's Chapel special fund, will appear on the program of the day.

The annual gathering has been sponsored by the Methodist Historical Society for many years.

McMahan's Chapel is located in the scenic piney woods section of Texas, north of Geneva, and was designated by the Texas Centennial Commission as the site of the first formal organizaton of the Methodist Church and of Protestantism in the State of Texas. The Church had its beginning in 1833. The graves of a number of Texas earliest pioneers are in the historic church yard adjacent to the Chapel. On the Chapel's guest book may be seen the names of many of the nations leading citizens who have visited the historic shrine.

Lunch will be served on the grounds by those attending.
